Ridgway Issues New Regulations Banning References to Size and Location of Chinese, Red Korean Forces

Tokyo, April 17 (AP)—Allied troops ripped into Communist forces on Korea's east central front today in the swelling battle for the huge Hwachon dam.

The Reds' man-made smoke screen began to lift late Tuesday afternoon. United Nations warplanes roared into action with jellied gasoline bombs, rockets and machineguns.

On the ground allied infantrymen battered the Reds with artillery and rifle fire.

Thousands of combat-ready Communist soldiers were massed in the hills north of the dam. The allied attack was aimed to keep them off-balance and block their long-expected spring offensive.

Rigid new censorship regulations issued by Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new allied supreme commander, banned all references to the exact size and location of Chinese and Red Korean forces.

Pressure Maintained

On the western front United Nations troops maintained their pressure south of Chorwon. The town, 17 miles north of the border, was destroyed by artillery and air attacks earlier this month. It is still an important Chinese base and road junction.

Yonchon, on the road leading northwest to Chorwon, was abandoned by the Reds. The allies hold high ground on all sides of Yonchon, but had not entered the town itself.

An allied tank-infantry force smashed into a Red pocket of resistance on the main road to Kumhwa, a Chinese bastion on the central front. Fifty of the 250 Reds were killed by tank and rifle fire.

Kumhwa is east northeast of Chorwon and northwest of Hwachon. It is a key point in the Red buildup area.

Exact Location Not Given

The exact location of the fight was not reported.

Activity on the east and west coasts was limited to patrol actions.

Dive-bombing U. S. F-80 Shooting Star jets struck Communist rail facilities Tuesday for the third straight day Pilots reported five locomotives and 37 rail cars destroyed.

The Reds lighted forest fires and smudge pots in an effort to hide their ground movements from the prying eyes of allied pilots. They used the same trick last November, just before they opened their drive down the heart of the peninsula.

The new field commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, visited his troops Tuesday on the western front.

Ready and Able

He told AP Correspondent Jim Becker earlier that his United Nations forces were ready and able to contain any Communist thrust.

Spring was breaking fast in Red Korea as Van Fleet made his first frontline tour. Roads again were dry and dusty.

In the ground fighting east of the Hwachon Reservoir, allied forces held fast to Yanggu and Yachon, towns they seized from the Reds two days ago.

The capture of Yanggu Sunday eliminated a Red buildup that had been in progress. One big supply dump fell to U.N. forces.

In the mountains west of Inje, 11 miles southeast of the dam, allied forces found lessening Red resistance.

Red Korean forces on the east central front were described by one American general as "very much inferior" to the Red forces that battled the allies in the early stages of the war.

Inadequate Training

Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the U. S. 10th Corps, said the Korean Reds showed inadequate training. He said lower grade officers and noncoms were definitely inferior.

Almond credited allied artillery attacks with keeping the enemy off balance.

B-29 Superforts plastered the Pyongyang Airfield Tuesday with 90 tons of high explosives. They met light flak but no enemy fighters. Pyongyang is the Red Korean capital.

Allied carrier-based planes bombed and strafed Red troops and supply centers Monday in northeast Korea.

Surface warships attacked Communist transport routes in the Wonsan-Songjin area.

British Submarine Vanishes After Dive on Maneuvers

Affray Is Sought in Sea Off England; 75 Men and Officers Aboard

Portsmouth, England, April 17 (AP) — The British submarine Affray with 75 men and officers aboard vanished today after a a dive on maneuvers in the English channel.

The admiralty quickly accepted a U. S. Navy offer of help and two American destroyers, the Ellison and the Perry, joined in an air-sea hunt by British ships, planes and helicopters.

The Affray, one of 16 submarines of the 281-foot "A" class, was assigned to a "practice war patrol" between here and Falmouth. This meant she would have been traveling submerged at all times except when making a radio report between 8 and 9 a. m. daily.

An admiralty spokesman said there was some hope that the submarine commander, war hero Lt. John Blackburn, might have misread the order on making the daily morning reports, in which case the Affray might still be proceeding submerged.

"If in so doing she is now carrying out a deep diving patrol she would be unable to receive the radio messages which are now being sent to her each 15 minutes," the spokesman said. He added, however, that the navy did not pin much hope on this theory.

The admiralty announced that next of kin of all aboard were being informed that the Affray was overdue.

Bomber Leads Search

A big four-engined RAF Lancaster bomber led the search along a stretch of sea 75 miles long and 25 miles wide off the south channel coast for the 1,600-ton craft, which is equipped with a schnorkel breathing apparatus and escape devices.

Zig-zagging along the Affray's assigned course, airmen watched for oil slick, debris or emergency marker buoys around the point where the submarine went into her dive at 8 p. m. (3:15 p. m. EST) Monday, about 25 miles south of the Isle of Wight. She was to end the assignment at this base Thursday afternoon. After her dive the Affray was due to reappear 20 miles southeast of her starting point, at a point about 100 miles west of Portsmouth.

Pilgrim Manager Signs Contract for Schilling Plant

A reliable source today said that Barney King, manager of the Pilgrim Furniture Company, had contracted to purchase the plant of Schilling Furniture Company, 107 Greenkill avenue.

The Pilgrim Company's factory on the same street, in the neighborhood of Schilling's, was recently purchased by the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

At the time the insurance company closed its deal through the South Prospect Realty Company, there was great concern about Kingston losing the Pilgrim company, which employs approximately 200 men.

However, today's realty transaction practically assures that there will be no removal of the Pilgrim furniture plant from the city.

Executives of the Schilling company, which manufactures beds for dealers throughout the nation, were incommunicado today when a reporter phoned to query on the future of that industry.

The Metropolitan Insurance Company purchased the building of the Pilgrim concern, it was said, to use as an office, or hall of records, and a reliable informant said that approximately 300 would be employed.

Soviets Give 5-Year Plan Statement

Union Reports Output Industrially Is 73 Per Cent Over That of 1940

Check Is Difficult

Comparisons Are Based on 1926-27 Ruble; Open to Exaggeration

(By The Associated Press)

The Soviet Union announced today its first postwar five-year plan has ended with industrial production topping that of 1940 by 73 per cent. Moscow dispatches said the announcement cleared the way for presentation of a new five-year plan, the fourth.

The state planning committee and statistical administration said 1950 industrial production topped 239,550,000,000 rubles, adding that production goals were fulfilled in almost all lines.

These Soviet comparisons in terms of rubles are believed to be based upon 1926-1927 prices, and thus difficult to check and open to broad exaggeration. The ruble has been revalued a number of times. At present the Soviet government values it at 25 U. S. cents, but that figure is unreal in terms of buying power.

U. S. Index 72 Per Cent Ahead

The U. S. Federal Reserve industrial production index as of December, 1950, was 72 per cent ahead of 1940. At first glance this would indicate the rises in industrial production in the U. S. and Russia were almost exactly the same, but once again the two figures cannot be compared because of different bases of computation. The indications are U. S. production rise has been far greater.

Rolled Steel Lags

Rolled steel was up 59 per cent over 1940, but was lagging behind Soviet needs, the Moscow report said. The non-ferrous metallurgy industry also was reported lagging.

The Soviet Ministry of Metallurgical Industry was shaken up

Furnace Blast Damages Store

Offices and stores in the Opera House building, Fair and John streets, were jarred about 9:30 a. m. today by an explosion in the oil burning furnace in the basement.

In the O'Reilly Stationery Company store at 38 John street, directly above the furnace, several sections of ceiling in the office fell to the floor. Metal strips separated from the plate glass show windows and one of the windows cracked slightly at the Colonial Sweet Shop, 275 Fair street.

The furnace itself was considerably damaged, its doors and connecting pipes being blown off. Fire remaining in the furnace was extinguished by firemen from the Wiltwyck station. Engine 1 of Central Fire Station and Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy responded to the alarm with the two pieces of apparatus from the Wiltwyck station. No personal injuries were reported at the time of the blast.

MacArthur Is Due in San Francisco Tonight; Democrats Are Agreed Upon Republican Demand for Investigation

Disagreement Is Voiced Over Timing, Goals of Foreign, Military Policies

'Facts' Are Key

McFarland Not Fussy How Probe Is Made; Truth Is Object

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Democrats agreed today to demands from Republicans for a full scale investigation by Congress into foreign and military policies.

But with the parties accusing each other of playing politics in the controversy over President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, there was sharp disagreement over the objectives and timing of such an inquiry.

Chairman Taft of Ohio called the Senate Republican Policy Committee together to whip an investigation resolution into shape. It had the advance support of 33 GOP senators.

Taft said it ought to be pointed at a full airing of the Truman administration's world policies, and not be just a limited inquiry into the reasons for MacArthur's discharge as Pacific commander.

Wants Facts for People

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, said he doesn't care how the investigation is made "just so the people get the facts."

But Senators McMillen (D-Conn), Kerr (D-Okla) and Gillette (D-Iowa) took another track. They made it clear Democratic defense of the President's policies is likely to take the form of an attack on the Republican advocacy of MacArthur's theory that the vital fight against communism is in Asia, rather than Europe.

MacArthur, due in San Francisco today, plans to fly here tomorrow to address a joint meeting of Congress on Thursday. The House already has extended an official invitation for this speech, which will be carried by radio and television networks. The Senate seemed certain to follow suit later today, after some debate.

Big Welcome Prepared

A big welcoming celebration was being planned for the general. Mr. Truman ordered release from work of all federal employes who can be spared. He designated his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, to represent him in greeting MacArthur at the airport.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas said MacArthur will receive "every courtesy" in his appearance before Congress, but Rep. Shafer (R.-Mich.) predicted the five-star general will become a target for "a barrage of propaganda, inneundo, smear and denunciation."

Shafer told the House that some administration leaders he didn't name are likely to join in the attack.

MacArthur Reaches Hawaii

Degree Is Granted

Honorary Tribute Paid by University in View of 5,000 Persons

Honolulu, April 17, (AP)—General MacArthur leaves the flower-scented hospitality of Hawaii today on his stern mission to challenge in Congress the views of the president who fired him over war policy.

His sleek, shiny plane, the Bataan, was scheduled to take off from Honolulu International Airport at 9:30 a. m. (2:30 p. m., EST) en route to San Francisco and Washington.

The Bataan should arrive at San Francisco International Airport about 8 p. m. (11 p. m., EST). After an overnight rest in San Francisco and brief ceremonies there Wednesday morning, MacArthur will depart for Washington and his appearance Thursday before a joint session of Congress.

The five-star general and hero of three wars got a foretaste here yesterday of the applause but none of the acrimony that awaits him in Washington.

Family is Cheered

For two hours Hawaii's Polyglot population lining a 25-mile route cheered MacArthur, his wife, Jean, and their son, Arthur, 13.

The spontaneous outburst of acclaim—at this starting point of the Pacific war which MacArthur fought from beginning to end—presaged pageantry and public demonstrations planned for him in San Francisco, Washington and New York.

But there was no note of the antagonism that has split America and the non-communist world over his views. He urged that the allies should bomb Chinese Communist bases in Manchuria and use Chinese Nationalist troops against the Reds to end the Korean war.

MacArthur's Hawaiian welcome, gushing with a full measure of the traditional island friendship, was shorn of partisanship; it was the acclaim given a conquering hero.

Waves in Response

MacArthur smiled and waved in response to the shouts of the crowds. He shook a child's hand. He chatted with an ex-soldier who had fought with him on Bataan.

He chuckled as a fat, barefooted woman danced a hula when his green sedan rolled by.

He received an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Hawaii in an ampitheatre jammed with 5,000 people. He heard the university president acclaim him "one of the greatest Americans of all times."

He stopped at Punchbowl, a national cemetery in the extinct crater of a volcano overlooking Honolulu and Pearl Harbor. He placed a wreath of orchids at the base of a flagpole in honor of 13,000 World War 2 dead buried there.

Some of the neat white rows of crosses marked the last resting place of men who perished in the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Knows Glory of Deaths

After standing rigidly at salute for a minute, MacArthur turned to correspondents, pointed at row on row of crosses and said "I know the glory of their death."

It was the simple praise of a

Becomes First General of Equal Rank to Speak Out on Theory

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, five-star peer of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, today declared Asia military policies advocated by the deposed commander would "jeopardize world peace."

Bradley was the first of the homecoming general's five-star brothers in rank to speak out publicly against the theory of carrying the war to China since President Truman dismissed MacArthur last week. Bradley did not mention MacArthur's name.

Last year's quick United Nations action in Korea, Bradley declared, may have stayed the Kremlin's hand as it was about to precipitate World War Three.

Bradley roundly backed the President's stand against MacArthur's ideas and defended the administration's policy of limiting the war in Korea. As chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Bradley has a large part in policy making.

Other Declarations

In a speech prepared for delivery to the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, Bradley also declared:

1. The Korean war, under present conditions, may be headed toward a stalemate, but it can be brought to an honorable conclusion.

2. The United States will not wage a preventive war.

3. The one price the U. S. will not pay for peace is appeasement.

4. The use the Reds have made of air bases in Manchuria to date has not warranted U.N. bombing of them.

5. Action against aggression in Korea upset Communist plans in Asia, at least temporarily preventing Red moves in Indo China and perhaps saving Thailand and Formosa.

6. Any attempt to settle the world crisis by an ultimatum—perhaps accompanied by a threat to bomb Russia—is militarily impracticable and might backlash.

In Washington, the Defense Department said Bradley's speech was cleared by the State Department in line with a White House edict last December requiring clearance of policy statements by

Fifth Person Held In Bookie Raid

Plymouth Avenue Man Is Arrested; Case Is Adjourned

Execution of a warrant yesterday resulted in the fifth arrest on charges relating to book making and policy following the police raid Saturday at 48 Chambers street.

Arthur Elting, 36, of 76 Plymouth avenue, was arrested at police headquarters at 5:15 p. m., Monday by Lt. James P. Martin for alleged violations of Sections 986 and 974 of the Penal Law.

The first section pertains to the recording and registering of bets and wagers on the results of horse races and the second deals with what is "commonly known as lottery policy."

Case Is Adjourned

The case was adjourned until next Monday when Elting appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today. The others are scheduled to appear on the same date. Bail was the same as that for the others, $500.

Detective Clarence Brophy, Sgt. Lemuel Howard, and Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Ernest Bartroff conducted the raid at the direction of Police Chief Raymond Van Buren. Three telephones, three adding machines and miscellaneous papers were confiscated, police said.

The others arrested were Otto Solomon, 42, of 24 Ann street; Peter Caprotti, 31, of 116 Roosevelt avenue; Raymond W. Ross, 41, of 672 Broadway, and Daniel Pope, 51, of 7 Canal street. The latter, police said, allegedly hold the job as janitor at the place and was booked only on a charge of violation of Section 974 which deals with "lottery policy."

Attorney Elmore Nathan who appeared for the others in court yesterday, represented Elting today. Attorney John Larkin appeared for the district attorney's office.

Won't Take Sides

Columbus, Tex., April 17 (AP)—A Columbus grade school teacher told her students yesterday she wasn't taking sides in the MacArthur-Truman controversy. Her name: Truman MacArthur.

Wicks Appoints Group of 15 to Represent Senate

Senator Is Not Expected to Attend, Since He Is Resting in Florida

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Republican Leader Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston today appointed a delegation of 15 to represent the state Senate at the reception for Gen. Douglas MacArthur in New York city Friday.

The delegation includes the following senators:

Elmer F. Quinn, Democratic minority leader; William F. Condon, Thomas C. Desmond, Seymour Halpern, Chauncey B. Hammond, Walter J. Mahoney, Frank S. McCullough, MacNeil Mitchell, Pliny W. Williamson, John M. Braisted, Jr., James J. Crawford, Peter J. Dalessandro and Samuel L. Greenberg.

Wicks and the Senate secretary, William S. King, also were listed with the delegation. Wicks, vacationing at Miami, is not expected to attend the MacArthur ceremonies in New York.

Bruhn Is Named Aide to Court

Grand Jury Stenographer Chosen Provisionally by 8 Justices

Fred W. Bruhn of 35 Jefferson avenue, who has served as grand jury stenographer since 1942, has been given a provisional appointment as Supreme Court stenographer effective April 11. The appointment is made by the eight Supreme Court justices of the Third Judicial District of which Ulster county is a part. The appointment is for a period of six months but may be extended for an additional three months pending a Civil Service examination from which an eligibility list will be made up.

The appointment of Bruhn as Supreme Court stenographer came as a result of the increasing of the number of justices in this district from seven to eight and the increase in the number of stenographers from seven to eight under an act of the last legislature.

Under the new law the number of Supreme Court justices is increased to eight. Justice Herbert D. Hamm is the eighth justice named by appointment. Two of the justices of the district are serving on the Appellate Division, they being Justices Foster and Bergan.

Will Take Special Term

Bruhn will take the regular special term here in May and has been assigned to take the trial term on May 7 in Troy and the Schoharie term in June. At both of these terms Justice Harry E. Schirick, the dean of the trial justices of the district, will preside.

In addition to serving as grand jury stenographer Mr. Bruhn has been clerk of the Ulster County Pistol Permit Bureau. He has resigned that position and Abram F. Molyneaux, Jr., has been appointed clerk of the Pistol Permit

Housing Authority To Advertise for Bids, Davis Says

Local housing plans are currently moving toward the advertising for bids early in June, Arthur A. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Commission said today.

Bids were opened for test borings in Davis' office at 4 p. m. yesterday and Warren George, 136 Liberty street, New York, was low bidder at $2.85 per linear foot per dry samples and $3 per linear foot for rock.

The highest of several bids submited was $15.50 per linear foot for dry samples and rock.

Architect Harry Halverson will be able to complete preliminary plans after test borings are finished, and the commission is hopeful of having the plans done by about June 1 so that it may advertise for bids "immediately thereafter," Davis said.

The low-rental, state-sponsored housing development is to be built on a site in the Flatbush avenue area.

Advisory Board Makes Another Try at Agency

Washington, April 17 (AP)—President Truman's Mobilization Advisory Board makes one more try today to set up an acceptable new wage controls agency which would handle, along with other duties, at least some labor disputes arising in the defense program.

Organized labor and management have failed to agree, throughout a long series of past efforts by the board and others, on what type of board they would support.

If they do not get together shortly, Mr. Truman is believed ready to name a panel of only public members—leaving off labor and industry representation.

How soon the President would have to act is a problem. Economic Stablizer Eric Johnston is reported to have a panel of names ready pending a decision on what kind of a board is needed. A public board presumably would be more or less temporary, serving probably until July 1. That is when the Defense Production Act authorizing the present wage and price controls expires.

There seemed little likelihood of agreement between union leaders and management representatives at an early huddle today (9 a. m.). The full 17-member advisory group, headed by Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson and also including agriculture and public members, was to meet an hour later at the White House.

The management representatives—speaking for the National Association of Manufacturers, U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Business Advisory Council, and Committee for Economic Development—held a series of closed caucuses yesterday. Reports which dribbled out were that there could be no agreement on a disputes board unless labor yielded.

The management group wants to limit disputes to be cleared through a wage stabilization board to those involving wage issues or interpretation of board orders. Labor unions want to channel virtually all mobilization disputes to such a board. The deadlock on that difference of opinion has existed for weeks.

The labor unions, just as firmly planted on their position as was the management group, two months ago withdrew their members from all defese agencies, including the first wage stablization board. That board, though technically still in existence, has been impotent ever since.

The three labor members walked out Feb. 16 protesting the 10 per cent ceiling above Jan. 15, 1950 levels on wage increases. It was voted by the six public and industry representatives.

Weeks of conferences have failed to crack the deadlock. In the meantime big and little crises over wages are developing in the absence of such a board.

Shad Run Reported

The first substantial run of shad was reported yesterday off Kingston Point in the Hudson river. Luck varied with the fishermen. Some caught only five or six in drifts yesterday and last night, but one report indicated a catch of more than 100 in two drifts. The nets were out again today when the fishing was expected to be better net by net.

New York Works on Details Of Greeting for MacArthur

Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has set aside Friday as "MacArthur Day."

At a news conference yesterday, Grover A. Whalen, chairman of the reception committee, said the general would be greeted officially but quietly when he lands at Idlewild Airport at 5:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday.

To ensure a semi-private arrival for the general, Whalen said, the exact part of the field at which the plane will land will not be made public. Nor will the plane's assigned hangar be announced.

Mayor Impellitteri will be at the field. No program has been planned for Thursday night, at MacArthur's request, Whalen added.

The general's auto route into Manhattan from the airport will follow Van Wyck Boulevard to Queens Boulevard, then to the Queensborough Bridge and into Manhattan, along Second avenue to 57th street, west to Park avenue, and south to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at 50th street.

For the big Friday parade—expected to be witnessed by 4,000,000 persons, including many out-of-town visitors—MacArthur will

Furnace Blast Damages Store

Offices and stores in the Opera House building, Fair and John streets, were jarred about 9:30 a. m. today by an explosion in the oil burning furnace in the basement.

In the O'Reilly Stationery Company store at 38 John street, directly above the furnace, several sections of ceiling in the office fell to the floor. Metal strips separated from the plate glass show windows and one of the windows cracked slightly at the Colonial Sweet Shop, 275 Fair street.

The furnace itself was considerably damaged, its doors and connecting pipes being blown off. Fire remaining in the furnace was extinguished by firemen from the Wiltwyck station. Engine 1 of Central Fire Station and Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy responded to the alarm with the two pieces of apparatus from the Wiltwyck station. No personal injuries were reported at the time of the blast.

MacArthur Is Due in San Francisco Tonight; Democrats Are Agreed Upon Republican Demand for Investigation

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Democrats agreed today to demands from Republicans for a full scale investigation by Congress into foreign and military policies.

But with the parties accusing each other of playing politics in the controversy over President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, there was sharp disagreement over the objectives and timing of such an inquiry.

Chairman Taft of Ohio called the Senate Republican Policy Committee together to whip an investigation resolution into shape. It had the advance support of 33 GOP senators.

Taft said it ought to be pointed at a full airing of the Truman administration's world policies, and not be just a limited inquiry into the reasons for MacArthur's discharge as Pacific commander.

Wants Facts for People

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, said he doesn't care how the investigation is made "just so the people get the facts."

But Senators McMillen (D-Conn), Kerr (D-Okla) and Gillette (D-Iowa) took another track. They made it clear Democratic defense of the President's policies is likely to take the form of an attack on the Republican advocacy of MacArthur's theory that the vital fight against communism is in Asia, rather than Europe.

MacArthur, due in San Francisco today, plans to fly here tomorrow to address a joint meeting of Congress on Thursday. The House already has extended an official invitation for this speech, which will be carried by radio and television networks. The Senate seemed certain to follow suit later today, after some debate.

Big Welcome Prepared

A big welcoming celebration was being planned for the general. Mr. Truman ordered release from work of all federal employes who can be spared. He designated his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, to represent him in greeting MacArthur at the airport.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas said MacArthur will receive "every courtesy" in his appearance before Congress, but Rep. Shafer (R.-Mich.) predicted the five-star general will become a target for "a barrage of propaganda, inneundo, smear and denunciation."

Shafer told the House that some administration leaders he didn't name are likely to join in the attack.

Degree Is Granted

Honorary Tribute Paid by University in View of 5,000 Persons

Honolulu, April 17, (AP)—General MacArthur leaves the flower-scented hospitality of Hawaii today on his stern mission to challenge in Congress the views of the president who fired him over war policy.

His sleek, shiny plane, the Bataan, was scheduled to take off from Honolulu International Airport at 9:30 a. m. (2:30 p. m., EST) en route to San Francisco and Washington.

The Bataan should arrive at San Francisco International Airport about 8 p. m. (11 p. m., EST). After an overnight rest in San Francisco and brief ceremonies there Wednesday morning, MacArthur will depart for Washington and his appearance Thursday before a joint session of Congress.

The five-star general and hero of three wars got a foretaste here yesterday of the applause but none of the acrimony that awaits him in Washington.

Family is Cheered

For two hours Hawaii's Polyglot population lining a 25-mile route cheered MacArthur, his wife, Jean, and their son, Arthur, 13.

The spontaneous outburst of acclaim—at this starting point of the Pacific war which MacArthur fought from beginning to end—presaged pageantry and public demonstrations planned for him in San Francisco, Washington and New York.

But there was no note of the antagonism that has split America and the non-communist world over his views. He urged that the allies should bomb Chinese Communist bases in Manchuria and use Chinese Nationalist troops against the Reds to end the Korean war.

MacArthur's Hawaiian welcome, gushing with a full measure of the traditional island friendship, was shorn of partisanship; it was the acclaim given a conquering hero.

Waves in Response

MacArthur smiled and waved in response to the shouts of the crowds. He shook a child's hand. He chatted with an ex-soldier who had fought with him on Bataan.

He chuckled as a fat, barefooted woman danced a hula when his green sedan rolled by.

He received an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Hawaii in an ampitheatre jammed with 5,000 people. He heard the university president acclaim him "one of the greatest Americans of all times."

He stopped at Punchbowl, a national cemetery in the extinct crater of a volcano overlooking Honolulu and Pearl Harbor. He placed a wreath of orchids at the base of a flagpole in honor of 13,000 World War 2 dead buried there.

Some of the neat white rows of crosses marked the last resting place of men who perished in the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Knows Glory of Deaths

After standing rigidly at salute for a minute, MacArthur turned to correspondents, pointed at row on row of crosses and said "I know the glory of their death."

It was the simple praise of a

Fifth Person Held In Bookie Raid

Plymouth Avenue Man Is Arrested; Case Is Adjourned

Execution of a warrant yesterday resulted in the fifth arrest on charges relating to book making and policy following the police raid Saturday at 48 Chambers street.

Arthur Elting, 36, of 76 Plymouth avenue, was arrested at police headquarters at 5:15 p. m., Monday by Lt. James P. Martin for alleged violations of Sections 986 and 974 of the Penal Law.

The first section pertains to the recording and registering of bets and wagers on the results of horse races and the second deals with what is "commonly known as lottery policy."

Case Is Adjourned

The case was adjourned until next Monday when Elting appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today. The others are scheduled to appear on the same date. Bail was the same as that for the others, $500.

Detective Clarence Brophy, Sgt. Lemuel Howard, and Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Ernest Bartroff conducted the raid at the direction of Police Chief Raymond Van Buren. Three telephones, three adding machines and miscellaneous papers were confiscated, police said.

The others arrested were Otto Solomon, 42, of 24 Ann street; Peter Caprotti, 31, of 116 Roosevelt avenue; Raymond W. Ross, 41, of 672 Broadway, and Daniel Pope, 51, of 7 Canal street. The latter, police said, allegedly hold the job as janitor at the place and was booked only on a charge of violation of Section 974 which deals with "lottery policy."

Attorney Elmore Nathan who appeared for the others in court yesterday, represented Elting today. Attorney John Larkin appeared for the district attorney's office.

Won't Take Sides

Columbus, Tex., April 17 (AP)—A Columbus grade school teacher told her students yesterday she wasn't taking sides in the MacArthur-Truman controversy. Her name: Truman MacArthur.

Becomes First General of Equal Rank to Speak Out on Theory

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, five-star peer of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, today declared Asia military policies advocated by the deposed commander would "jeopardize world peace."

Bradley was the first of the homecoming general's five-star brothers in rank to speak out publicly against the theory of carrying the war to China since President Truman dismissed MacArthur last week. Bradley did not mention MacArthur's name.

Last year's quick United Nations action in Korea, Bradley declared, may have stayed the Kremlin's hand as it was about to precipitate World War Three.

Bradley roundly backed the President's stand against MacArthur's ideas and defended the administration's policy of limiting the war in Korea. As chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Bradley has a large part in policy making.

Other Declarations

In a speech prepared for delivery to the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, Bradley also declared:

1. The Korean war, under present conditions, may be headed toward a stalemate, but it can be brought to an honorable conclusion.

2. The United States will not wage a preventive war.

3. The one price the U. S. will not pay for peace is appeasement.

4. The use the Reds have made of air bases in Manchuria to date has not warranted U.N. bombing of them.

5. Action against aggression in Korea upset Communist plans in Asia, at least temporarily preventing Red moves in Indo China and perhaps saving Thailand and Formosa.

6. Any attempt to settle the world crisis by an ultimatum—perhaps accompanied by a threat to bomb Russia—is militarily impracticable and might backlash.

In Washington, the Defense Department said Bradley's speech was cleared by the State Department in line with a White House edict last December requiring clearance of policy statements by

Wicks Appoints Group of 15 to Represent Senate

Senator Is Not Expected to Attend, Since He Is Resting in Florida

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Republican Leader Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston today appointed a delegation of 15 to represent the state Senate at the reception for Gen. Douglas MacArthur in New York city Friday.

The delegation includes the following senators:

Elmer F. Quinn, Democratic minority leader; William F. Condon, Thomas C. Desmond, Seymour Halpern, Chauncey B. Hammond, Walter J. Mahoney, Frank S. McCullough, MacNeil Mitchell, Pliny W. Williamson, John M. Braisted, Jr., James J. Crawford, Peter J. Dalessandro and Samuel L. Greenberg.

Wicks and the Senate secretary, William S. King, also were listed with the delegation. Wicks, vacationing at Miami, is not expected to attend the MacArthur ceremonies in New York.

Bruhn Is Named Aide to Court

Grand Jury Stenographer Chosen Provisionally by 8 Justices

Fred W. Bruhn of 35 Jefferson avenue, who has served as grand jury stenographer since 1942, has been given a provisional appointment as Supreme Court stenographer effective April 11. The appointment is made by the eight Supreme Court justices of the Third Judicial District of which Ulster county is a part. The appointment is for a period of six months but may be extended for an additional three months pending a Civil Service examination from which an eligibility list will be made up.

The appointment of Bruhn as Supreme Court stenographer came as a result of the increasing of the number of justices in this district from seven to eight and the increase in the number of stenographers from seven to eight under an act of the last legislature.

Under the new law the number of Supreme Court justices is increased to eight. Justice Herbert D. Hamm is the eighth justice named by appointment. Two of the justices of the district are serving on the Appellate Division, they being Justices Foster and Bergan.

Will Take Special Term

Bruhn will take the regular special term here in May and has been assigned to take the trial term on May 7 in Troy and the Schoharie term in June. At both of these terms Justice Harry E. Schirick, the dean of the trial justices of the district, will preside.

In addition to serving as grand jury stenographer Mr. Bruhn has been clerk of the Ulster County Pistol Permit Bureau. He has resigned that position and Abram F. Molyneaux, Jr., has been appointed clerk of the Pistol Permit

Local housing plans are currently moving toward the advertising for bids early in June, Arthur A. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Commission said today.

Bids were opened for test borings in Davis' office at 4 p. m. yesterday and Warren George, 136 Liberty street, New York, was low bidder at $2.85 per linear foot per dry samples and $3 per linear foot for rock.

The highest of several bids submited was $15.50 per linear foot for dry samples and rock.

Architect Harry Halverson will be able to complete preliminary plans after test borings are finished, and the commission is hopeful of having the plans done by about June 1 so that it may advertise for bids "immediately thereafter," Davis said.

The low-rental, state-sponsored housing development is to be built on a site in the Flatbush avenue area.

Advisory Board Makes Another Try at Agency

Washington, April 17 (AP)—President Truman's Mobilization Advisory Board makes one more try today to set up an acceptable new wage controls agency which would handle, along with other duties, at least some labor disputes arising in the defense program.

Organized labor and management have failed to agree, throughout a long series of past efforts by the board and others, on what type of board they would support.

If they do not get together shortly, Mr. Truman is believed ready to name a panel of only public members—leaving off labor and industry representation.

How soon the President would have to act is a problem. Economic Stablizer Eric Johnston is reported to have a panel of names ready pending a decision on what kind of a board is needed. A public board presumably would be more or less temporary, serving probably until July 1. That is when the Defense Production Act authorizing the present wage and price controls expires.

There seemed little likelihood of agreement between union leaders and management representatives at an early huddle today (9 a. m.). The full 17-member advisory group, headed by Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson and also including agriculture and public members, was to meet an hour later at the White House.

The management representatives—speaking for the National Association of Manufacturers, U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Business Advisory Council, and Committee for Economic Development—held a series of closed caucuses yesterday. Reports which dribbled out were that there could be no agreement on a disputes board unless labor yielded.

The management group wants to limit disputes to be cleared through a wage stabilization board to those involving wage issues or interpretation of board orders. Labor unions want to channel virtually all mobilization disputes to such a board. The deadlock on that difference of opinion has existed for weeks.

The labor unions, just as firmly planted on their position as was the management group, two months ago withdrew their members from all defese agencies, including the first wage stablization board. That board, though technically still in existence, has been impotent ever since.

The three labor members walked out Feb. 16 protesting the 10 per cent ceiling above Jan. 15, 1950 levels on wage increases. It was voted by the six public and industry representatives.

Weeks of conferences have failed to crack the deadlock. In the meantime big and little crises over wages are developing in the absence of such a board.

Shad Run Reported

The first substantial run of shad was reported yesterday off Kingston Point in the Hudson river. Luck varied with the fishermen. Some caught only five or six in drifts yesterday and last night, but one report indicated a catch of more than 100 in two drifts. The nets were out again today when the fishing was expected to be better net by net.

New York Works on Details Of Greeting for MacArthur

Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has set aside Friday as "MacArthur Day."

At a news conference yesterday, Grover A. Whalen, chairman of the reception committee, said the general would be greeted officially but quietly when he lands at Idlewild Airport at 5:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday.

To ensure a semi-private arrival for the general, Whalen said, the exact part of the field at which the plane will land will not be made public. Nor will the plane's assigned hangar be announced.

Mayor Impellitteri will be at the field. No program has been planned for Thursday night, at MacArthur's request, Whalen added.

The general's auto route into Manhattan from the airport will follow Van Wyck Boulevard to Queens Boulevard, then to the Queensborough Bridge and into Manhattan, along Second avenue to 57th street, west to Park avenue, and south to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at 50th street.

For the big Friday parade—expected to be witnessed by 4,000,000 persons, including many out-of-town visitors—MacArthur will

Ridgway Issues New Regulations Banning References to Size and Location of Chinese, Red Korean Forces

Tokyo, April 17 (AP)—Allied troops ripped into Communist forces on Korea's east central front today in the swelling battle for the huge Hwachon dam.

The Reds' man-made smoke screen began to lift late Tuesday afternoon. United Nations warplanes roared into action with jellied gasoline bombs, rockets and machineguns.

On the ground allied infantrymen battered the Reds with artillery and rifle fire.

Thousands of combat-ready Communist soldiers were massed in the hills north of the dam. The allied attack was aimed to keep them off-balance and block their long-expected spring offensive.

Rigid new censorship regulations issued by Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new allied supreme commander, banned all references to the exact size and location of Chinese and Red Korean forces.

Pressure Maintained

On the western front United Nations troops maintained their pressure south of Chorwon. The town, 17 miles north of the border, was destroyed by artillery and air attacks earlier this month. It is still an important Chinese base and road junction.

Yonchon, on the road leading northwest to Chorwon, was abandoned by the Reds. The allies hold high ground on all sides of Yonchon, but had not entered the town itself.

An allied tank-infantry force smashed into a Red pocket of resistance on the main road to Kumhwa, a Chinese bastion on the central front. Fifty of the 250 Reds were killed by tank and rifle fire.

Kumhwa is east northeast of Chorwon and northwest of Hwachon. It is a key point in the Red buildup area.

Exact Location Not Given

The exact location of the fight was not reported.

Activity on the east and west coasts was limited to patrol actions.

Dive-bombing U. S. F-80 Shooting Star jets struck Communist rail facilities Tuesday for the third straight day Pilots reported five locomotives and 37 rail cars destroyed.

The Reds lighted forest fires and smudge pots in an effort to hide their ground movements from the prying eyes of allied pilots. They used the same trick last November, just before they opened their drive down the heart of the peninsula.

The new field commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, visited his troops Tuesday on the western front.

Ready and Able

He told AP Correspondent Jim Becker earlier that his United Nations forces were ready and able to contain any Communist thrust.

Spring was breaking fast in Red Korea as Van Fleet made his first frontline tour. Roads again were dry and dusty.

In the ground fighting east of the Hwachon Reservoir, allied forces held fast to Yanggu and Yachon, towns they seized from the Reds two days ago.

The capture of Yanggu Sunday eliminated a Red buildup that had been in progress. One big supply dump fell to U.N. forces.

In the mountains west of Inje, 11 miles southeast of the dam, allied forces found lessening Red resistance.

Red Korean forces on the east central front were described by one American general as "very much inferior" to the Red forces that battled the allies in the early stages of the war.

Inadequate Training

Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the U. S. 10th Corps, said the Korean Reds showed inadequate training. He said lower grade officers and noncoms were definitely inferior.

Almond credited allied artillery attacks with keeping the enemy off balance.

B-29 Superforts plastered the Pyongyang Airfield Tuesday with 90 tons of high explosives. They met light flak but no enemy fighters. Pyongyang is the Red Korean capital.

Allied carrier-based planes bombed and strafed Red troops and supply centers Monday in northeast Korea.

Surface warships attacked Communist transport routes in the Wonsan-Songjin area.

Shad Run Reported

The first substantial run of shad was reported yesterday off Kingston Point in the Hudson river. Luck varied with the fishermen. Some caught only five or six in drifts yesterday and last night, but one report indicated a catch of more than 100 in two drifts. The nets were out again today when the fishing was expected to be better net by net.

British Submarine Vanishes After Dive on Maneuvers

Affray Is Sought in Sea Off England; 75 Men and Officers Aboard

Portsmouth, England, April 17 (AP) — The British submarine Affray with 75 men and officers aboard vanished today after a a dive on maneuvers in the English channel.

The admiralty quickly accepted a U. S. Navy offer of help and two American destroyers, the Ellison and the Perry, joined in an air-sea hunt by British ships, planes and helicopters.

The Affray, one of 16 submarines of the 281-foot "A" class, was assigned to a "practice war patrol" between here and Falmouth. This meant she would have been traveling submerged at all times except when making a radio report between 8 and 9 a. m. daily.

An admiralty spokesman said there was some hope that the submarine commander, war hero Lt. John Blackburn, might have misread the order on making the daily morning reports, in which case the Affray might still be proceeding submerged.

"If in so doing she is now carrying out a deep diving patrol she would be unable to receive the radio messages which are now being sent to her each 15 minutes," the spokesman said. He added, however, that the navy did not pin much hope on this theory.

The admiralty announced that next of kin of all aboard were being informed that the Affray was overdue.

Bomber Leads Search

A big four-engined RAF Lancaster bomber led the search along a stretch of sea 75 miles long and 25 miles wide off the south channel coast for the 1,600-ton craft, which is equipped with a schnorkel breathing apparatus and escape devices.

Zig-zagging along the Affray's assigned course, airmen watched for oil slick, debris or emergency marker buoys around the point where the submarine went into her dive at 8 p. m. (3:15 p. m. EST) Monday, about 25 miles south of the Isle of Wight. She was to end the assignment at this base Thursday afternoon. After her dive the Affray was due to reappear 20 miles southeast of her starting point, at a point about 100 miles west of Portsmouth.

Pilgrim Manager Signs Contract for Schilling Plant

A reliable source today said that Barney King, manager of the Pilgrim Furniture Company, had contracted to purchase the plant of Schilling Furniture Company, 107 Greenkill avenue.

The Pilgrim Company's factory on the same street, in the neighborhood of Schilling's, was recently purchased by the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

At the time the insurance company closed its deal through the South Prospect Realty Company, there was great concern about Kingston losing the Pilgrim company, which employs approximately 200 men.

However, today's realty transaction practically assures that there will be no removal of the Pilgrim furniture plant from the city.

Executives of the Schilling company, which manufactures beds for dealers throughout the nation, were incommunicado today when a reporter phoned to query on the future of that industry.

The Metropolitan Insurance Company purchased the building of the Pilgrim concern, it was said, to use as an office, or hall of records, and a reliable informant said that approximately 300 would be employed.

Soviets Give 5-Year Plan Statement

Check Is Difficult

Comparisons Are Based on 1926-27 Ruble; Open to Exaggeration

(By The Associated Press)

The Soviet Union announced today its first postwar five-year plan has ended with industrial production topping that of 1940 by 73 per cent. Moscow dispatches said the announcement cleared the way for presentation of a new five-year plan, the fourth.

The state planning committee and statistical administration said 1950 industrial production topped 239,550,000,000 rubles, adding that production goals were fulfilled in almost all lines.

These Soviet comparisons in terms of rubles are believed to be based upon 1926-1927 prices, and thus difficult to check and open to broad exaggeration. The ruble has been revalued a number of times. At present the Soviet government values it at 25 U. S. cents, but that figure is unreal in terms of buying power.

U. S. Index 72 Per Cent Ahead

The U. S. Federal Reserve industrial production index as of December, 1950, was 72 per cent ahead of 1940. At first glance this would indicate the rises in industrial production in the U. The spontaneous outburst of acclaim—at this starting point of the Pacific war which MacArthur fought from beginning to end—presaged pageantry and public demonstrations planned for him in San Francisco, Washington and New York.

But there was no note of the antagonism that has split America and the non-communist world over his views. He urged that the allies should bomb Chinese Communist bases in Manchuria and use Chinese Nationalist troops against the Reds to end the Korean war.

MacArthur's Hawaiian welcome, gushing with a full measure of the traditional island friendship, was shorn of partisanship; it was the acclaim given a conquering hero.

Waves in Response

MacArthur smiled and waved in response to the shouts of the crowds. He shook a child's hand. He chatted with an ex-soldier who had fought with him on Bataan.

He chuckled as a fat, barefooted woman danced a hula when his green sedan rolled by.

He received an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Hawaii in an ampitheatre jammed with 5,000 people. He heard the university president acclaim him "one of the greatest Americans of all times."

He stopped at Punchbowl, a national cemetery in the extinct crater of a volcano overlooking Honolulu and Pearl Harbor. He placed a wreath of orchids at the base of a flagpole in honor of 13,000 World War 2 dead buried there.

Some of the neat white rows of crosses marked the last resting place of men who perished in the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Knows Glory of Deaths

After standing rigidly at salute for a minute, MacArthur turned to correspondents, pointed at row on row of crosses and said "I know the glory of their death."

It was the simple praise of a

Becomes First General of Equal Rank to Speak Out on Theory

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, five-star peer of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, today declared Asia military policies advocated by the deposed commander would "jeopardize world peace."

Bradley was the first of the homecoming general's five-star brothers in rank to speak out publicly against the theory of carrying the war to China since President Truman dismissed MacArthur last week. Bradley did not mention MacArthur's name.

Last year's quick United Nations action in Korea, Bradley declared, may have stayed the Kremlin's hand as it was about to precipitate World War Three.

Bradley roundly backed the President's stand against MacArthur's ideas and defended the administration's policy of limiting the war in Korea. As chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Bradley has a large part in policy making.

Other Declarations

In a speech prepared for delivery to the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, Bradley also declared:

1. The Korean war, under present conditions, may be headed toward a stalemate, but it can be brought to an honorable conclusion.

2. The United States will not wage a preventive war.

3. The one price the U. S. will not pay for peace is appeasement.

4. The use the Reds have made of air bases in Manchuria to date has not warranted U.N. bombing of them.

5. Action against aggression in Korea upset Communist plans in Asia, at least temporarily preventing Red moves in Indo China and perhaps saving Thailand and Formosa.

6. Any attempt to settle the world crisis by an ultimatum—perhaps accompanied by a threat to bomb Russia—is militarily impracticable and might backlash.

In Washington, the Defense Department said Bradley's speech was cleared by the State Department in line with a White House edict last December requiring clearance of policy statements by

Fifth Person Held In Bookie Raid

Plymouth Avenue Man Is Arrested; Case Is Adjourned

Execution of a warrant yesterday resulted in the fifth arrest on charges relating to book making and policy following the police raid Saturday at 48 Chambers street.

Arthur Elting, 36, of 76 Plymouth avenue, was arrested at police headquarters at 5:15 p. m., Monday by Lt. James P. Martin for alleged violations of Sections 986 and 974 of the Penal Law.

The first section pertains to the recording and registering of bets and wagers on the results of horse races and the second deals with what is "commonly known as lottery policy."

Case Is Adjourned

The case was adjourned until next Monday when Elting appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today. The others are scheduled to appear on the same date. Bail was the same as that for the others, $500.

Detective Clarence Brophy, Sgt. Lemuel Howard, and Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Ernest Bartroff conducted the raid at the direction of Police Chief Raymond Van Buren. Three telephones, three adding machines and miscellaneous papers were confiscated, police said.

The others arrested were Otto Solomon, 42, of 24 Ann street; Peter Caprotti, 31, of 116 Roosevelt avenue; Raymond W. Ross, 41, of 672 Broadway, and Daniel Pope, 51, of 7 Canal street. The latter, police said, allegedly hold the job as janitor at the place and was booked only on a charge of violation of Section 974 which deals with "lottery policy."

Attorney Elmore Nathan who appeared for the others in court yesterday, represented Elting today. Attorney John Larkin appeared for the district attorney's office.

New York Works on Details Of Greeting for MacArthur

Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has set aside Friday as "MacArthur Day."

At a news conference yesterday, Grover A. Whalen, chairman of the reception committee, said the general would be greeted officially but quietly when he lands at Idlewild Airport at 5:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday.

To ensure a semi-private arrival for the general, Whalen said, the exact part of the field at which the plane will land will not be made public. Nor will the plane's assigned hangar be announced.

Mayor Impellitteri will be at the field. No program has been planned for Thursday night, at MacArthur's request, Whalen added.

The general's auto route into Manhattan from the airport will follow Van Wyck Boulevard to Queens Boulevard, then to the Queensborough Bridge and into Manhattan, along Second avenue to 57th street, west to Park avenue, and south to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel at 50th street.

For the big Friday parade—expected to be witnessed by 4,000,000 persons, including many out-of-town visitors—MacArthur will

Bruhn Is Named Aide to Court

Grand Jury Stenographer Chosen Provisionally by 8 Justices

Fred W. Bruhn of 35 Jefferson avenue, who has served as grand jury stenographer since 1942, has been given a provisional appointment as Supreme Court stenographer effective April 11. The appointment is made by the eight Supreme Court justices of the Third Judicial District of which Ulster county is a part. The appointment is for a period of six months but may be extended for an additional three months pending a Civil Service examination from which an eligibility list will be made up.

The appointment of Bruhn as Supreme Court stenographer came as a result of the increasing of the number of justices in this district from seven to eight and the increase in the number of stenographers from seven to eight under an act of the last legislature.

Under the new law the number of Supreme Court justices is increased to eight. Justice Herbert D. Hamm is the eighth justice named by appointment. Two of the justices of the district are serving on the Appellate Division, they being Justices Foster and Bergan.

Will Take Special Term

Bruhn will take the regular special term here in May and has been assigned to take the trial term on May 7 in Troy and the Schoharie term in June. At both of these terms Justice Harry E. Schirick, the dean of the trial justices of the district, will preside.

In addition to serving as grand jury stenographer Mr. Bruhn has been clerk of the Ulster County Pistol Permit Bureau. He has resigned that position and Abram F. Molyneaux, Jr., has been appointed clerk of the Pistol Permit

Local housing plans are currently moving toward the advertising for bids early in June, Arthur A. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Commission said today.

Bids were opened for test borings in Davis' office at 4 p. m. yesterday and Warren George, 136 Liberty street, New York, was low bidder at $2.85 per linear foot per dry samples and $3 per linear foot for rock.

The highest of several bids submited was $15.50 per linear foot for dry samples and rock.

Architect Harry Halverson will be able to complete preliminary plans after test borings are finished, and the commission is hopeful of having the plans done by about June 1 so that it may advertise for bids "immediately thereafter," Davis said.

The low-rental, state-sponsored housing development is to be built on a site in the Flatbush avenue area.

Personality Follows You

New York (AP)—"You leave your personality behind you when you leave a room," says Frank Allen, arson expert for the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It may be invisible to the average person, but not to detectives. "It consists of things like fingerprints that cannot be seen," Allen explains, "but that can be induced by a special powder; footprints on a linoleum floor; a fallen hair which can be magnified 500 times to show its color, thickness and other characteristics; a cigarette smoked in a certain way or stained by a certain type of lipstick; book matches torn out in a peculiar sequence or from a particular side."

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 17 (AP)—Airline shares were a steadying influence on a quiet stock market today. Prices were mixed and for the most part changes were in fractions.

The market moved a little lower after a mixed opening. Then prices bounced back to a little better than the early high points with losses and gains about even.

Airlines were the strongest issues by far, although their gains were slight. Pan American World Airways, American Airlines, United, Eastern, Trans-World all edged ahead at the opening and hung on.

Wheeling Steel was ahead as much as $1 at one time and U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were up small fractions. Republic and Youngstown Sheet were down a few cents.

Among the railroad stocks, Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio squeezed ahead a few cents with Santa Fe and New York Central remaining steady. Southern Railway and Chesapeake and Ohio lost fractions.

Chrysler and Studebaker advanced in the recently active motor group with Packard in the losing column.

The oil stocks were among the sliders wtih Standard (N. J.), Texas and Gulf (the last down $1) on the downside and Sinclair just on the gain side.

There were a substantial number of losses among the chemicals, but most other sections were evenly divided between advances and declines.

On the curb market prices moved lower. The losses were mostly fractions and there were a fair number of small gains sprinkled through the list.

Aluminum Company of America and Glen Alden Coal slipped more than $1 at one time but fractional declines were the rule. Losers included Imperial Oil, New Jersey Zinc, Louisiana Land, St. Lawrence Corp., and Pancoastal Oil. On the gaining side were Arkansas Natural Gas, American Republics and Barium Steel.

Trading was light in the bond market with corporate issues drifting downward a little and U. S. government bonds unchanged to small fractions lower.

MacArthur Is Due

man who had lived through the bitter campaigns of the Pacific war and had watched men die from Bataan to Okinawa on the long, hard way to Japan's surrender.

The general rode in the lead car with his Hawaii host, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Pacific fleet commander.

In the next car with Mrs. Radford were Mrs. MacArthur and Arthur, who hurried to join the procession after a romp on the white sands of Waikiki Beach.

Housewives in shorts and sun suits, laborers in work clothes, nuns in grey, grubby urchins—all these lined the streets. Mothers held aloft their tiny children.

"Here he is. There he is," the people constantly shouted.

Some tossed flower leis (garlands) at the generals' car.

The parade found the general well rested after arriving 15 hours earlier from a Japanese sendoff at Tokyo's Haneda Airport.

After San Francisco's reception for him Wednesday, the general was expected to fly (3:30 p. m., E.S.T.) nonstop to Washington. Arrival time in Washington was estimated at 1:30 a. m., E.S.T., Thursday.

Along the avenue to 57th street, west to Broadway, south on Broadway to Times Square, then south on 7th avenue to 34th street, from there east to Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, and then south on the drive to the Battery.

At the Battery, where the general is due at 12:05 p. m., an honor guard of 10,000 will have formed on Bowling Green. The guard will consist of 5,000 uniformed veterans and 5,000 members of the armed forces and municipal departments.

MacArthur, Mayor Impellitteri and Whalen will be in the first car of the caravan.

Mrs. MacArthur, the MacArthur's son, Arthur, and Mrs. Impellitteri will follow in the second car.

An official New York state delegation, headed by Lieut. Gov. Frank C. Moore, will be in the third car.

British Submarine

apparatus to be dropped by parachute if survivors were sighted. The rescue ship Reclaim stood by, equipped to send divers as far as 535 feet down. The channel in the area runs only about half that depth. The Reclaim carries an underwater gun with which a diver can fire a hollow bolt into a sub's side. Compressed air is then forced through the bolt to drive water out of flooded compartments.

The search and rescue plan for such emergencies is called "Operation submash," and it was ordered into operation as soon as the Affray failed to surface on schedule.

Snow mixed with rain fell intermittently in Utica, Binghamton, Elmira, Dansville, Rochester and Albany.

Personality Follows You

New York (AP)—"You leave your personality behind you when you leave a room," says Frank Allen, arson expert for the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It may be invisible to the average person, but not to detectives. "It consists of things like fingerprints that cannot be seen," Allen explains, "but that can be induced by a special powder; footprints on a linoleum floor; a fallen hair which can be magnified 500 times to show its color, thickness and other characteristics; a cigarette smoked in a certain way or stained by a certain type of lipstick; book matches torn out in a peculiar sequence or from a particular side."

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 17 (AP)—Airline shares were a steadying influence on a quiet stock market today. Prices were mixed and for the most part changes were in fractions.

The market moved a little lower after a mixed opening. Then prices bounced back to a little better than the early high points with losses and gains about even.

Airlines were the strongest issues by far, although their gains were slight. Pan American World Airways, American Airlines, United, Eastern, Trans-World all edged ahead at the opening and hung on.

Wheeling Steel was ahead as much as $1 at one time and U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were up small fractions. Republic and Youngstown Sheet were down a few cents.

Among the railroad stocks, Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio squeezed ahead a few cents with Santa Fe and New York Central remaining steady. Southern Railway and Chesapeake and Ohio lost fractions.

Chrysler and Studebaker advanced in the recently active motor group with Packard in the losing column.

The oil stocks were among the sliders wtih Standard (N. J.), Texas and Gulf (the last down $1) on the downside and Sinclair just on the gain side.

There were a substantial number of losses among the chemicals, but most other sections were evenly divided between advances and declines.

On the curb market prices moved lower. The losses were mostly fractions and there were a fair number of small gains sprinkled through the list.

Aluminum Company of America and Glen Alden Coal slipped more than $1 at one time but fractional declines were the rule. Losers included Imperial Oil, New Jersey Zinc, Louisiana Land, St. Lawrence Corp., and Pancoastal Oil. On the gaining side were Arkansas Natural Gas, American Republics and Barium Steel.

Trading was light in the bond market with corporate issues drifting downward a little and U. S. government bonds unchanged to small fractions lower.

He has been substituting at times and for several terms of court has been practicing court routine in the court room in preparation for the present appointment.

MacArthur Is Due

man who had lived through the bitter campaigns of the Pacific war and had watched men die from Bataan to Okinawa on the long, hard way to Japan's surrender.

The general rode in the lead car with his Hawaii host, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Pacific fleet commander.

In the next car with Mrs. Radford were Mrs. MacArthur and Arthur, who hurried to join the procession after a romp on the white sands of Waikiki Beach.

Housewives in shorts and sun suits, laborers in work clothes, nuns in grey, grubby urchins—all these lined the streets. Mothers held aloft their tiny children.

"Here he is. There he is," the people constantly shouted.

Some tossed flower leis (garlands) at the generals' car.

The parade found the general well rested after arriving 15 hours earlier from a Japanese sendoff at Tokyo's Haneda Airport.

After San Francisco's reception for him Wednesday, the general was expected to fly (3:30 p. m., E.S.T.) nonstop to Washington. Arrival time in Washington was estimated at 1:30 a. m., E.S.T., Thursday.

A 50-car motorcade will follow this route:

From the hotel north on Park avenue to 60th street, west to the East Drive in Central Park, through the park to 102nd street, across the park on a private road to the West Drive, then south to park's exit at 59th street and Avenue of the Americas (6th avenue).

Along the avenue to 57th street, west to Broadway, south on Broadway to Times Square, then south on 7th avenue to 34th street, from there east to Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, and then south on the drive to the Battery.

At the Battery, where the general is due at 12:05 p. m., an honor guard of 10,000 will have formed on Bowling Green. The guard will consist of 5,000 uniformed veterans and 5,000 members of the armed forces and municipal departments.

MacArthur, Mayor Impellitteri and Whalen will be in the first car of the caravan.

Mrs. MacArthur, the MacArthur's son, Arthur, and Mrs. Impellitteri will follow in the second car.

An official New York state delegation, headed by Lieut. Gov. Frank C. Moore, will be in the third car.

British Submarine

apparatus to be dropped by parachute if survivors were sighted. The rescue ship Reclaim stood by, equipped to send divers as far as 535 feet down. The channel in the area runs only about half that depth. The Reclaim carries an underwater gun with which a diver can fire a hollow bolt into a sub's side. Compressed air is then forced through the bolt to drive water out of flooded compartments.

The search and rescue plan for such emergencies is called "Operation submash," and it was ordered into operation as soon as the Affray failed to surface on schedule.

Personality Follows You

New York (AP)—"You leave your personality behind you when you leave a room," says Frank Allen, arson expert for the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It may be invisible to the average person, but not to detectives. "It consists of things like fingerprints that cannot be seen," Allen explains, "but that can be induced by a special powder; footprints on a linoleum floor; a fallen hair which can be magnified 500 times to show its color, thickness and other characteristics; a cigarette smoked in a certain way or stained by a certain type of lipstick; book matches torn out in a peculiar sequence or from a particular side."

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 17 (AP)—Airline shares were a steadying influence on a quiet stock market today. Prices were mixed and for the most part changes were in fractions.

The market moved a little lower after a mixed opening. Then prices bounced back to a little better than the early high points with losses and gains about even.

Airlines were the strongest issues by far, although their gains were slight. Pan American World Airways, American Airlines, United, Eastern, Trans-World all edged ahead at the opening and hung on.

Wheeling Steel was ahead as much as $1 at one time and U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were up small fractions. Republic and Youngstown Sheet were down a few cents.

Among the railroad stocks, Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio squeezed ahead a few cents with Santa Fe and New York Central remaining steady. Southern Railway and Chesapeake and Ohio lost fractions.

Chrysler and Studebaker advanced in the recently active motor group with Packard in the losing column.

The oil stocks were among the sliders wtih Standard (N. J.), Texas and Gulf (the last down $1) on the downside and Sinclair just on the gain side.

There were a substantial number of losses among the chemicals, but most other sections were evenly divided between advances and declines.

On the curb market prices moved lower. The losses were mostly fractions and there were a fair number of small gains sprinkled through the list.

Aluminum Company of America and Glen Alden Coal slipped more than $1 at one time but fractional declines were the rule. Losers included Imperial Oil, New Jersey Zinc, Louisiana Land, St. Lawrence Corp., and Pancoastal Oil. On the gaining side were Arkansas Natural Gas, American Republics and Barium Steel.

Trading was light in the bond market with corporate issues drifting downward a little and U. S. government bonds unchanged to small fractions lower.

MacArthur Is Due

man who had lived through the bitter campaigns of the Pacific war and had watched men die from Bataan to Okinawa on the long, hard way to Japan's surrender.

The general rode in the lead car with his Hawaii host, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Pacific fleet commander.

In the next car with Mrs. Radford were Mrs. MacArthur and Arthur, who hurried to join the procession after a romp on the white sands of Waikiki Beach.

Housewives in shorts and sun suits, laborers in work clothes, nuns in grey, grubby urchins—all these lined the streets. Mothers held aloft their tiny children.

"Here he is. There he is," the people constantly shouted.

Some tossed flower leis (garlands) at the generals' car.

The parade found the general well rested after arriving 15 hours earlier from a Japanese sendoff at Tokyo's Haneda Airport.

After San Francisco's reception for him Wednesday, the general was expected to fly (3:30 p. m., E.S.T.) nonstop to Washington. Arrival time in Washington was estimated at 1:30 a. m., E.S.T., Thursday.

Along the avenue to 57th street, west to Broadway, south on Broadway to Times Square, then south on 7th avenue to 34th street, from there east to Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, and then south on the drive to the Battery.

At the Battery, where the general is due at 12:05 p. m., an honor guard of 10,000 will have formed on Bowling Green. The guard will consist of 5,000 uniformed veterans and 5,000 members of the armed forces and municipal departments.

MacArthur, Mayor Impellitteri and Whalen will be in the first car of the caravan.

Mrs. MacArthur, the MacArthur's son, Arthur, and Mrs. Impellitteri will follow in the second car.

An official New York state delegation, headed by Lieut. Gov. Frank C. Moore, will be in the third car.

apparatus to be dropped by parachute if survivors were sighted. The rescue ship Reclaim stood by, equipped to send divers as far as 535 feet down. The channel in the area runs only about half that depth. The Reclaim carries an underwater gun with which a diver can fire a hollow bolt into a sub's side. Compressed air is then forced through the bolt to drive water out of flooded compartments.

The search and rescue plan for such emergencies is called "Operation submash," and it was ordered into operation as soon as the Affray failed to surface on schedule.

Four Cases Moved Over in Court

On the call of the criminal calendar Monday afternoon in County court four cases were moved over to Monday, April 23, for disposition.

Norman Frank, charged with assault, second degree, indicated he would demand a trial. Elmor H. Nathan appeared for Frank and said the defendant was ready for trial. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn asked for a week to prepare for trial, indicating that he needed time to check further with the Waterbury, Conn., police. The week was granted.

The case of Ephriam Decker, charged with driving a car while intoxicated as a second offender, was put over to next Monday on application of Howard C. St. John, attorney.

On motion of Robert Ortale the case of Cornelius O'Neil was put over to next Monday. O'Neil is charged with grand larceny, second degree, for taking of a car.

William Rosenerance asked that trial of the burglary and grand larceny charges against him be delayed until next Monday. John L. Larkin appeared for the defendant and asked time in order to contact witnesses in Sullivan county where Rosencrance resides.

All other criminal cases not called were moved over to April 23, on motion of District Attorney Bruhn.

Tax Cuts British Smoking

London (AP) — Taxes on cigarettes are cutting Britain's smoking. With a pack of 20 costing three shillings and sixpence (48 U.S. cents) — about two shillings and ninepence of that tax—demand is falling off, manufacturers report. But the demand is still greater than the supply. Efforts to produce a cheaper cigarette but with the same tobacco by using filter tips are described as "pretty discouraging."

Martin Chuckles Over VaughanRole

Boston, April 17 (AP)—U. S. Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., House minority leader, says if this country is not in Korea to win, "then somebody should be indicted for the murder of thousands of American boys."

Informed last night that President Truman would send his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, as his representative to meet MacArthur when the latter arrives at National Airport in Washington, Martin said:

"Certainly sending Vaughan to meet MacArthur is not a conciliatory gesture on the part of the President."

He chuckled and added: "You know, MacArthur will walk up to him. Vaughan will salute, and MacArthur will go right past him."

DAR Reviews Many Resolutions at Session

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution took up a mass of resolutions today, one of which might give a big pat on the back of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his Pacific policies.

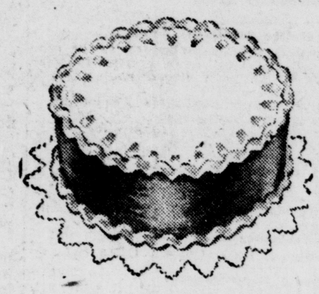

Members of the DAR Board of Management, who have invited the ousted five-star general to address their convention when he comes to Washington later this week, are reported to have voiced approval of his policies. It was a policy disagreement which led President Truman to fire him last week.

Mr. Truman told the patriotic organization in a letter of greeting made public last night this country has taken the right course toward peace by fighting aggression in Korea and building up defenses in Europe.

Vassar Professors Lose Their Jobs

New York, April 17 (AP)—A philosophical discussion, that packed a real punch, has cost four Vassar College professors their jobs.

The quartet backed the late 19th century ideas of British Philosopher Herbert Spencer, who coined the phrase "the survival of the fittest."

Opposing them was a proponent of Plato's 2,300-year-old Greek philosophy of the "good life governed by reason."

Principles in the dispute at the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., women's college were Assistant Professor Joseph Katz, a Platonist, and Professor Lewis S. Feuer, a Spencerian.

The argument, dating back several months, reached a peak in January when Katz and Feuer reportedly engaged in fisticuffs.

The battle has resulted in Professor Feuer's resignation, Mrs. Morris Hadley, chairman of the Vassar Board of Trustees, said in New York city yesterday.

Three other professors, who supported the Spencer views of Feuer, were informed that their one-year contracts would not be renewed, she added.

Two Are Identified

Mrs. Hadley identified two as Miss Mary Mothersill and Paul Spielberg. She said she did not know the identity of the third, but local news reports identified him as Gerome Richfield.

An added casualty of the battle was the removal of Prof. Vernon Venable as chairman of the philosophy department. Mrs. Hadley said Dr. Snyder Walker had been appointed by Vassar President Sarah Gibson Blandings to head the department.

Vassar officials at Poughkeepsie had no comment to make on the incidents.

Mrs. Hadley said the fisticuffs apparently were due to a "long-standing extreme clash of personalities."

Expressing regret at the "unfortunate incident," she said:

"I'm not sufficiently well up on their various views to know what the philosophical differences were, but if the individuals are pretty intense they can develop a fine difference of opinion."

Fisher Awarded Verdict of $960

Albert Fisher, Saugerties contractor, was awarded a verdict of $960, with interest, in an undefended action against Emanuel and Gertrude Diamond for work done on the Diamond place in 1950. Fisher brought an action in County Court to recover a $960 balance on a $2,260 job, alleging that the work was properly done and that the defendant had promised to pay as soon as he got money from New York. Fisher said he had demanded the money but Diamond had told him Mrs. Diamond had been unable to get to New York and arrange for the money. After several attempts to collect Fisher brought an action for work, labor and services.

After the action had been brought by Fisher the defendants brought a counter claim alleging the work was not properly done and that they had to expend money to have the work completed and to correct items where damaged and defective materials had been used.

Ernest E. Schirmer of Saugerties appeared for plaintiff and Rosenblum and Lamb were attorneys for the defendant but made no defense Monday afternoon when the action was tried. Judge Cashin directed a verdict for plaintiff.

Jury Is Taken

A jury was taken in an action to recover for personal injuries brought by Harold Tirsch against The Board of Education of the City of Kingston and an action brought by Martin C. Tirsch, an infant, by Harold Tirsch, guardian, against the Board of Education. Martin Tirsch, a student at No. 7 school, received a cut on the forehead when he fell on a stone walk on the school property. The actions are brought to recover for the injury and for medical fees. Plaintiff alleges he fell on a stone walk at the Green street entrance to the school which it is alleged was maintained in a defective and negligent manner.

Defendants allege the lad was playing on the school property after school and fell, inflicting a cut on his forehead. Defendants deny negligence on the part of the school authorities and claim the lad, age six, was playing about the school yard after school when the injury was inflicted.

Joseph Avis appears for the plaintiffs and Charles Gaffney appears for the defendant. Earl S. Jones is attorney of record for defendant.

Following selection of a jury court recessed until 10 o'clock this morning.

Child Costs a Nickel

New Delhi (AP)—For four annas — about a nickel in American money — you can buy one child in the local kidnappers' market. Officers have reported the recovery of 18 kidnapped children and the arrest of 12 gang members.

Vassar Professors Lose Their Jobs

New York, April 17 (AP)—A philosophical discussion, that packed a real punch, has cost four Vassar College professors their jobs.

The quartet backed the late 19th century ideas of British Philosopher Herbert Spencer, who coined the phrase "the survival of the fittest."

Opposing them was a proponent of Plato's 2,300-year-old Greek philosophy of the "good life governed by reason."

Principles in the dispute at the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., women's college were Assistant Professor Joseph Katz, a Platonist, and Professor Lewis S. Feuer, a Spencerian.

The argument, dating back several months, reached a peak in January when Katz and Feuer reportedly engaged in fisticuffs.

The battle has resulted in Professor Feuer's resignation, Mrs. Morris Hadley, chairman of the Vassar Board of Trustees, said in New York city yesterday.

Three other professors, who supported the Spencer views of Feuer, were informed that their one-year contracts would not be renewed, she added.

Two Are Identified

Mrs. Hadley identified two as Miss Mary Mothersill and Paul Spielberg. She said she did not know the identity of the third, but local news reports identified him as Gerome Richfield.

An added casualty of the battle was the removal of Prof. Vernon Venable as chairman of the philosophy department. Mrs. Hadley said Dr. Snyder Walker had been appointed by Vassar President Sarah Gibson Blandings to head the department.

Vassar officials at Poughkeepsie had no comment to make on the incidents.

Mrs. Hadley said the fisticuffs apparently were due to a "long-standing extreme clash of personalities."

Expressing regret at the "unfortunate incident," she said:

"I'm not sufficiently well up on their various views to know what the philosophical differences were, but if the individuals are pretty intense they can develop a fine difference of opinion."

Fisher Awarded Verdict of $960

Albert Fisher, Saugerties contractor, was awarded a verdict of $960, with interest, in an undefended action against Emanuel and Gertrude Diamond for work done on the Diamond place in 1950. Fisher brought an action in County Court to recover a $960 balance on a $2,260 job, alleging that the work was properly done and that the defendant had promised to pay as soon as he got money from New York. Fisher said he had demanded the money but Diamond had told him Mrs. Diamond had been unable to get to New York and arrange for the money. After several attempts to collect Fisher brought an action for work, labor and services.

After the action had been brought by Fisher the defendants brought a counter claim alleging the work was not properly done and that they had to expend money to have the work completed and to correct items where damaged and defective materials had been used.

Ernest E. Schirmer of Saugerties appeared for plaintiff and Rosenblum and Lamb were attorneys for the defendant but made no defense Monday afternoon when the action was tried. Judge Cashin directed a verdict for plaintiff.

Jury Is Taken

A jury was taken in an action to recover for personal injuries brought by Harold Tirsch against The Board of Education of the City of Kingston and an action brought by Martin C. Tirsch, an infant, by Harold Tirsch, guardian, against the Board of Education. Martin Tirsch, a student at No. 7 school, received a cut on the forehead when he fell on a stone walk on the school property. The actions are brought to recover for the injury and for medical fees. Plaintiff alleges he fell on a stone walk at the Green street entrance to the school which it is alleged was maintained in a defective and negligent manner.

Defendants allege the lad was playing on the school property after school and fell, inflicting a cut on his forehead. Defendants deny negligence on the part of the school authorities and claim the lad, age six, was playing about the school yard after school when the injury was inflicted.

Joseph Avis appears for the plaintiffs and Charles Gaffney appears for the defendant. Earl S. Jones is attorney of record for defendant.

Following selection of a jury court recessed until 10 o'clock this morning.

Grave Digger Quits

Over Stowey, England, April 17 (AP)—Harry Grandfield resigned as part-time village grave digger last night with this statement: "For 17 years I have dug and tended graves for 15 shillings ($2.10) a week. But it seems as though the more you do for people, the less they think of you."

Child Costs a Nickel

New Delhi (AP)—For four annas — about a nickel in American money — you can buy one child in the local kidnappers' market. Officers have reported the recovery of 18 kidnapped children and the arrest of 12 gang members.

ACE DRIVER—John H. Castner, 34, of Portland, Ore., above, was chosen as the trucking industry's "driver of the year." Castner has a 12-year record of driving without an accident.

Indications that local residents are writing to their senators and congressman expressing their opinions and desires on proposed legislation before the national legislators may be seen in the number of requests received by The Freeman for the names of the lawmakers in Washington, D. C.

As a service to the readers of The Freeman, who may desire to contact the two United States Senators from New York State and our Representative in Congress from the 30th Congressional District, which comprises the counties of Ulster, Dutchess, Columbia, Greene and Schoharie, we are publishing their names and party affiliation:

Irving M. Ives, Republican
Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat-Liberal
Representative in Congress
J. Ernest Wharton, Republican

The address of both the senators and the congressman is Washington, D. C.

WON'T SOLVE KOREAN PROBLEM

Basic to the entire dilemma confronting the United States and the UN in the Far East is how to conclude the war in Korea. As that conflict is now being conducted, no one can see any end to it. Soldiers in the field and people at home wonder where we are heading and how long the fighting will last.

The puzzle is not solved by the ouster of General MacArthur—it is only highlighted. In fact, his successor, General Ridgway, declared just a short time ago—"I see no end to the military operations unless there is a political settlement." All this concern is perfectly natural.

We know we and other UN countries are in Korea to resist Red aggression. We are doing that successfully. But we don't know how much of Korea we are supposed to sweep clear of the aggressor.

From the fact our troops are shoving the Communists northward above the 38th Parallel, it's evident our top diplomats and military men don't consider that line a final stopping point. But it's just as plain that with General Ridgway's present force he can't hope to thrust the Chinese and North Korean Reds out of all Korea.

A fresh look at the map shows why. Above Pyongyang, the Red capital, the peninsula constricts to a narrow waist about 100 miles across, which is probably defensible against heavy odds with the force we have. But north of there Korea fans out broadly like the upper half of an hour glass. The border touching Manchuria and Siberia is 500 miles long.

Obviously it is much harder to protect that border than to secure the Korean waist against new Red thrusts. Especially since a defending army could not get at enemy bases enjoying sanctuary behind the Yalu River.

Furthermore, while Red bases thus have a certain immunity, the reverse is true of UN forces. As last fall's headlong retreat showed, an army stretching its supply lines from southern Pusan clear to the Yalu is extremely vulnerable to enemy assault.

These are the basic difficulties which limit the action of UN troops in Korea. Those forces cannot be expected to do a job that is meant for a bigger army. And they cannot be expected to safeguard extended supply lines when they're barred from attacking the enemy's privileged bases.

BASEBALL IN EGYPT

Baseball has been introduced into Egypt. A team of American marines recently played a nine from the faculty of Fouad University. To enlighten the wide-eyed audience, an explanatory leaflet was distributed at the gate, and a running description in Arabic was given through a loudspeaker.

It is hard for Americans to understand why baseball has not taken abroad. Japan is almost the only foreign country where it has been really popular. The tours of American teams to England and the Continent have failed to make converts. In view of this lack of appeal elsewhere, we probably need not look forward, despite a show of interest in Egypt, to the time when the Pyramid Stonemasons meet the Sphinx Athletics.

VESTED INTEREST IN ERROR

One of the unnoted phases of the MacArthur dismissal is the danger that he faced from a Russian lend-lease policy that could have made our position in the Pacific untenable. This has to do with a lend-lease operation by which the Russians plannned to provide the Chinese Communists with a jet-propelled armament and a large submarine force.

It was the United States that established it as proper international procedure for a neutral nation to supply a belligerent with armaments in time of war and yet remain neutral. This was done in 1940, when the United States exchanged American destroyers for bases in British territory. By this transaction, the United States, a neutral, assisted Great Britain, a belligerent. In Lord Lothian's letter, dated September 2, 1940, the British leased us some bases "freely and without consideration," while in Cordell Hull's letter of the same date, appears:

"In consideration of the declarations above quoted, the government of the United States will immediately transfer to His Majesty's government 50 United States Navy destroyers generally referred to as the 12 hundred-ton type. . . ."

The lend-lease act was passed on March 11, 1941. The United States did not become a belligerent by act of Congress until December 8, 1941. Therefore, at the time of the passage of the lend-lease act, the United States was neutral. In World War I, the United States took the position as a neutral, she would sell her wares to any belligerent that could come here to get them and could pay for them.

However, in World War II, President Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins devised a novelty which made it possible for a neutral nation to supply a belligerent and yet remain neutral. The exact words of this law are important at this stage:

"(1) To manufacture in arsenals, factories, and shipyards under their jurisdiction, or otherwise procure, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress, or both, any defense article for the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States.

"(2) To sell, transfer title to, exchange, lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of, to any such government any defense article. . . ."

Few restrictions were placed upon the President:

"(b) The terms and conditions upon which any such foreign government receives any aid authorized under subsection (a) shall be those which the President deems satisfactory, and the benefit to the United States may be payment or repayment in kind or property, or any other direct or indirect benefit which the President deems satisfactory."

Under the terms of the American lend-lease act, it is permissible for Soviet Russia to remain neutral in our Korean war, yet to supply Soviet China with all the arms required, including jet-propelled planes and submarines. In fact, the United States has no grounds for protesting even the employment of Russian experts by the Chinese Communists in the war against the United States. For this is what the lend-lease act has to say on this subject:

"(3) To test, inspect, prove, repair, outfit, recondition, or otherwise to place in good working order, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress or both, any defense article for any such government, or to procure any or all such services by private contract."

General Douglas MacArthur, as commander of Americans in war—even if they are called United Nations troops, they are Americans—recognized the danger to his men and the untenability of our position if Russia, as a neutral, could lend-lease jet-propelled planes and submarines to the Chinese, who could thus bottle up our fleet and destroy our men, particularly were we caught in a simultaneous action in Asia and Europe. This he tried to convey to the authorities in Washington without success. His letter to Congressman Joe Martin brought the problem into the open.

Old-fashioned international lawyers followed the precedents which had been developed by experience over the centuries. The innovators during the New Deal abhorred precedents and established new procedures, which, in themselves, have become precedents. This one is blowing up in our faces at this moment. In the MacArthur controversy, this is an important factor.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

ANXIETY NEUROSIS

During and after World War I, medical officers were finding many cases of rapid heartbeat, rapid and sometimes difficult breathing, fear or anxiety, lack of ability to do mental and physical work. With assurance, after careful examination, that no organic disease was causing these symptoms, most of the patients recovered. This ailment is called neurocirculatory asthenia, which means weakness of the nerves and general nervous system. It can and does affect all the various systems of the body: circulation, respiration, heart and blood vessels, digestive and others.

Some months ago I reported a follow-up study after 20 years of 173 patients reported by Harvard physicians Dr. Edwin O. Wheeler, Paul D. White, Eleanor W. Reed and Mandel E. Cohen. Patients were located by search by telephone and street directories, alumni and professional lists, files of licenses and records of divorce and death in 44 states and by friendly physicians and radio stations.

This follow-up showed that while all the symptoms were present, they did not significantly interfere with the patient's work or social or family life nor did they cause death.

One of these physicians, Dr. Mandel E. Cohen, in Medical Clinics of North America, summarizes present knowledge of this disorder, the chief symptoms of which are breathlessnes, pounding of heart, nervousness, irritability, chest discomfort, tiredness and spells of dizziness, faintness or anxiety attacks. Patients may complain of choking and smothering spells, rapid heart beat, pain in chest, nervousness, "heart trouble." These patients also complain of headaches, blurred vision and giddiness, and all complain of difficult breathing.

What can be done to help these patients, civilian as well as members of the armed forces?

Dr. Cohen says that there is no specific treatment. "Management should include serious consideration of the patient's condition, medical examination, reassurance and removal of factors that bring on attacks such as unnecessary forms of treatment, frightening diagnoses, and the use of too many drugs, unnecessary operations and too much psychotherapy (treatment of mental and emotional disturbances)."

Although neurocirculatory asthenia (anxiety neurosis, heart neurosis, effort syndrone, neurasthenia) may not shorten the life span, it is a mental and emotional hazard.

Facing the Danger With Magnificent Fortitude

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — In private caucuses congressional Republicans haven't been quite as outspoken for General MacArthur, or against President Truman—as in their public statements. Some have feared the MacArthur issue, unless carefully handled, might backfire and give the public the impression that Republican chiefs favor a third World War.

Congressman A. L. (Doc) Miller of Nebraska warned of this at the first caucus of House Republicans.

"We must not leave ourselves open to Democratic charges that we are subscribing to a war policy by defending MacArthur," Miller cautioned. "In inviting the general back here, it should be made clear that we are not necessarily confirming his policy on the Far East until we have heard his story."

Congressman Fred Coudert of New York seconded Miller, as did several others, including Congressman Jack Javits of New York.

"The American people," Javits cautioned, "have a right to hear MacArthur's side of his conflict with Truman and it is right that we should invite him to Washington to express himself. At the same time I think we ought to make it clear that we Republicans do not approve of military leaders dictating to civilian authorities."

No Impeachment

At another closed-door conference with the House GOP Policy Committee, Joe Martin also rejected the idea of trying to impeach the President.

"We don't have the votes," explained the ex-speaker. "Anyway, it might be difficult to prove illegality in the President's removal of a field commander."

However, some Republicans have expressed concern lest MacArthur himself be subject to court-martial if in his speech in Washington he strongly assails his commander-in-chief and the government's Far East policy—and contributes to national disunity by so doing.

They don't believe the Truman administration would have the courage to initiate such a court-martial, however. Also Rep. John Vorys of Ohio, rated an authority on constitutional law, thinks Mac Arthur can speak out with impunity.

'No-Night-Owl' Vinson

Georgia's gruff Congressman Carl Vinson got the first news of MacArthur's ouster in a 1 a. m. phone call from General Bradley.

As chaiman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, Vinson is handled with kid gloves by the brass hats. He has important legislative power over their policies, so Bradley wanted to be sure Vinson got the MacArthur news before reading it in the papers.

At 1 a. m., therefore, Bradley rousted Congressman Vinson out of bed.

"This is General Bradley," he said. "I have called to tell you that Truman has just removed General MacArthur from command. I'll read you his statement."

"Nobody will read me a statement this time of night," interdupted the congressman from Georgia.

Then half apologetically he mumbled: "That's fine, that's fine. Thank you, general. Good night."

McCarthy vs. MacArthur

Most vociferous champion of General MacArthur in the current controversy has been a certain senator from Wisconsin. He has claimed that the President's firing of MacArthur was influenced by midnight "bourbon and benedictine," at a time when Mr. Truman didn't know any better.

However, here is a letter by the same senator from Wisconsin, addressed to the people of Wisconsin on March 31, 1948, when General MacArthur was running for president of the United States in the Wisconsin GOP primary, and when this senator felt that the most effective way to stop MacArthur was to play up his divorce and his age.

The letter, mimeographed and sent out by the thousands—not at midnight and apparently not under the influence of bourbon and benedictine — was addressed: "Dear folks." It read:

"General MacArthur has been a great general. But he is now ready for retirement. He would be 72 years old before a term as president ended. Twice before we have had presidents who became physically weakened during their term of office and both times it had very sad results for our country . . .

"On returning to Wisconsin I notice that hundreds of big campaign billboards tell the people to support the general because he is a native son of Wisconsin. The Hearst papers, which are booming the general's candidacy, refer to him as the 'Wisconsin-born general.' This is not true.

"The general was born in Little Rock, Arkansas, on January 26, 1880, and not in Wisconsin. He is not listed on any poll list as a voter in Wisconsin. Neither his first nor his second marriage, or his divorce, took place in Wisconsin. He was first married in Florida to Mrs. Walter Brooks of Baltimore, who now lives in Washington, D. C. After she divorced him in Reno, Nevada, he was remarried in New York city. Neither wife ever resided or voted in Wisconsin. In a sworn marriage application for his second marriage he did not claim Wisconsin as his residence, but gave Manila as his residence and Baltimore, Maryland, as the domicile of his former marriage."

That letter was signed by the vigorous current champion of General MacArthur—Joseph R. McCarthy.

Truman's Poor Timing

Administration leaders on Capitol Hill have been privately grousing that the President might have timed his firing of General MacArthur better—or at least might stop cussing out senators on the telephone during the MacArthur debate.

Though agreeing with the President on the basic issue, they feel the MacArthur dismissal couldn't have come at a more inappropriate time. As a result of the Kefauver crime hearings and the Fulbright RFC investigation, plus Truman's letter-writing, Democratic prestige has been at its lowest ebb.

However, White House advisers indicate that a long overdue cleanup is now in the works—the first step being the exit of Mrs. Merl Young, the White House secretary of mink-coat fame. Next on the list will be Donald Dawson who figured in the RFC hearings — unless Dawson clears himself in early testimony.

Note — Meanwhile shrewd Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma has endeared himself to the President for life by jumping in when almost no other senator had the nerve to tangle with General MacArthur. Last year the President vetoed Kerr's natural gas bill. Speculation is that maybe next time it won't be vetoed.

Today in Washington

MacArthur Affair Has Split Nation, and This Transcends Issues

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 17—President Truman has split America. He has stirred up such dissension and division among the American people that the disunity which prevails today transcends in importance even the issues which led to his dismissal of General MacArthur.

From all over the country the evidence is piling up that Mr. Truman has stirred up bitterness such as has not been noted since the days before the Civil War. The emotional reaction to the dismissal of General MacArthur has not been lessened by the strangely partisan behavior that has developed in Congress itself.

Thus, the Democrats at first resented the idea of a joint meeting to hear General MacArthur. Only upon further reflection did they decide to go along with plans to welcome the general.

Then came the sniping and the innuendoes. Mr. Truman, who told the Democrats gathered at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner last Saturday night to put the national interest above personal interest, promptly disregarded his own political impulses and started off another wave of bitterness by his innuendo against General MacArthur.

Within the last 24 hours another incident has brought more irritation. It has been announced that, when General MacArthur returns to Washington after an absence of 14 years spent fighting for his country, the only man who is to be sent to the airport by the White House to greet him is General Vaughan.

No more studied way of belittling the visit of General MacArthur could have been dreamed up at the White House. If this is a sample of the political judgment of the President or of his advisers, it indicates that the poor strategy which led to the peremptory firing of MacArthur has not been followed by any better understanding of the public temper.

There were half a dozen ways by which the President could have relieved General MacArthur of his command. There were many ways by which the split in this country could have been avoided. But what is much worse is that the Democratic party in Congress has lined up solidly against General MacArthur and in defense of President Truman's arbitrary action. Conversely, the Republicans, seeing the whole thing taking on a political flavor, have themselves lined up in self-defense and in defense of General MacArthur.

Thus has the most important issue before the country—how to prevent a big-scale war—been turned over to political handling. This cannot bring a bipartisan approach to world policy. It cannot bring a united spirit behind any program of the administration. It is about the worst tragedy that could have befallen America.

President Truman must accept full responsibility for the blunder. He did not tell the party leaders in advance what he intended to do or how he intended to do it. He asked opinions from a few of the leaders, to be sure, and indicated that he had to do something. But it was one-man government that finally functioned. One man in the White House, in a sudden decision late last Tuesday, decided to dismiss a general who had served his country well and to announce that decision to the press. One-man government treated with contempt not only the valiant service of a great general but also the principle of affording a hearing to an important official engaged in an important assignment 8,000 miles away from home—a mission of civil as well as military management of an occupied country.

Mr. Truman could have sent for General MacArthur and could have threshed out the differences. If they could not have been resolved, Mr. Truman could have given MacArthur the choice of retiring or of being relieved forthwith.

A false issue is now being trumped up. It is an argument being advanced by the President that MacArthur wants to bring on a large-scale war and that Mr. Truman wants peace. Nothing could be more illustrative of the narrowness of vision that prevails in Washington today. For General MacArthur is sincerely convinced that the proposals he has championed mean peace. Many observers—not in the military establishment—believe an appeasement policy by the President and the Department of State will bring on a third world war with all its horrible consequences.

General MacArthur has been reported as opposing peace-at-any-price. Actually he has not been doing any more than asking for a vigorous prosecution of a war in which 60,000 casualties already have been suffered by the United States—more casualties in nine months than in the first full year of World War II for this country.

The effort to misrepresent MacArthur's position has begun. All the engines of publicity of the administration have been started. The President's gibe at MacArthur at the political dinner Saturday night was the beginning. Already the Democrats are getting ready to turn on the smears. These are sad days for America.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

In the Weekly Freeman of 1886 the following item appeared: "Among the many pretty and convenient accessories and comforts that have been invented for women, it is remarkable that some genius has not introduced a whistle to be used by the fair sex, as a signal to street car drivers or conductors, who never see a woman, unless she stands right under the horses' noses. It is really very amusing to witness her frantic endeavors to attract the attention of those men, as she flings her arms, umbrella and handkerchief or bundle Heavenward, and to watch the utter disgust that comes over her face as he passes her by. These men seem to ignore the fact that the car is for her accommodation at all, and go on as if none were permitted to enter but those who run after it and jump on, without putting them to the inconvenience of stopping. Let us have a ladies' car-whistle a pretty little one of ivory or silver, that can be sold for a small sum, and so give the women a chance. Gold ones would be handsome, attached to the watch chain, and just the thing for those who could afford them."

On March 4, 1886, the Humphrey, Crosby & Ennist store down at the corner of Union avenue and Ferry street in Rondout, N. Y. was having a sale. As most old timers know, today Union avenue is Broadway. I think those names are still on the tall brick building facing Ferry street. The special sale was on men's unlaundried shirts, with reinforced front, all linen bosoms. Warranted New York Mills Muslin, only 55 cents.

Geo. B. Merrit & Co. was down at 161 Strand in Rondout, and at 13 Wall street in Kingston and his adv. advised folks: "It will be of advantage for our people to know that we cut, fit and put up shades, old and new. We sell shades and shading at the lowest prices. Turcoman curtains and curtain poles. We make up and lay carpets in a workmanship manner. We are now receiving our new designs in Ingrain, tapestry Brussels and body Brussels carpets. Also Aracene for embroidering by hand or machine."

I wonder how many folks remember Crosby, Sahler & Co. They had a Rondout and a Kingston store too. Back in their March, 4, 1886 Freeman adv. they advised the people that they had a large assortment of hubs, rims, spokes, and carriage hardware. Also a full stock of rubber coats, of best quality and rubber and leather belting. They also specialized in builders' hardware, like bronzed locks, knobs, butts, etc. In their blacksmith's department they had iron, steel springs, axels, bolts, and blacksmith coal. Also buggy gears of all kinds. Single and double harness, best handmade in the market. And there also you could buy the famous buggy and canopy tops. No doubt their trunks, valises, satchels and English club bags still are being saved in various attics. They also had a full line of Reed and Barton's silverware such as table and pickle castors, napkin rings, butter dishes, etc., guns, powder, caps of the Laflin and Rand Powder Co. brand. Besides they could sell you Rochester show cases and Leonard's horse-shoe iron.

The address of both the senators and the congressman is Washington, D. C.

WON'T SOLVE KOREAN PROBLEM

Basic to the entire dilemma confronting the United States and the UN in the Far East is how to conclude the war in Korea. As that conflict is now being conducted, no one can see any end to it. Soldiers in the field and people at home wonder where we are heading and how long the fighting will last.

The puzzle is not solved by the ouster of General MacArthur—it is only highlighted. In fact, his successor, General Ridgway, declared just a short time ago—"I see no end to the military operations unless there is a political settlement." All this concern is perfectly natural.

We know we and other UN countries are in Korea to resist Red aggression. We are doing that successfully. But we don't know how much of Korea we are supposed to sweep clear of the aggressor.

From the fact our troops are shoving the Communists northward above the 38th Parallel, it's evident our top diplomats and military men don't consider that line a final stopping point. But it's just as plain that with General Ridgway's present force he can't hope to thrust the Chinese and North Korean Reds out of all Korea.

A fresh look at the map shows why. Above Pyongyang, the Red capital, the peninsula constricts to a narrow waist about 100 miles across, which is probably defensible against heavy odds with the force we have. But north of there Korea fans out broadly like the upper half of an hour glass. The border touching Manchuria and Siberia is 500 miles long.

Obviously it is much harder to protect that border than to secure the Korean waist against new Red thrusts. Especially since a defending army could not get at enemy bases enjoying sanctuary behind the Yalu River.

Furthermore, while Red bases thus have a certain immunity, the reverse is true of UN forces. As last fall's headlong retreat showed, an army stretching its supply lines from southern Pusan clear to the Yalu is extremely vulnerable to enemy assault.

These are the basic difficulties which limit the action of UN troops in Korea. Those forces cannot be expected to do a job that is meant for a bigger army. And they cannot be expected to safeguard extended supply lines when they're barred from attacking the enemy's privileged bases.

BASEBALL IN EGYPT

Baseball has been introduced into Egypt. A team of American marines recently played a nine from the faculty of Fouad University. To enlighten the wide-eyed audience, an explanatory leaflet was distributed at the gate, and a running description in Arabic was given through a loudspeaker.

It is hard for Americans to understand why baseball has not taken abroad. Japan is almost the only foreign country where it has been really popular. The tours of American teams to England and the Continent have failed to make converts. In view of this lack of appeal elsewhere, we probably need not look forward, despite a show of interest in Egypt, to the time when the Pyramid Stonemasons meet the Sphinx Athletics.

VESTED INTEREST IN ERROR

One of the unnoted phases of the MacArthur dismissal is the danger that he faced from a Russian lend-lease policy that could have made our position in the Pacific untenable. This has to do with a lend-lease operation by which the Russians plannned to provide the Chinese Communists with a jet-propelled armament and a large submarine force.

It was the United States that established it as proper international procedure for a neutral nation to supply a belligerent with armaments in time of war and yet remain neutral. This was done in 1940, when the United States exchanged American destroyers for bases in British territory. By this transaction, the United States, a neutral, assisted Great Britain, a belligerent. In Lord Lothian's letter, dated September 2, 1940, the British leased us some bases "freely and without consideration," while in Cordell Hull's letter of the same date, appears:

"In consideration of the declarations above quoted, the government of the United States will immediately transfer to His Majesty's government 50 United States Navy destroyers generally referred to as the 12 hundred-ton type. . . ."

The lend-lease act was passed on March 11, 1941. The United States did not become a belligerent by act of Congress until December 8, 1941. Therefore, at the time of the passage of the lend-lease act, the United States was neutral. In World War I, the United States took the position as a neutral, she would sell her wares to any belligerent that could come here to get them and could pay for them.

However, in World War II, President Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins devised a novelty which made it possible for a neutral nation to supply a belligerent and yet remain neutral. The exact words of this law are important at this stage:

"(1) To manufacture in arsenals, factories, and shipyards under their jurisdiction, or otherwise procure, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress, or both, any defense article for the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States.

"(2) To sell, transfer title to, exchange, lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of, to any such government any defense article. . . ."

Few restrictions were placed upon the President:

"(b) The terms and conditions upon which any such foreign government receives any aid authorized under subsection (a) shall be those which the President deems satisfactory, and the benefit to the United States may be payment or repayment in kind or property, or any other direct or indirect benefit which the President deems satisfactory."

Under the terms of the American lend-lease act, it is permissible for Soviet Russia to remain neutral in our Korean war, yet to supply Soviet China with all the arms required, including jet-propelled planes and submarines. In fact, the United States has no grounds for protesting even the employment of Russian experts by the Chinese Communists in the war against the United States. For this is what the lend-lease act has to say on this subject:

"(3) To test, inspect, prove, repair, outfit, recondition, or otherwise to place in good working order, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress or both, any defense article for any such government, or to procure any or all such services by private contract."

General Douglas MacArthur, as commander of Americans in war—even if they are called United Nations troops, they are Americans—recognized the danger to his men and the untenability of our position if Russia, as a neutral, could lend-lease jet-propelled planes and submarines to the Chinese, who could thus bottle up our fleet and destroy our men, particularly were we caught in a simultaneous action in Asia and Europe. This he tried to convey to the authorities in Washington without success. His letter to Congressman Joe Martin brought the problem into the open.

Old-fashioned international lawyers followed the precedents which had been developed by experience over the centuries. The innovators during the New Deal abhorred precedents and established new procedures, which, in themselves, have become precedents. This one is blowing up in our faces at this moment. In the MacArthur controversy, this is an important factor.

That Body of Yours

ANXIETY NEUROSIS

During and after World War I, medical officers were finding many cases of rapid heartbeat, rapid and sometimes difficult breathing, fear or anxiety, lack of ability to do mental and physical work. With assurance, after careful examination, that no organic disease was causing these symptoms, most of the patients recovered. This ailment is called neurocirculatory asthenia, which means weakness of the nerves and general nervous system. It can and does affect all the various systems of the body: circulation, respiration, heart and blood vessels, digestive and others.

Some months ago I reported a follow-up study after 20 years of 173 patients reported by Harvard physicians Dr. Edwin O. Wheeler, Paul D. White, Eleanor W. Reed and Mandel E. Cohen. Patients were located by search by telephone and street directories, alumni and professional lists, files of licenses and records of divorce and death in 44 states and by friendly physicians and radio stations.

This follow-up showed that while all the symptoms were present, they did not significantly interfere with the patient's work or social or family life nor did they cause death.

One of these physicians, Dr. Mandel E. Cohen, in Medical Clinics of North America, summarizes present knowledge of this disorder, the chief symptoms of which are breathlessnes, pounding of heart, nervousness, irritability, chest discomfort, tiredness and spells of dizziness, faintness or anxiety attacks. Patients may complain of choking and smothering spells, rapid heart beat, pain in chest, nervousness, "heart trouble." These patients also complain of headaches, blurred vision and giddiness, and all complain of difficult breathing.

What can be done to help these patients, civilian as well as members of the armed forces?

Dr. Cohen says that there is no specific treatment. "Management should include serious consideration of the patient's condition, medical examination, reassurance and removal of factors that bring on attacks such as unnecessary forms of treatment, frightening diagnoses, and the use of too many drugs, unnecessary operations and too much psychotherapy (treatment of mental and emotional disturbances)."

Although neurocirculatory asthenia (anxiety neurosis, heart neurosis, effort syndrone, neurasthenia) may not shorten the life span, it is a mental and emotional hazard.

Neurosis

Believing you have an ailment when none exists is a neurosis and is becoming increasingly common. Write today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." Facing the Danger With Magnificent Fortitude

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — In private caucuses congressional Republicans haven't been quite as outspoken for General MacArthur, or against President Truman—as in their public statements. Some have feared the MacArthur issue, unless carefully handled, might backfire and give the public the impression that Republican chiefs favor a third World War.

Congressman A. L. (Doc) Miller of Nebraska warned of this at the first caucus of House Republicans.

"We must not leave ourselves open to Democratic charges that we are subscribing to a war policy by defending MacArthur," Miller cautioned. "In inviting the general back here, it should be made clear that we are not necessarily confirming his policy on the Far East until we have heard his story."

Congressman Fred Coudert of New York seconded Miller, as did several others, including Congressman Jack Javits of New York.

"The American people," Javits cautioned, "have a right to hear MacArthur's side of his conflict with Truman and it is right that we should invite him to Washington to express himself. At the same time I think we ought to make it clear that we Republicans do not approve of military leaders dictating to civilian authorities."

No Impeachment

At another closed-door conference with the House GOP Policy Committee, Joe Martin also rejected the idea of trying to impeach the President.

"We don't have the votes," explained the ex-speaker. "Anyway, it might be difficult to prove illegality in the President's removal of a field commander."

However, some Republicans have expressed concern lest MacArthur himself be subject to court-martial if in his speech in Washington he strongly assails his commander-in-chief and the government's Far East policy—and contributes to national disunity by so doing.

They don't believe the Truman administration would have the courage to initiate such a court-martial, however. Also Rep. John Vorys of Ohio, rated an authority on constitutional law, thinks Mac Arthur can speak out with impunity.

'No-Night-Owl' Vinson

Georgia's gruff Congressman Carl Vinson got the first news of MacArthur's ouster in a 1 a. m. phone call from General Bradley.

As chaiman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, Vinson is handled with kid gloves by the brass hats. He has important legislative power over their policies, so Bradley wanted to be sure Vinson got the MacArthur news before reading it in the papers.

At 1 a. m., therefore, Bradley roused Congressman Vinson out of bed.

"This is General Bradley," he said. "I have called to tell you that Truman has just removed General MacArthur from command. I'll read you his statement."

"Nobody will read me a statement this time of night," interdupted the congressman from Georgia.

Then half apologetically he mumbled: "That's fine, that's fine. Thank you, general. Good night."

McCarthy vs. MacArthur

Most vociferous champion of General MacArthur in the current controversy has been a certain senator from Wisconsin. He has claimed that the President's firing of MacArthur was influenced by midnight "bourbon and benedictine," at a time when Mr. Truman didn't know any better.

However, here is a letter by the same senator from Wisconsin, addressed to the people of Wisconsin on March 31, 1948, when General MacArthur was running for president of the United States in the Wisconsin GOP primary, and when this senator felt that the most effective way to stop MacArthur was to play up his divorce and his age.

The letter, mimeographed and sent out by the thousands—not at midnight and apparently not under the influence of bourbon and benedictine — was addressed: "Dear folks." It read:

"General MacArthur has been a great general. But he is now ready for retirement. He would be 72 years old before a term as president ended. Twice before we have had presidents who became physically weakened during their term of office and both times it had very sad results for our country . . .

"On returning to Wisconsin I notice that hundreds of big campaign billboards tell the people to support the general because he is a native son of Wisconsin. The Hearst papers, which are booming the general's candidacy, refer to him as the 'Wisconsin-born general.' This is not true.

"The general was born in Little Rock, Arkansas, on January 26, 1880, and not in Wisconsin. He is not listed on any poll list as a voter in Wisconsin. Neither his first nor his second marriage, or his divorce, took place in Wisconsin. He was first married in Florida to Mrs. Walter Brooks of Baltimore, who now lives in Washington, D. C. After she divorced him in Reno, Nevada, he was remarried in New York city. Neither wife ever resided or voted in Wisconsin. In a sworn marriage application for his second marriage he did not claim Wisconsin as his residence, but gave Manila as his residence and Baltimore, Maryland, as the domicile of his former marriage."

That letter was signed by the vigorous current champion of General MacArthur—Joseph R. McCarthy.

Truman's Poor Timing

Administration leaders on Capitol Hill have been privately grousing that the President might have timed his firing of General MacArthur better—or at least might stop cussing out senators on the telephone during the MacArthur debate.

Though agreeing with the President on the basic issue, they feel the MacArthur dismissal couldn't have come at a more inappropriate time. As a result of the Kefauver crime hearings and the Fulbright RFC investigation, plus Truman's letter-writing, Democratic prestige has been at its lowest ebb.

However, White House advisers indicate that a long overdue cleanup is now in the works—the first step being the exit of Mrs. Merl Young, the White House secretary of mink-coat fame. Next on the list will be Donald Dawson who figured in the RFC hearings — unless Dawson clears himself in early testimony.

Note — Meanwhile shrewd Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma has endeared himself to the President for life by jumping in when almost no other senator had the nerve to tangle with General MacArthur. Last year the President vetoed Kerr's natural gas bill. Speculation is that maybe next time it won't be vetoed.

MacArthur Affair Has Split Nation, and This Transcends Issues

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 17—President Truman has split America. He has stirred up such dissension and division among the American people that the disunity which prevails today transcends in importance even the issues which led to his dismissal of General MacArthur.

From all over the country the evidence is piling up that Mr. Truman has stirred up bitterness such as has not been noted since the days before the Civil War. The emotional reaction to the dismissal of General MacArthur has not been lessened by the strangely partisan behavior that has developed in Congress itself.

Thus, the Democrats at first resented the idea of a joint meeting to hear General MacArthur. Only upon further reflection did they decide to go along with plans to welcome the general.

Then came the sniping and the innuendoes. Mr. Truman, who told the Democrats gathered at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner last Saturday night to put the national interest above personal interest, promptly disregarded his own political impulses and started off another wave of bitterness by his innuendo against General MacArthur.

Within the last 24 hours another incident has brought more irritation. It has been announced that, when General MacArthur returns to Washington after an absence of 14 years spent fighting for his country, the only man who is to be sent to the airport by the White House to greet him is General Vaughan.

No more studied way of belittling the visit of General MacArthur could have been dreamed up at the White House. If this is a sample of the political judgment of the President or of his advisers, it indicates that the poor strategy which led to the peremptory firing of MacArthur has not been followed by any better understanding of the public temper.

There were half a dozen ways by which the President could have relieved General MacArthur of his command. There were many ways by which the split in this country could have been avoided. But what is much worse is that the Democratic party in Congress has lined up solidly against General MacArthur and in defense of President Truman's arbitrary action. Conversely, the Republicans, seeing the whole thing taking on a political flavor, have themselves lined up in self-defense and in defense of General MacArthur.

Thus has the most important issue before the country—how to prevent a big-scale war—been turned over to political handling. This cannot bring a bipartisan approach to world policy. It cannot bring a united spirit behind any program of the administration. It is about the worst tragedy that could have befallen America.

President Truman must accept full responsibility for the blunder. He did not tell the party leaders in advance what he intended to do or how he intended to do it. He asked opinions from a few of the leaders, to be sure, and indicated that he had to do something. But it was one-man government that finally functioned. One man in the White House, in a sudden decision late last Tuesday, decided to dismiss a general who had served his country well and to announce that decision to the press. One-man government treated with contempt not only the valiant service of a great general but also the principle of affording a hearing to an important official engaged in an important assignment 8,000 miles away from home—a mission of civil as well as military management of an occupied country.

Mr. Truman could have sent for General MacArthur and could have threshed out the differences. If they could not have been resolved, Mr. Truman could have given MacArthur the choice of retiring or of being relieved forthwith.

A false issue is now being trumped up. It is an argument being advanced by the President that MacArthur wants to bring on a large-scale war and that Mr. Truman wants peace. Nothing could be more illustrative of the narrowness of vision that prevails in Washington today. For General MacArthur is sincerely convinced that the proposals he has championed mean peace. Many observers—not in the military establishment—believe an appeasement policy by the President and the Department of State will bring on a third world war with all its horrible consequences.

General MacArthur has been reported as opposing peace-at-any-price. Actually he has not been doing any more than asking for a vigorous prosecution of a war in which 60,000 casualties already have been suffered by the United States—more casualties in nine months than in the first full year of World War II for this country.

The effort to misrepresent MacArthur's position has begun. All the engines of publicity of the administration have been started. The President's gibe at MacArthur at the political dinner Saturday night was the beginning. Already the Democrats are getting ready to turn on the smears. These are sad days for America.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

In the Weekly Freeman of 1886 the following item appeared: "Among the many pretty and convenient accessories and comforts that have been invented for women, it is remarkable that some genius has not introduced a whistle to be used by the fair sex, as a signal to street car drivers or conductors, who never see a woman, unless she stands right under the horses' noses. It is really very amusing to witness her frantic endeavors to attract the attention of those men, as she flings her arms, umbrella and handkerchief or bundle Heavenward, and to watch the utter disgust that comes over her face as he passes her by. These men seem to ignore the fact that the car is for her accommodation at all, and go on as if none were permitted to enter but those who run after it and jump on, without putting them to the inconvenience of stopping. Let us have a ladies' car-whistle a pretty little one of ivory or silver, that can be sold for a small sum, and so give the women a chance. Gold ones would be handsome, attached to the watch chain, and just the thing for those who could afford them."

On March 4, 1886, the Humphrey, Crosby & Ennist store down at the corner of Union avenue and Ferry street in Rondout, N. Y. was having a sale. As most old timers know, today Union avenue is Broadway. I think those names are still on the tall brick building facing Ferry street. The special sale was on men's unlaundried shirts, with reinforced front, all linen bosoms. Warranted New York Mills Muslin, only 55 cents.

Geo. B. Merrit & Co. was down at 161 Strand in Rondout, and at 13 Wall street in Kingston and his adv. advised folks: "It will be of advantage for our people to know that we cut, fit and put up shades, old and new. We sell shades and shading at the lowest prices. Turcoman curtains and curtain poles. We make up and lay carpets in a workmanship manner. We are now receiving our new designs in Ingrain, tapestry Brussels and body Brussels carpets. Also Aracene for embroidering by hand or machine."

I wonder how many folks remember Crosby, Sahler & Co. They had a Rondout and a Kingston store too. Back in their March, 4, 1886 Freeman adv. they advised the people that they had a large assortment of hubs, rims, spokes, and carriage hardware. Also a full stock of rubber coats, of best quality and rubber and leather belting. They also specialized in builders' hardware, like bronzed locks, knobs, butts, etc., In their blacksmith's department they had iron, steel springs, axels, bolts, and blacksmith coal. Also buggy gears of all kinds. Single and double harness, best handmade in the market. And there also you could buy the famous buggy and canopy tops. No doubt their trunks, valises, satchels and English club bags still are being saved in various attics. They also had a full line of Reed and Barton's silverware such as table and pickle castors, napkin rings, butter dishes, etc., guns, powder, caps of the Laflin and Rand Powder Co. brand. Besides they could sell you Rochester show cases and Leonard's horse-shoe iron.

VESTED INTEREST IN ERROR

One of the unnoted phases of the MacArthur dismissal is the danger that he faced from a Russian lend-lease policy that could have made our position in the Pacific untenable. This has to do with a lend-lease operation by which the Russians plannned to provide the Chinese Communists with a jet-propelled armament and a large submarine force.

It was the United States that established it as proper international procedure for a neutral nation to supply a belligerent with armaments in time of war and yet remain neutral. This was done in 1940, when the United States exchanged American destroyers for bases in British territory. By this transaction, the United States, a neutral, assisted Great Britain, a belligerent. In Lord Lothian's letter, dated September 2, 1940, the British leased us some bases "freely and without consideration," while in Cordell Hull's letter of the same date, appears:

"In consideration of the declarations above quoted, the government of the United States will immediately transfer to His Majesty's government 50 United States Navy destroyers generally referred to as the 12 hundred-ton type. . . ."

The lend-lease act was passed on March 11, 1941. The United States did not become a belligerent by act of Congress until December 8, 1941. Therefore, at the time of the passage of the lend-lease act, the United States was neutral. In World War I, the United States took the position as a neutral, she would sell her wares to any belligerent that could come here to get them and could pay for them.

However, in World War II, President Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins devised a novelty which made it possible for a neutral nation to supply a belligerent and yet remain neutral. The exact words of this law are important at this stage:

"(1) To manufacture in arsenals, factories, and shipyards under their jurisdiction, or otherwise procure, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress, or both, any defense article for the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States.

"(2) To sell, transfer title to, exchange, lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of, to any such government any defense article. . . ."

Few restrictions were placed upon the President:

"(b) The terms and conditions upon which any such foreign government receives any aid authorized under subsection (a) shall be those which the President deems satisfactory, and the benefit to the United States may be payment or repayment in kind or property, or any other direct or indirect benefit which the President deems satisfactory."

Under the terms of the American lend-lease act, it is permissible for Soviet Russia to remain neutral in our Korean war, yet to supply Soviet China with all the arms required, including jet-propelled planes and submarines. In fact, the United States has no grounds for protesting even the employment of Russian experts by the Chinese Communists in the war against the United States. For this is what the lend-lease act has to say on this subject:

"(3) To test, inspect, prove, repair, outfit, recondition, or otherwise to place in good working order, to the extent to which funds are made available therefor, or contracts are authorized from time to time by the Congress or both, any defense article for any such government, or to procure any or all such services by private contract."

General Douglas MacArthur, as commander of Americans in war—even if they are called United Nations troops, they are Americans—recognized the danger to his men and the untenability of our position if Russia, as a neutral, could lend-lease jet-propelled planes and submarines to the Chinese, who could thus bottle up our fleet and destroy our men, particularly were we caught in a simultaneous action in Asia and Europe. This he tried to convey to the authorities in Washington without success. His letter to Congressman Joe Martin brought the problem into the open.

Old-fashioned international lawyers followed the precedents which had been developed by experience over the centuries. The innovators during the New Deal abhorred precedents and established new procedures, which, in themselves, have become precedents. This one is blowing up in our faces at this moment. In the MacArthur controversy, this is an important factor.

That Body of Yours

ANXIETY NEUROSIS

During and after World War I, medical officers were finding many cases of rapid heartbeat, rapid and sometimes difficult breathing, fear or anxiety, lack of ability to do mental and physical work. With assurance, after careful examination, that no organic disease was causing these symptoms, most of the patients recovered. This ailment is called neurocirculatory asthenia, which means weakness of the nerves and general nervous system. It can and does affect all the various systems of the body: circulation, respiration, heart and blood vessels, digestive and others.

Some months ago I reported a follow-up study after 20 years of 173 patients reported by Harvard physicians Dr. Edwin O. Wheeler, Paul D. White, Eleanor W. Reed and Mandel E. Cohen. Patients were located by search by telephone and street directories, alumni and professional lists, files of licenses and records of divorce and death in 44 states and by friendly physicians and radio stations.

This follow-up showed that while all the symptoms were present, they did not significantly interfere with the patient's work or social or family life nor did they cause death.

One of these physicians, Dr. Mandel E. Cohen, in Medical Clinics of North America, summarizes present knowledge of this disorder, the chief symptoms of which are breathlessnes, pounding of heart, nervousness, irritability, chest discomfort, tiredness and spells of dizziness, faintness or anxiety attacks. Patients may complain of choking and smothering spells, rapid heart beat, pain in chest, nervousness, "heart trouble." These patients also complain of headaches, blurred vision and giddiness, and all complain of difficult breathing.

What can be done to help these patients, civilian as well as members of the armed forces?

Dr. Cohen says that there is no specific treatment. "Management should include serious consideration of the patient's condition, medical examination, reassurance and removal of factors that bring on attacks such as unnecessary forms of treatment, frightening diagnoses, and the use of too many drugs, unnecessary operations and too much psychotherapy (treatment of mental and emotional disturbances)."

Although neurocirculatory asthenia (anxiety neurosis, heart neurosis, effort syndrone, neurasthenia) may not shorten the life span, it is a mental and emotional hazard.

Facing the Danger With Magnificent Fortitude

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — In private caucuses congressional Republicans haven't been quite as outspoken for General MacArthur, or against President Truman—as in their public statements. Some have feared the MacArthur issue, unless carefully handled, might backfire and give the public the impression that Republican chiefs favor a third World War.

Congressman A. L. (Doc) Miller of Nebraska warned of this at the first caucus of House Republicans.

"We must not leave ourselves open to Democratic charges that we are subscribing to a war policy by defending MacArthur," Miller cautioned. "In inviting the general back here, it should be made clear that we are not necessarily confirming his policy on the Far East until we have heard his story."

Congressman Fred Coudert of New York seconded Miller, as did several others, including Congressman Jack Javits of New York.

"The American people," Javits cautioned, "have a right to hear MacArthur's side of his conflict with Truman and it is right that we should invite him to Washington to express himself. At the same time I think we ought to make it clear that we Republicans do not approve of military leaders dictating to civilian authorities."

No Impeachment

At another closed-door conference with the House GOP Policy Committee, Joe Martin also rejected the idea of trying to impeach the President.

"We don't have the votes," explained the ex-speaker. "Anyway, It might be difficult to prove illegality in the President's removal of a field commander."

However, some Republicans have expressed concern lest MacArthur himself be subject to court-martial if in his speech in Washington he strongly assails his commander-in-chief and the government's Far East policy—and contributes to national disunity by so doing.

They don't believe the Truman administration would have the courage to initiate such a court-martial, however. Also Rep. John Vorys of Ohio, rated an authority on constitutional law, thinks Mac Arthur can speak out with impunity.

'No-Night-Owl' Vinson

Georgia's gruff Congressman Carl Vinson got the first news of MacArthur's ouster in a 1 a. m. phone call from General Bradley.

As chaiman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, Vinson is handled with kid gloves by the brass hats. He has important legislative power over their policies, so Bradley wanted to be sure Vinson got the MacArthur news before reading it in the papers.

At 1 a. m., therefore, Bradley roused Congressman Vinson out of bed.

"This is General Bradley," he said. "I have called to tell you that Truman has just removed General MacArthur from command. I'll read you his statement."

"Nobody will read me a statement this time of night," interdupted the congressman from Georgia.

Then half apologetically he mumbled: "That's fine, that's fine. Thank you, general. Good night."

McCarthy vs. MacArthur

Most vociferous champion of General MacArthur in the current controversy has been a certain senator from Wisconsin. He has claimed that the President's firing of MacArthur was influenced by midnight "bourbon and benedictine," at a time when Mr. Truman didn't know any better.

However, here is a letter by the same senator from Wisconsin, addressed to the people of Wisconsin on March 31, 1948, when General MacArthur was running for president of the United States in the Wisconsin GOP primary, and when this senator felt that the most effective way to stop MacArthur was to play up his divorce and his age.

The letter, mimeographed and sent out by the thousands—not at midnight and apparently not under the influence of bourbon and benedictine — was addressed: "Dear folks." It read:

"General MacArthur has been a great general. But he is now ready for retirement. He would be 72 years old before a term as president ended. Twice before we have had presidents who became physically weakened during their term of office and both times it had very sad results for our country . . .

"On returning to Wisconsin I notice that hundreds of big campaign billboards tell the people to support the general because he is a native son of Wisconsin. The Hearst papers, which are booming the general's candidacy, refer to him as the 'Wisconsin-born general.' This is not true.

"The general was born in Little Rock, Arkansas, on January 26, 1880, and not in Wisconsin. He is not listed on any poll list as a voter in Wisconsin. Neither his first nor his second marriage, or his divorce, took place in Wisconsin. He was first married in Florida to Mrs. Walter Brooks of Baltimore, who now lives in Washington, D. C. After she divorced him in Reno, Nevada, he was remarried in New York city. Neither wife ever resided or voted in Wisconsin. In a sworn marriage application for his second marriage he did not claim Wisconsin as his residence, but gave Manila as his residence and Baltimore, Maryland, as the domicile of his former marriage."

That letter was signed by the vigorous current champion of General MacArthur—Joseph R. McCarthy.

Truman's Poor Timing

Administration leaders on Capitol Hill have been privately grousing that the President might have timed his firing of General MacArthur better—or at least might stop cussing out senators on the telephone during the MacArthur debate.

Though agreeing with the President on the basic issue, they feel the MacArthur dismissal couldn't have come at a more inappropriate time. As a result of the Kefauver crime hearings and the Fulbright RFC investigation, plus Truman's letter-writing, Democratic prestige has been at its lowest ebb.

However, White House advisers indicate that a long overdue cleanup is now in the works—the first step being the exit of Mrs. Merl Young, the White House secretary of mink-coat fame. Next on the list will be Donald Dawson who figured in the RFC hearings -- unless Dawson clears himself in early testimony.

Note — Meanwhile shrewd Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma has endeared himself to the President for life by jumping in when almost no other senator had the nerve to tangle with General MacArthur. Last year the President vetoed Kerr's natural gas bill. Speculation is that maybe next time it won't be vetoed.

Today in Washington

MacArthur Affair Has Split Nation, and This Transcends Issues

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 17—President Truman has split America. He has stirred up such dissension and division among the American people that the disunity which prevails today transcends in importance even the issues which led to his dismissal of General MacArthur.

From all over the country the evidence is piling up that Mr. Truman has stirred up bitterness such as has not been noted since the days before the Civil War. The emotional reaction to the dismissal of General MacArthur has not been lessened by the strangely partisan behavior that has developed in Congress itself.

Thus, the Democrats at first resented the idea of a joint meeting to hear General MacArthur. Only upon further reflection did they decide to go along with plans to welcome the general.

Then came the sniping and the innuendoes. Mr. Truman, who told the Democrats gathered at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner last Saturday night to put the national interest above personal interest, promptly disregarded his own political impulses and started off another wave of bitterness by his innuendo against General MacArthur.

Within the last 24 hours another incident has brought more irritation. It has been announced that, when General MacArthur returns to Washington after an absence of 14 years spent fighting for his country, the only man who is to be sent to the airport by the White House to greet him is General Vaughan.

No more studied way of belittling the visit of General MacArthur could have been dreamed up at the White House. If this is a sample of the political judgment of the President or of his advisers, it indicates that the poor strategy which led to the peremptory firing of MacArthur has not been followed by any better understanding of the public temper.

There were half a dozen ways by which the President could have relieved General MacArthur of his command. There were many ways by which the split in this country could have been avoided. But what is much worse is that the Democratic party in Congress has lined up solidly against General MacArthur and in defense of President Truman's arbitrary action. Conversely, the Republicans, seeing the whole thing taking on a political flavor, have themselves lined up in self-defense and in defense of General MacArthur.

Thus has the most important issue before the country—how to prevent a big-scale war—been turned over to political handling. This cannot bring a bipartisan approach to world policy. It cannot bring a united spirit behind any program of the administration. It is about the worst tragedy that could have befallen America.

President Truman must accept full responsibility for the blunder. He did not tell the party leaders in advance what he intended to do or how he intended to do it. He asked opinions from a few of the leaders, to be sure, and indicated that he had to do something. But it was one-man government that finally functioned. One man in the White House, in a sudden decision late last Tuesday, decided to dismiss a general who had served his country well and to announce that decision to the press. One-man government treated with contempt not only the valiant service of a great general but also the principle of affording a hearing to an important official engaged in an important assignment 8,000 miles away from home—a mission of civil as well as military management of an occupied country.

Mr. Truman could have sent for General MacArthur and could have threshed out the differences. If they could not have been resolved, Mr. Truman could have given MacArthur the choice of retiring or of being relieved forthwith.

A false issue is now being trumped up. It is an argument being advanced by the President that MacArthur wants to bring on a large-scale war and that Mr. Truman wants peace. Nothing could be more illustrative of the narrowness of vision that prevails in Washington today. For General MacArthur is sincerely convinced that the proposals he has championed mean peace. Many observers—not in the military establishment—believe an appeasement policy by the President and the Department of State will bring on a third world war with all its horrible consequences.

General MacArthur has been reported as opposing peace-at-any-price. Actually he has not been doing any more than asking for a vigorous prosecution of a war in which 60,000 casualties already have been suffered by the United States—more casualties in nine months than in the first full year of World War II for this country.

The effort to misrepresent MacArthur's position has begun. All the engines of publicity of the administration have been started. The President's gibe at MacArthur at the political dinner Saturday night was the beginning. Already the Democrats are getting ready to turn on the smears. These are sad days for America.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

In the Weekly Freeman of 1886 the following item appeared: "Among the many pretty and convenient accessories and comforts that have been invented for women, it is remarkable that some genius has not introduced a whistle to be used by the fair sex, as a signal to street car drivers or conductors, who never see a woman, unless she stands right under the horses' noses. It is really very amusing to witness her frantic endeavors to attract the attention of those men, as she flings her arms, umbrella and handkerchief or bundle Heavenward, and to watch the utter disgust that comes over her face as he passes her by. These men seem to ignore the fact that the car is for her accommodation at all, and go on as if none were permitted to enter but those who run after it and jump on, without putting them to the inconvenience of stopping. Let us have a ladies' car-whistle a pretty little one of ivory or silver, that can be sold for a small sum, and so give the women a chance. Gold ones would be handsome, attached to the watch chain, and just the thing for those who could afford them."

On March 4, 1886, the Humphrey, Crosby & Ennist store down at the corner of Union avenue and Ferry street in Rondout, N. Y. was having a sale. As most old timers know, today Union avenue is Broadway. I think those names are still on the tall brick building facing Ferry street. The special sale was on men's unlaundried shirts, with reinforced front, all linen bosoms. Warranted New York Mills Muslin, only 55 cents.

Geo. B. Merrit & Co. was down at 161 Strand in Rondout, and at 13 Wall street in Kingston and his adv. advised folks: "It will be of advantage for our people to know that we cut, fit and put up shades, old and new. We sell shades and shading at the lowest prices. Turcoman curtains and curtain poles. We make up and lay carpets in a workmanship manner. We are now receiving our new designs in Ingrain, tapestry Brussels and body Brussels carpets. Also Aracene for embroidering by hand or machine."

I wonder how many folks remember Crosby, Sahler & Co. They had a Rondout and a Kingston store too. Back in their March, 4, 1886 Freeman adv. they advised the people that they had a large assortment of hubs, rims, spokes, and carriage hardware. Also a full stock of rubber coats, of best quality and rubber and leather belting. They also specialized in builders' hardware, like bronzed locks, knobs, butts, etc., In their blacksmith's department they had iron, steel springs, axels, bolts, and blacksmith coal. Also buggy gears of all kinds. Single and double harness, best handmade in the market. And there also you could buy the famous buggy and canopy tops. No doubt their trunks, valises, satchels and English club bags still are being saved in various attics. They also had a full line of Reed and Barton's silverware such as table and pickle castors, napkin rings, butter dishes, etc., guns, powder, caps of the Laflin and Rand Powder Co. brand. Besides they could sell you Rochester show cases and Leonard's horse-shoe iron.

Thompson Shows Gain Hope Is He Knows Assailant

A marked improvement in the condition of John Thompson, 59, of Woodstock this morning gave authorities reason to hope he might be able to furnish some identification of the person who beat him severely about the head and apparently robbed him of an estimated $200 sometime Friday night or Saturday.

Thompson last night was able to recognize his wife, state police were told, and this morning authorities at Kingston Hospital said his condition was "apparently a little better." Up to a late hour this morning, however, he was unable to talk.

Suffering skull fractures and lacerations which state police believe were inflicted with a blood stained hatchet found in a waste basket, Thompson was found unconscious in his bed near Sully's Bridge in Woodstock on Saturday evening. His empty wallet was found near the bed.

Hope for 'Break'

Investigation by state police and District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, meanwhile, continued at a fast pace. Several persons have been questioned, and at least one other person is being sought over a wide area for questioning. Details, however, were withheld because of possible interference with an early "break" in the case.

Jittery area residents have been assured that the "No. 1 suspect" is no longer in the immediate vicinity of Woodstock, it was learned.

Two Arrested

Numerous calls reporting prowlers and suspected prowlers have been received since the Thompson assault became known. Several of these calls resulted in the arrest by Deputy Sheriff Earl Conro Monday noon of a man and a woman who reportedly were staying in the woods near Phoenicia and begging food from residents.

Frederick Trombley, 45, and Anna Boyea, alias Anna Trombley, 35, formerly of Roseton, were arraigned on charges of violation of Section 887A, Code of Criminal Procedure (tramp). Trombley, who said he was seeking work in a sawmill, was held for later hearing, while Miss Boyea was sentenced to 15 days in jail by Justice of the Peace Raymond Smith.

Following questioning at the sheriff's office, authorities apparently established that there was no implication on the part of either in the assault on Thompson, and no charges were placed against them in that connection.

Bradley Declares

government officials. In ousting MacArthur from the Far East command, Mr. Truman cited disregard of that order as a reason for the action.

In places, Bradley's viewpoint on the situation was the same as MacArthur's. He disagreed on what to do about it.

Bradley made it plain that "I have no intention of entering the foreign policy field or even urging a particular policy in the conduct of foreign affairs. Conduct of foreign affairs is a civilian responsibility . . ."

Strategic Perils

But, he added, "a soldier can often see strategic perils the layman might overlook. It is fundamental that our foreign policy must be based upon our military capabilities to back it up."

Bradley agreed with MacArthur's recently expressed view that the war in Korea may be headed for a stalemate. The joint chiefs chairman declared:

"There is no early end in sight to the Korean war under present conditions. As far as we can see now there is nothing transitory, nothing temporary about the Communists' determination to drive us out of Korea, and, if possible, to destroy our forces completely."

MacArthur recommended, in a series of statements and a letter to Rep. Joseph Martin (Mass.), House Republican leader, that the solution is to use Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa to carry the war to the mainland and to bomb Manchurian bases. Bradley said:

"Any recommended course of action which would enlarge the present war is contrary to our best interests, and by jeopardizing world peace, ultimately would threaten our security.

"We will not provoke war against anyone . . . we will not wage a so-called preventive war even against an arch-enemy, for this certainly destroys peace.

"Our military action in Korea is closely related to our North Atlantic treaty efforts in Europe... in collective action we multiply our defensive strength. x x x

"Because we are intent on preventing World War Three, we are not making moves that might lead to enlargement of the present conflict...our government is cautious in every decision that might prolong this conflict. It has been difficult for the men in the field to refrain from attacking the air bases in Manchuria. However, Communist air intervention has not been a factor in the ground (or air) action to date

International Victory

"As we carry out these actions, even though it could possibly result for a time in a military stalemate, we have already achieved an international victory.

"As long as we are able to confine the battles to Korea and continue to destroy the Communist aggressors, we are making progress toward our international objective of preventing World War 3.

"Enlarging the battle to a full-scale war is never an economical or morally acceptable solution to a limited conflict. If at all possible, Korea should be settled on the present battleground.

"If we here at home can only measure up to the achievements of patience and courage (of the men in Korea) there is every reason to believe that the war in Korea can ultimately be concluded on honorable terms..."

Bradley continued:

"Success in Korea may prevent a new incident, and may prevent world War 3. Failure in Korea will invite another aggression."

United States objectives in Korea, he said, are:

1. "To protect and maintain our form of government and our way of life against any challenge. On this point we recognize no limitation of expenditures or of exertion."

2. "To seek peace by every means at our command...but there is one price we will not pay —appeasement."

3. "To assure peace, not only for ourselves, but for all others. For this reason we support the United Nations."

in December. Attacks upon it in the Soviet press indicated the industry was far behind what had been expected of it. There also were shakeups in the timber and paper ministry and the fish industry ministry, among others, and there was strong criticism of the agricultural machine industry and of many branches of light industry.

The indications were that while heavy industrial production was the best in the Soviet Union's history, consumer goods produced by light industry were still insufficient to a great degree and of poor quality, and that such fields as housing and home furnishing were suffering.

The report noted a huge boost in machine production, surpassing 1940 volume by 2.3 times. Tractor production was said to be 3.8 times that of 1940, when 31,000 tractors were produced. This indicates a 1950 output of 117,800 tractors, against a plan target of 112,000. Grain combines were up to 3.6 times the 1940 figure of 10,000.

The report criticized the industry for a lag in the supply of harvesting machinery for cotton, flax, and hemp.

Mississippi Is on Rise

(By The Associated Press)

The rising upper Mississippi river spilled floodwaters into lowland communities in four midwestern states today. Flood workers patroled levees and built and strengthened dikes in preparation for a continued rise. The waters were at a 70-year high in southeastern Minnesota. The south St. Paul stockyards was flooded out of operation for the first time in its history. Several packing plants also closed down. The rushing current, carrying huge ice cakes, battered down a 480-foot section of a wooden trestle and pontoon bridge 75 miles south of St. Paul, forcing the rerouting of a Milwaukee Railroad branch line.

RFC Probe Ordered

Washington, April 17 (AP)—An investigation of whether Congress members have peddled their influence with the RFC was ordered today by the Senate Banking Committee. The action was taken after a closed door discussion of reports President Truman once made and later discontinued charges that some Congress members have received fees for helping applicants for RFC loans. The investigation job was handed to a subcommitte headed by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Moore Refuses to Talk

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Sam Moore, one-time Hollywood radio script writer, refused today to tell House investigators he held a Communist party registration card in 1945. He also balked at answering questions before the House Un-American Activities Committee about the Hollywood Writers Mobilization and other Hollywood groups. head of the conference of all Republican senators, told reporters yesterday the Republicans don't need to sponsor MacArthur's appearances and aren't going to "set ourselves up as manager of his affairs or movements."

Senator Brewster of Main, GOP Policy Committee member, added he feels the congressional investigation ought to be aimed at "fundamental issues of policy."

Fewer the Better

"The fewer personalities that get into it, the better," Brewster told a reporter. "This is not a question of Truman vs. MacArthur, it is a question of how we got into the mess we are in in Korea."

All this seemed aimed at countering Democratic efforts to hang a "war party" label on the Republicans. Some Democrats have argued the GOP is pushing all-out hostilities with Communist China.

Along this line, McMahon said he welcomes an investigation of foreign and military policies, and he added:

"The proposal to make an all-out war on China is one that should be carefully examined * * * let's find out why the isolationists on the European front want an all-out war in the Far East."

MacArthur already has agreed to testify before the Senate Armed Services Committee which launches an inquiry tomorrow into military aspects of the Pacific war controversy. It will hear first from Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Chairman Russell (D.-Ga.) said the committee will hold Thursday afternoon open for MacArthur, if the general wants to appear in a closed session after his address to Congress. It will be up to MacArthur to decide on the timing, Russell said.

Thompson Shows Gain Hope Is He Knows Assailant

A marked improvement in the condition of John Thompson, 59, of Woodstock this morning gave authorities reason to hope he might be able to furnish some identification of the person who beat him severely about the head and apparently robbed him of an estimated $200 sometime Friday night or Saturday.

Thompson last night was able to recognize his wife, state police were told, and this morning authorities at Kingston Hospital said his condition was "apparently a little better." Up to a late hour this morning, however, he was unable to talk.

Suffering skull fractures and lacerations which state police believe were inflicted with a blood stained hatchet found in a waste basket, Thompson was found unconscious in his bed near Sully's Bridge in Woodstock on Saturday evening. His empty wallet was found near the bed.

Hope for 'Break'

Investigation by state police and District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, meanwhile, continued at a fast pace. Several persons have been questioned, and at least one other person is being sought over a wide area for questioning. Details, however, were withheld because of possible interference with an early "break" in the case.

Jittery area residents have been assured that the "No. 1 suspect" is no longer in the immediate vicinity of Woodstock, it was learned.

Two Arrested

Numerous calls reporting prowlers and suspected prowlers have been received since the Thompson assault became known. Several of these calls resulted in the arrest by Deputy Sheriff Earl Conro Monday noon of a man and a woman who reportedly were staying in the woods near Phoenicia and begging food from residents.

Frederick Trombley, 45, and Anna Boyea, alias Anna Trombley, 35, formerly of Roseton, were arraigned on charges of violation of Section 887A, Code of Criminal Procedure (tramp). Trombley, who said he was seeking work in a sawmill, was held for later hearing, while Miss Boyea was sentenced to 15 days in jail by Justice of the Peace Raymond Smith.

Following questioning at the sheriff's office, authorities apparently established that there was no implication on the part of either in the assault on Thompson, and no charges were placed against them in that connection.

SAMSONVILLE

Samsonville, April 16 — Mrs. Mary Moore entertained guests from Bayonne, N. J., over the weekend.

Mrs. Irwin Barringer is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Van Etten visited their son-in-law and family in Walden, and their grandson, Pvt. Roy G. Alsdorf, stationed at Camp Stewart, Ga., who is home on sick leave.

A hot chicken supper will be served by the Willing Workers of Samsonville in the hall April 21. Servings will start at 6 p. m. until all are served, and the public is invited.

Mrs. Earl VanEtten and daughter, Mrs. Joseph Longto of Kingston, called at the home of Mrs. D. C. VanEtten Sunday.

Bradley Declares

government officials. In ousting MacArthur from the Far East command, Mr. Truman cited disregard of that order as a reason for the action.

In places, Bradley's viewpoint on the situation was the same as MacArthur's. He disagreed on what to do about it.

Bradley made it plain that "I have no intention of entering the foreign policy field or even urging a particular policy in the conduct of foreign affairs. Conduct of foreign affairs is a civilian responsibility . . ."

Strategic Perils

But, he added, "a soldier can often see strategic perils the layman might overlook. It is fundamental that our foreign policy must be based upon our military capabilities to back it up."

Bradley agreed with MacArthur's recently expressed view that the war in Korea may be headed for a stalemate. The joint chiefs chairman declared:

"There is no early end in sight to the Korean war under present conditions. As far as we can see now there is nothing transitory, nothing temporary about the Communists' determination to drive us out of Korea, and, if possible, to destroy our forces completely."

MacArthur recommended, in a series of statements and a letter to Rep. Joseph Martin (Mass.), House Republican leader, that the solution is to use Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa to carry the war to the mainland and to bomb Manchurian bases. Bradley said:

"Any recommended course of action which would enlarge the present war is contrary to our best interests, and by jeopardizing world peace, ultimately would threaten our security.

"We will not provoke war against anyone . . . we will not wage a so-called preventive war even against an arch-enemy, for this certainly destroys peace.

"Our military action in Korea is closely related to our North Atlantic treaty efforts in Europe . . . in collective action we multiply our defensive strength. x x x

"Because we are intent on preventing World War Three, we are not making moves that might lead to enlargement of the present conflict . . . our government is cautious in every decision that might prolong this conflict. It has been difficult for the men in the field to refrain from attacking the air bases in Manchuria. However, Communist air intervention has not been a factor in the ground (or air) action to date

"As we carry out these actions, even though it could possibly result for a time in a military stalemate, we have already achieved an international victory.

"As long as we are able to confine the battles to Korea and continue to destroy the Communist aggressors, we are making progress toward our international objective of preventing World War 3.

"Enlarging the battle to a full-scale war is never an economical or morally acceptable solution to a limited conflict. If at all possible, Korea should be settled on the present battleground.

"If we here at home can only measure up to the achievements of patience and courage (of the men in Korea) there is every reason to believe that the war in Korea can ultimately be concluded on honorable terms . . ."

Bradley continued:

"Success in Korea may prevent a new incident, and may prevent world War 3. Failure in Korea will invite another aggression."

United States objectives in Korea, he said, are:

1. "To protect and maintain our form of government and our way of life against any challenge. On this point we recognize no limitation of expenditures or of exertion."

2. "To seek peace by every means at our command . . . but there is one price we will not pay —appeasement."

3. "To assure peace, not only for ourselves, but for all others. For this reason we support the United Nations."

in December. Attacks upon it in the Soviet press indicated the industry was far behind what had been expected of it. There also were shakeups in the timber and paper ministry and the fish industry ministry, among others, and there was strong criticism of the agricultural machine industry and of many branches of light industry.

The indications were that while heavy industrial production was the best in the Soviet Union's history, consumer goods produced by light industry were still insufficient to a great degree and of poor quality, and that such fields as housing and home furnishing were suffering.

The report noted a huge boost in machine production, surpassing 1940 volume by 2.3 times. Tractor production was said to be 3.8 times that of 1940, when 31,000 tractors were produced. This indicates a 1950 output of 117,800 tractors, against a plan target of 112,000. Grain combines were up to 3.6 times the 1940 figure of 10,000.

The report criticized the industry for a lag in the supply of harvesting machinery for cotton, flax, and hemp.

Mississippi Is on Rise

(By The Associated Press)

The rising upper Mississippi river spilled floodwaters into lowland communities in four midwestern states today. Flood workers patroled levees and built and strengthened dikes in preparation for a continued rise. The waters were at a 70-year high in southeastern Minnesota. The south St. Paul stockyards was flooded out of operation for the first time in its history. Several packing plants also closed down. The rushing current, carrying huge ice cakes, battered down a 480-foot section of a wooden trestle and pontoon bridge 75 miles south of St. Paul, forcing the rerouting of a Milwaukee Railroad branch line.

RFC Probe Ordered

Washington, April 17 (AP)—An investigation of whether Congress members have peddled their influence with the RFC was ordered today by the Senate Banking Committee. The action was taken after a closed door discussion of reports President Truman once made and later discontinued charges that some Congress members have received fees for helping applicants for RFC loans. The investigation job was handed to a subcommitte headed by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Moore Refuses to Talk

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Sam Moore, one-time Hollywood radio script writer, refused today to tell House investigators he held a Communist party registration card in 1945. He also balked at answering questions before the House Un-American Activities Committee about the Hollywood Writers Mobilization and other Hollywood groups. In all cases, he contended the answers might tend to incriminate him.

head of the conference of all Republican senators, told reporters yesterday the Republicans don't need to sponsor MacArthur's appearances and aren't going to "set ourselves up as manager of his affairs or movements."

Fewer the Better

"The fewer personalities that get into it, the better," Brewster told a reporter. "This is not a question of Truman vs. MacArthur, it is a question of how we got into the mess we are in in Korea."

All this seemed aimed at countering Democratic efforts to hang a "war party" label on the Republicans. Some Democrats have argued the GOP is pushing all-out hostilities with Communist China.

Along this line, McMahon said he welcomes an investigation of foreign and military policies, and he added:

"The proposal to make an all-out war on China is one that should be carefully examined . . . let's find out why the isolationists on the European front want an all-out war in the Far East."

Chairman Russell (D.-Ga.) said the committee will hold Thursday afternoon open for MacArthur, if the general wants to appear in a closed session after his address to Congress. It will be up to MacArthur to decide on the timing, Russell said.

Mississippi Is on Rise

(By The Associated Press)

The rising upper Mississippi river spilled floodwaters into lowland communities in four midwestern states today. Flood workers patroled levees and built and strengthened dikes in preparation for a continued rise. The waters were at a 70-year high in southeastern Minnesota. The south St. Paul stockyards was flooded out of operation for the first time in its history. Several packing plants also closed down. The rushing current, carrying huge ice cakes, battered down a 480-foot section of a wooden trestle and pontoon bridge 75 miles south of St. Paul, forcing the rerouting of a Milwaukee Railroad branch line.

RFC Probe Ordered

Washington, April 17 (AP)—An investigation of whether Congress members have peddled their influence with the RFC was ordered today by the Senate Banking Committee. The action was taken after a closed door discussion of reports President Truman once made and later discontinued charges that some Congress members have received fees for helping applicants for RFC loans. The investigation job was handed to a subcommitte headed by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Moore Refuses to Talk

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Sam Moore, one-time Hollywood radio script writer, refused today to tell House investigators he held a Communist party registration card in 1945. He also balked at answering questions before the House Un-American Activities Committee about the Hollywood Writers Mobilization and other Hollywood groups. In all cases, he contended the answers might tend to incriminate him.

Democrats Are

head of the conference of all Republican senators, told reporters yesterday the Republicans don't need to sponsor MacArthur's appearances and aren't going to "set ourselves up as manager of his affairs or movements."

Senator Brewster of Main, GOP Policy Committee member, added he feels the congressional investigation ought to be aimed at "fundamental issues of policy."

Fewer the Better

"The fewer personalities that get into it, the better," Brewster told a reporter. "This is not a question of Truman vs. MacArthur, it is a question of how we got into the mess we are in in Korea."

All this seemed aimed at countering Democratic efforts to hang a "war party" label on the Republicans. Some Democrats have argued the GOP is pushing all-out hostilities with Communist China.

Along this line, McMahon said he welcomes an investigation of foreign and military policies, and he added:

"The proposal to make an all-out war on China is one that should be carefully examined * * * let's find out why the isolationists on the European front want an all-out war in the Far East."

MacArthur already has agreed to testify before the Senate Armed Services Committee which launches an inquiry tomorrow into military aspects of the Pacific war controversy. It will hear first from Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Chairman Russell (D.-Ga.) said the committee will hold Thursday afternoon open for MacArthur, if the general wants to appear in a closed session after his address to Congress. It will be up to MacArthur to decide on the timing, Russell said.

Bananas, Still Fruitless

Taipeh, Formosa, April 17 (AP)—Wu Chung-ho was full of bananas —yes, sir: He stowed away in a hold of a banana boat—and slept, breakfasted, dined and supped on bananas from Keelung, Formosa, to Yokohama. But his trip was fruitless; the Japanese shipped him back.

OLD CAPITAL MOTORS, INC.

300 BROADWAY, KINGSTON, N. Y.

Such Popularity Must Be Deserved!

More DELCO heating units were sold this year than any other brand — and we sold more of these GENERAL MOTORS units than we have ever sold in a year before. Which proves that Kingston, like the rest of the country, recognizes top value!

We have used no 'trick' advertising nor have we 'high-pressured' these units into Kingston homes. Our record sales have been the result of friendly over-the-back-fence conversations, where one user tells his neighbor how he solved his heating problems satisfactorily — and economically.

The reputation of the Kingston Coal Company, and of General Motors, make our heating installations worth more than the ordinary installation. Surprisingly enough, they usually cost less than a competitive installation!

Investigate the Delco line! The national emergency probably will curtail oil burner installations later in the year. However, we can, right now, replace your present system immediately. The Delco heating line includes conversion oil burners, oil fired boilers, warm air furnaces, and domestic hot water heaters. These same units are also available for natural gas.

A motorcycle has the power of a car; but it affords its riders no more protection than does a bicycle. When it is driven with the speed of an automobile and an accident occurs, the results are disastrous.

A first-grader down in Birmingham, Albama, came home from school one day and announced excitedly. "They've got a magic record player at our school." "A magic record player?" said his aunt, puzzled. "Yes," the boy explained. "You don't have to plug it into electricity—you don't even need electricity to make it play. All you need to do is wind up a crank!"—Coronet.

Judge—Why did you stick this knife in this man?

Prisoner—I saw the police coming and had to hide it somewhere.

Jimmie—We have a monkey for a pet, but papa gave him away, and I'm awfully sorry.

Friend—Did you love the monkey?

Jimmie—No, but it used to get blamed for everything that went wrong, and now I do.

Here's a safety hint—keep all medicines and cleaning substances in secure containers, out of reach of children, plainly marked as to content, and preferably in locked cabinets.

The judge's expression was not unkind as he leaned over the bench and addressed the mousy little man before him.

Judge—So you're a locksmith? And, pray tell, what was the locksmith doing in a gambling dive when he was arrested?

The prisoner, taking courage, grinned back.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Cue-Bid Shouldn't Tip Off Opponents

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A cue-bid (one that shows control rather than a real suit) often helps the partnership reach the best contract. However, it is important not to make such a bid if it help the enemy more than your side.

In today's hand, for example, East was technically correct in was a near certainty.

When East made a second slam try by bidding four no-trump, South made a cue-bid that was really intelligent. It seemed likely to him (with good reason) that the opponents could make a contract of six clubs except against an opening heart lead. Since he was determined to bid five spades as a sacrifice against five clubs, South could afford to bid five hearts on the way.

After this intelligent bid by South, East and West had to be satisfied with the 100 points they could get by doubling five spades. It was no longer possible for them bidding four spades. He wanted to reach a contract of at least five clubs, and he could honestly show control of the spade suit on the way to that contract. Psychologically, however, his bid was very poor. It warned the opponents that a slam in club was not impossible and that a game contract to bid six clubs with any serious expectation of making that contract.

There would be a different story to tell if East simply bid four clubs instead of making the tactically unsound cue-bid of four spades. South would proceed on to four spades, and East could then go to five clubs. It would seem that he was simply making a sacrifice bid, and his side might well be permitted to play the hand at five clubs—probably doubled.

Even if North ran out to five spades, East might then bid six clubs. Without the cue-bid in hearts, North could be expected to lead a spade; and then West would easily fulfill the slam contract in clubs.

HOME BUREAU

Achievement Day Plans

The Ulster County Home Bureau has announced that its annual Achievement Day will be held Thursday, May 3 at the Municipal auditorium in Saugerties. This is a yearly event which this time coincides with the celebration of National Home Demonstration Week, the theme of which is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." There are two main speakers scheduled to address the women who will assemble from all over the county and bring their friends and neighbors.

Miss Therese Wood, specialist in food and nutrition, will tell of her trip abroad last summer where she had the opportunity to visit homes in England and Denmark. Miss Wood was a delegate from this country to the Associated Country Women of the World, an organization to which all Home Bureau members belong and which is made up of women from thirty-two foreign countries. Miss Wood will show pictures of the countries and homes she visited.

Following a period for lunching the women will reconvene at 1:30 to hear Miss Beth Peterson of the E. I. DuPont De Nemours & Co. discuss and illustrate "From Calico to Nylon." Miss Peterson is a well-known home economist who specialized in textiles, clothing, and home economics education at Iowa State College. She has been a home demonstration agent and a college specialist in Iowa. Miss Peterson is an authority on industrial progress in chemical developments, particularly as they affect the home.

The meeting will open at 10:15 a. m. It is free and the public is welcome.

Additional recognition of National Home Demonstration Week will be taken by units who will have displays of their accomplishments on public view.

Arlene, Tarzan Finally Are Wed in New York

New York, April 17 (AP)—Actress Arlene Dahl and Lex Barker, the movie "Tarzan," were married here last night—but without fanfare.

Only eight persons attended the 11 p. m. (E.S.T.) ceremony in the chapel of Central Presbyterian Church, performed by the pastor, the Rev. Theodore C. Speers.

A spokesman for the couple said the pastor objected to a formal wedding at his church because of the publicity that had attended their transcontinental off-again-on-again romance.

Best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlesinger, of Milwaukee, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

A wedding reception was scheduled for today at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Barker. The couple will sail tomorrow on the Ile de France for a month's wedding trip in Europe.

After wedding plans started to go sour, Miss Dahl flew back to Hollywood last Saturday. After some transcontinental chit-chat about who loved whom, Barker pursued her by plane.

The wedding plans were on again, and the couple returned to New York yesterday. The marriage originally had been set for today, but was advanced to last night.

Cue-Bid Shouldn't Tip Off Opponents

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A cue-bid (one that shows control rather than a real suit) often helps the partnership reach the best contract. However, it is important not to make such a bid if it help the enemy more than your side.

In today's hand, for example, East was technically correct in was a near certainty.

When East made a second slam try by bidding four no-trump, South made a cue-bid that was really intelligent. It seemed likely to him (with good reason) that the opponents could make a contract of six clubs except against an opening heart lead. Since he was determined to bid five spades as a sacrifice against five clubs, South could afford to bid five hearts on the way.

After this intelligent bid by South, East and West had to be satisfied with the 100 points they could get by doubling five spades. It was no longer possible for them bidding four spades. He wanted to reach a contract of at least five clubs, and he could honestly show control of the spade suit on the way to that contract. Psychologically, however, his bid was very poor. It warned the opponents that a slam in club was not impossible and that a game contract to bid six clubs with any serious expectation of making that contract.

There would be a different story to tell if East simply bid four clubs instead of making the tactically unsound cue-bid of four spades. South would proceed on to four spades, and East could then go to five clubs. It would seem that he was simply making a sacrifice bid, and his side might well be permitted to play the hand at five clubs—probably doubled.

Even if North ran out to five spades, East might then bid six clubs. Without the cue-bid in hearts, North could be expected to lead a spade; and then West would easily fulfill the slam contract in clubs.

HOME BUREAU

Achievement Day Plans

The Ulster County Home Bureau has announced that its annual Achievement Day will be held Thursday, May 3 at the Municipal auditorium in Saugerties. This is a yearly event which this time coincides with the celebration of National Home Demonstration Week, the theme of which is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." There are two main speakers scheduled to address the women who will assemble from all over the county and bring their friends and neighbors.

Miss Therese Wood, specialist in food and nutrition, will tell of her trip abroad last summer where she had the opportunity to visit homes in England and Denmark. Miss Wood was a delegate from this country to the Associated Country Women of the World, an organization to which all Home Bureau members belong and which is made up of women from thirty-two foreign countries. Miss Wood will show pictures of the countries and homes she visited.

Following a period for lunching the women will reconvene at 1:30 to hear Miss Beth Peterson of the E. I. DuPont De Nemours & Co. discuss and illustrate "From Calico to Nylon." Miss Peterson is a well-known home economist who specialized in textiles, clothing, and home economics education at Iowa State College. She has been a home demonstration agent and a college specialist in Iowa. Miss Peterson is an authority on industrial progress in chemical developments, particularly as they affect the home.

The meeting will open at 10:15 a. m. It is free and the public is welcome.

Additional recognition of National Home Demonstration Week will be taken by units who will have displays of their accomplishments on public view.

Arlene, Tarzan Finally Are Wed in New York

New York, April 17 (AP)—Actress Arlene Dahl and Lex Barker, the movie "Tarzan," were married here last night—but without fanfare.

Only eight persons attended the 11 p. m. (E.S.T.) ceremony in the chapel of Central Presbyterian Church, performed by the pastor, the Rev. Theodore C. Speers.

A spokesman for the couple said the pastor objected to a formal wedding at his church because of the publicity that had attended their transcontinental off-again-on-again romance.

Best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlesinger, of Milwaukee, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

A wedding reception was scheduled for today at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Barker. The couple will sail tomorrow on the Ile de France for a month's wedding trip in Europe.

After wedding plans started to go sour, Miss Dahl flew back to Hollywood last Saturday. After some transcontinental chit-chat about who loved whom, Barker pursued her by plane.

The wedding plans were on again, and the couple returned to New York yesterday. The marriage originally had been set for today, but was advanced to last night.

YOUR GARDEN

Squash Yields Year-Around Vegetable

Squash is a vegetable of many types, all of which are worth growing. The plants are large and may take up more room than the small garden can spare. The earliest is the summer squash. The straight neck in the Patty Pan, followed by the long Italian variety, the Cocozelle.

The fall squash such as the Acorn or Table Queen and the Butternut give satisfactory results while the large Hubbard squash is the standard for winter use.

These plants, with one exception, are bothered by an insect, the squash vine borer. It is hard to control unless you follow spraying or dusting schedule prepared by your county agent who locally represents the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The one exception is the Butternut Squash which has quality, flavor, a generous yield and can be eaten green as a summer squash, later a fall squash, and will keep all winter for seasonal consumption.

Squash and squash pie with cheese, are a real table delicacy worth growing in any garden with sufficient room.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

Do you feel, as I do, all let down after the MacArthur affair reached its climax and the President addressed the nation about it over the radio?

It was not the dismissal of MacArthur that has me down, so much as the President's weak radio explanation.

I do not join the emotional "crowd" that is bitter over the general's release from duty in Japan and Korea, because to have continued the controvesy would have led to a crisis in any event. So long as a commander and his superior cannot resolve their differences of policy, one or the other has to be sacrified. And obviously the head of a nation must have the final word.

So I accept the general's dismissal as the only alternative in this particular situation.

But what, to me, is far more discouraging is the policy enunciated by Mr. Truman which freezes the stalemate.

There was not one word in the President's radio "explanation" that did other than to have established our deplorable policy of indicisiveness and an unknown stalemated future.

If, as time passes, the dismissal of MacArthur brings about a firm policy as to what we intend to do in Korea, his leaving will not have been a sacrifice but a distinct gain.

The Ruminator can only fall back upon his comments when the Korean war broke out that "we have got into something where we have no out." One should never enter any conflict, in business or in war, until he has figured "an out" if his plans fail. That, I believe, is fundamental common sense; or as a Yankee horse-trader would say, "just plain horse sense."

Tragically, we're still in Korea, with no way to get out.

It is even doubtful if we can fight our way out, because if we again force our way northward, through sheer power of arms, it seems probable that Red China and perhaps Russia herself would throw sufficient man-power into the war to defeat us again and start us back toward the parallel.

Anyone who recalls the history of wars with China knows that loss of lives is not a deciding factor in Chinese war policy.

Consequently, if we got by the past the stalemate appears solidly frozen.

However, the Ruminator's task in these columns is not usually to become a political commentator, but rather as a contrary viewer of the economic scene. Nevertheless, I cannot avoid asserting the thought that the President's address to the nation was so weak, so "contrary" to the American spirit of combative strength, and so loaded with an under-surface plea "to let us get out of this thing we got into" that it is depressing.

From the economic standpoint, the situation has not been altered except from a possible psychological angle. Complacency and indifference have marked in recent weeks, and our renewed statement of indecision will doubtless accentuate the complacency and the let-down in activity.

However, defense orders for industries will, of course, still be isued as heretofore. Mr. Wilson's Office of Mobilization certainly will not "let down" but in the numerous bureaus and channels through which orders pass there may—and probably will—be some tendency to hold back and slow down.

The current policy crisis, therefore, may tend to accentuate the inventory over-balance that is becoming more noticeable. People who have slowed down in their rush to buy goods of all kinds will undoubtedly continue to refrain from continued reckless spending. As I passed through some small cities a day or two ago, I noticed numerous stores that were advertising "big sales". Moreover, one can not help but notice the huge supplies of such things as refrigerators, television sets, used cars, and so on, as he drives along through shopping districts today.

So, to try and sum it all up, it would seem that the Truman-MacArthur crisis, while it should not importantly alter the long-range economic program may well accentuate the current suggestion that "we are sliding off just a bit" in business.

Raymond More recently completed 28 years of delivering mail from Hobart back into the hill country. Ray, who recalls that the Gun House Hill road one year was blocked by snow from Christmas to May 7, has used a total of 17 cars and trucks including the jeep which he is driving now.

George Kelder last week moved from the T. Fredenholm cottage in the village center to the Shokan Tavern where he will reside for the time being. George as a young man was widely known as proprietor of a lunch wagon where the Stuyvesant Hotel now stands.

Patricia Toman, daughter of Mrs. John Toman of Olive Bridge, was a caller here Friday. The former Shokan girl is employed at a Wall street store.

Motorists by the hundreds again flocked to the reservoir spillway Sunday afternoon. A brisk wind brought whitecaps to the broad bosom of the Ashokan east basin and gave added impetus to the now diminished overflow into the gorge. This stellar attraction, complimented by the lure incident to the second day of the open trout season, brought Onteora Trail traffic to a volume about equal to that of the Sunday following the big flood.

Warwarsing callers here the latter part of the week included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris of Ellenville who were accompanied by Alex Cathay of Kerhonkson suburbs. Harold, whose hobby is Ulster county history, is sales manager for Channel Master and also has a hardwoods sawmill at Margaretville.

YOUR GARDEN — By Arnold Davis

Squash Yields Year-Around Vegetable

Squash is a vegetable of many types, all of which are worth growing. The plants are large and may take up more room than the small garden can spare. The earliest is the summer squash. The straight neck in the Patty Pan, followed by the long Italian variety, the Cocozelle.

The fall squash such as the Acorn or Table Queen and the Butternut give satisfactory results while the large Hubbard squash is the standard for winter use.

These plants, with one exception, are bothered by an insect, the squash vine borer. It is hard to control unless you follow spraying or dusting schedule prepared by your county agent who locally represents the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The one exception is the Butternut Squash which has quality, flavor, a generous yield and can be eaten green as a summer squash, later a fall squash, and will keep all winter for seasonal consumption.

Squash and squash pie with cheese, are a real table delicacy worth growing in any garden with sufficient room.

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

Do you feel, as I do, all let down after the MacArthur affair reached its climax and the President addressed the nation about it over the radio?

It was not the dismissal of MacArthur that has me down, so much as the President's weak radio explanation.

I do not join the emotional "crowd" that is bitter over the general's release from duty in Japan and Korea, because to have continued the controvesy would have led to a crisis in any event. So long as a commander and his superior cannot resolve their differences of policy, one or the other has to be sacrified. And obviously the head of a nation must have the final word.

So I accept the general's dismissal as the only alternative in this particular situation.

But what, to me, is far more discouraging is the policy enunciated by Mr. Truman which freezes the stalemate.

There was not one word in the President's radio "explanation" that did other than to have established our deplorable policy of indicisiveness and an unknown stalemated future.

If, as time passes, the dismissal of MacArthur brings about a firm policy as to what we intend to do in Korea, his leaving will not have been a sacrifice but a distinct gain.

The Ruminator can only fall back upon his comments when the Korean war broke out that "we have got into something where we have no out." One should never enter any conflict, in business or in war, until he has figured "an out" if his plans fail. That, I believe, is fundamental common sense; or as a Yankee horse-trader would say, "just plain horse sense."

Tragically, we're still in Korea, with no way to get out.

It is even doubtful if we can fight our way out, because if we again force our way northward, through sheer power of arms, it seems probable that Red China and perhaps Russia herself would throw sufficient man-power into the war to defeat us again and start us back toward the parallel.

Anyone who recalls the history of wars with China knows that loss of lives is not a deciding factor in Chinese war policy.

Consequently, if we got by the past the stalemate appears solidly frozen.

However, the Ruminator's task in these columns is not usually to become a political commentator, but rather as a contrary viewer of the economic scene. Nevertheless, I cannot avoid asserting the thought that the President's address to the nation was so weak, so "contrary" to the American spirit of combative strength, and so loaded with an under-surface plea "to let us get out of this thing we got into" that it is depressing.

From the economic standpoint, the situation has not been altered except from a possible psychological angle. Complacency and indifference have marked in recent weeks, and our renewed statement of indecision will doubtless accentuate the complacency and the let-down in activity.

However, defense orders for industries will, of course, still be isued as heretofore. Mr. Wilson's Office of Mobilization certainly will not "let down" but in the numerous bureaus and channels through which orders pass there may — and probably will — be some tendency to hold back and slow down.

The current policy crisis, therefore, may tend to accentuate the inventory over-balance that is becoming more noticeable. People who have slowed down in their rush to buy goods of all kinds will undoubtedly continue to refrain from continued reckless spending. As I passed through some small cities a day or two ago, I noticed numerous stores that were advertising "big sales". Moreover, one can not help but notice the huge supplies of such things as refrigerators, television sets, used cars, and so on, as he drives along through shopping districts today.

So, to try and sum it all up, it would seem that the Truman-MacArthur crisis, while it should not importantly alter the long-range economic program may well accentuate the current suggestion that "we are sliding off just a bit" in business.

Five Shipments Denied

New Delhi (AP)—The commerce ministry has denied in parliament that an Indian firm shipped 14,000 giant tires to Hong Kong last year—presumably for later sale to the Chinese Communists.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, April 17—Louis Shaw, native of Shokan and former resident of Lake Katrine, called on friends here Sunday. He was accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Winchell, and grandson, Richard Winchell, all of Port Ewen.

Otto Rast, who for the past two years has suffered with asthma and a weak heart, was conveyed to the Kingston Hospital last week.

Local members of Methodist women's organizations who plan to attend the W.S.C.S. district meeting in the Saugerties Methodist Church Thursday should notify their pastor before April 16 so that he can make luncheon reservations.

Alfred Iapoce, driver of one of the state highway department trucks, is working up around Highmount where improvements to the Route 28 pavement are being made near the Delaware county line.

Raymond More recently completed 28 years of delivering mail from Hobart back into the hill country. Ray, who recalls that the Gun House Hill road one year was blocked by snow from Christmas to May 7, has used a total of 17 cars and trucks including the jeep which he is driving now.

George Kelder last week moved from the T. Fredenholm cottage in the village center to the Shokan Tavern where he will reside for the time being. George as a young man was widely known as proprietor of a lunch wagon where the Stuyvesant Hotel now stands.

Patricia Toman, daughter of Mrs. John Toman of Olive Bridge, was a caller here Friday. The former Shokan girl is employed at a Wall street store.

Motorists by the hundreds again flocked to the reservoir spillway Sunday afternoon. A brisk wind brought whitecaps to the broad bosom of the Ashokan east basin and gave added impetus to the now diminished overflow into the gorge. This stellar attraction, complimented by the lure incident to the second day of the open trout season, brought Onteora Trail traffic to a volume about equal to that of the Sunday following the big flood.

Warwarsing callers here the latter part of the week included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris of Ellenville who were accompanied by Alex Cathay of Kerhonkson suburbs. Harold, whose hobby is Ulster county history, is sales manager for Channel Master and also has a hardwoods sawmill at Margaretville.

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

The dramatic President Truman-General MacArthur episode is a preview of the unpredictable political and economic events of the future. Some nervous speculators sold stocks heavily; they interpreted the happening bearishly. A few hours later, the market reversed itself and even some of the bears were chagrined.

It is a time for all investors and speculators to get acclimated to rapid political and economic change. When an evil power operating behind an iron curtain does anything and everything regardless of honor and plain honesty to further its purposes, then one may know that logical prediction is impossible.

If this episode proves to be an event of appeasement, America's economic fortunes will be further undermined. The Communists are out to destroy everything that prevents them from imposing their totalitarian system on everybody. Any show of weakness on our part merely makes them bolder and more determined.

A gangster has no peace in his heart. That is the sober fact to remember today. As a boy, my father taught me by precept and example that any bad person who had no ideas of repentance could not be trusted.

The power politics of the present has inadequate ethical and moral foundations. Few people in America can fathom the goings-on of the diplomats. The subtilities of the Far East are far beyond my comprehension. But when cries of ill-will spontaneously arise in the United States because of a distinguished general's dismissal, then I know there is muddled-thinking at the top or base deception at the bottom.

Our political and economic fortunes are one. And I don't like the present political look of things. If World War III does descend upon America and her friendly United Nations allies, nobody can guess where our debt, now about 256 billions will go.

There is no country in the world fighting on our side that would not lean heavily economically on us if the cold war became hot. As it is, our military expenditures in the immediate months ahead will put a severe strain on the national economy. War spending terribly unbalances our productive and consumptive schedules and tends to freeze some inflation into wages and prices.

So, from the present looks of things the dollar is not going to grow in integrity soon. Why sell good stocks, then? It doesn't make sense.

I shall turn bearish when a true peace settles down on the world; when the gigantic productive capacity is turning out great volumes of goods and services—saturating the economy with the things the people need to maintain their standard of living.

To me, the Korean event postpones this time into the distant future. If anybody, representing the free world, tries to shake Joe Stalin's hand in friendship or to speak a gracious word to him, his stooges will deem this an act of weakness and this will cost America more lives and money.

Investors looking for "domestic tranquility" in the years ahead are going to be hunting for something-illusory. During war times we shall have to battle inflation; during peace times, deflation.

Well, what is an investor to do? That is easy. Where do our economic necessities and comforts come from in war and in peace? From the free enterprise system of America. Will this still function?

It had better. If it doesn't Uncle Sam can't function. And if he doesn't remain solvent what is going to happen to his 256 billion dollar debt lodged with millions of investors, savings and commercial banks, insurance companies, colleges, hospitals and churches?

The dollar may have (and probably will) a hectic career but the enterprises that take care of 150 million people in the United States will still operate. Buy into them and disregard the emotional tides that make bulls and bears in turn out of common stock traders.

Training Is Discontinued

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said today the air force—"temporarily at least"—has discontinued training typists and stenographers at government expense. Byrd heads the Senate-House Committee on reducing non-essential government spending. The group recently criticized the air force practice. It involved contracts with business schools to train typists and stenographers who were being carried on air force pay rolls while attending classes. The only such contract now in force covers employes of the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Boy Is Found Dead

Emerson, N. J., April 17 (AP)—A two-year-old boy, object of a widespread nine-hour search, was found dead in a shallow post hole 50 yards from his home last night. The body of brown-haired Ralph Bottner, Jr., was discovered by three children while scores of volunteers and police with bloodhounds combed nearby woods and swamplands. Dr. Kenneth Delafrange said the child apparently died of suffocation about four or five hours before he was found. The hole in which Ralph was found had been dug for a clothes pole and was about four feet deep. He apparently slipped into the hole while at play.

300 K.H.S. Seniors Enjoy Rotary Trip To Lake Success

Three hundred Kingston High School seniors returned to Kingston Friday, April 13, with a deeper understanding of the workings, purposes and accomplishments of the United Nations as a result of a visit to Lake Success, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Kingston. The nine bus load pilgrimage also included a visit to the new permanent United Nations Building on the East river.

Rotarian, John Henry Martin, principal of the high school and general chairman of the committee, enlisted the aid of Dr. James Shotwell of Woodstock, president emeritus of the Carnegie Foundation for Peace, in arranging the full and inspiring program presented for the students and the accompanying teachers and Rotarians.

Following luncheon at Lake Success, the Kingston visitors were addressed briefly by Ambassador Oaks of Great Britain, assistant secretary-general who invited the group to attend the session of the Economic and Social Council being held later that afternoon. Dr. John Agar then explained the mechanics of the functioning of the Council, and briefed them on the employment of the translators whom they had the pleasure of observing and hearing through individual earphones provided for each visitor as the many languages were translated to English from the native tongues of more than a score of members at the committee session.

The afternoon closed with a special address by Ambassador Gross, assistant to Ambassador Warren Austin, U. S. representative to the Security Council who is also a Rotarian. Ambassador Gross stressed the fact that, as bad as the situation in Korea is, it is the United Nations handling of the problem that has kept the war which began nearly a year ago, from assuming world wide proportions. He also emphasized the success the United Nations has achieved in the field of human rights, economic adjustments and agriculture.

Four Dame Rumor editors and a photographer accompanied by Rotarian Walter Elston were accorded a special interview with Ambassador Austin at his New York office. Mayor Oscar Newkirk and the following Rotarians accompanied the students. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, S. D. Scudder, Jr., James P. Byrne, William E. Rylance, Ernest A. Steuding, John H. Saxe, Samuel Trull, Jr., Edwin Strong, Harry J. Beatty, Larry V. Bogert, Frederick Snyder, Walter Elston, John Henry Martin, Robert C. Deegan, Elliot W. Whitney, Frank Norman, Matthew Tryon and Albert Kurdt.

During the Middle Ages it was considered unmanly to ride in European carriages. They were used chiefly by women.

Chinese Students Haul Down Anglo Flag at Consulate

Taipeh, Formosa, April 17 (AP)—Some 40 Chinese students, angered over reports Britain had proposed giving Formosa to the Chinese Reds, today hauled down the Union Jack at the British Consulate at nearby Tansui and chalked anti-British slogans on walls.

They hoisted the Chinese Nationalist flag and ripped British emblems from two consular cars, but did no further harm to the consulate or its personnel.

A consulate official hauled down the Nationalist flag, but the students almost immediately ran it up again.

Police stationed at the consulate—an old Dutch fort overlooking Formosa Straits—finally persuaded the students to leave.

Chalked signs—"appeasers" and "down with British imperialism"—were left on consulate walls, homes of British residents and the wall of a Canadian-run Presbyterian mission school.

Peter Chang, counselor on foreign affairs to the Formosan provincial government, said Nationalist officials deplored the affair and were anxious to prevent a recurrence. Police guards at the consulate were reinforced.

Vestry Names Melish To Emeritus Post

New York, April 17 (AP) — The Rev. Dr. John Howard Melish was named rector emeritus of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, at a meeting of the vestry last night.

The 76-year-old clergyman was removed from the pulpit there two years ago by Bishop James P. deWolfe.

The ouster grew out from a complaint by the vestry then in office that the rector condoned the allegedly leftist activities of his son and assistant rector, the Rev. William Howard Melish.

The title of rector emeritus for the elder Melish carried with it the right to continue living in Holy Trinity rectory. The vestry — now composed of members friendly to him—also offered him a "standing invitation to take such occasional part in the services as his strength will permit."

The parishoners at their annual meeting had recommended last night's vestry action on Dr. Melish.

The parishoners also had recommended his son as his successor as rector. The son's extra-church activities cost him his church post along with his father.

The vestry did not act on this recommendation last night because of the illness of a vestryman. The question of a successor to the elder Melish probably will be taken up at the next meeting of the vestry May 21.

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, April 16—The congregational supper of the Reformed Church which was to have been held Thursday, April 19, has been postponed until Thursday, April 26.

Mrs. Lulu Williams entertained Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. John Yeaple of Stone Ridge.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ackerman has returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Homfeld here following a visit to relatives in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cudney, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Winchell, Jr., Robert Adsit and friend motored to Hartford, Conn., Sunday.

Mrs. Kelton Jansen spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen. Mrs. Jansen is temporarily employed at Merck Laboratories in Rahway, N. J., while she waits her turn to join her husband who is now stationed in Germany.

Express Agency Is Authorized to Add 20-Cent Charge

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The railway express agency has government authority to add a new 20-cent charge on virtually all its shipments of less than carload size.

The charge, applicable regardless of weight or distance involved, was authorized late yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The express agency had asked permission to add 25 cents to each such shipment.

The company said it proposes to exempt from the surcharge only shipments of milk, cream, newspapers and corpses. Carload rates are not affected.

The commission estimated the charge will add close to $16,000,000 a year to the billings on some 80,000,000 shipments handled annually by the agency.

This will be collected while the commission holds hearings on a proposed general raising of express rates, already hiked several times since the end of World War 2.

The company said the emergency surcharge was needed to help meet recent increases in operating expenses.

'Rice' Made From Tapicoa

New Delhi (AP)—A demonstration plant for the experimental production of "artificial rice" is in operation under Government Auspices, Natural Resources and Scientific Research Minister Sri Prakasa stated in response to a question in parliament. Prakasa said the plant processes 300 pounds of synthetic foodgrain daily.

Several groups of Indians in New Mexico still worship the ancient gods of their forefathers.

Six Ministers Haggle Over Plan

Paris, April 17 (AP)—Six west European ministers who haggled half the night over the Schuman plan to pool their nation's coal and steel resources hoped to whip the treaty into shape today.

Luxembourg's Foreign Minister Joseph Bech said the plan probably would be signed Thursday. Then it must go to the parliaments of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg for final approval.

At present the ministers are trying to set up the outlines for international bodies controlling the industries which produce $4,000,000,000 worth of steel and coal a year.

Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker said the conferees still were at odds over what voting strength each nation will have in a council of ministers to be set up to control the pool.

Hundreds Search For Missing Couple

Piermont, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Hundreds of persons conducted a fruitless search of the Hudson river yesterday for a young couple whose capsized outboard motor speedboat was found on the north side of Piermont pier.

The two missing were Mary Lou Earl, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Earl, of Piermont, and Thomas Crean, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crean of Nyack.

They were last seen in the boat on the Hudson river at Tappan Zee Sunday when a storm came up.

The coast guard, police from nearby villages, three civil air patrol planes and several planes searched the Tappan Zee area. In addition to the speedboat they found life preservers from the craft on the Piermont pier.

Investor Forum

Harry C. France

The dramatic President Truman-General MacArthur episode is a preview of the unpredictable political and economic events of the future. Some nervous speculators sold stocks heavily; they interpreted the happening bearishly. A few hours later, the market reversed itself and even some of the bears were chagrined.

It is a time for all investors and speculators to get acclimated to rapid political and economic change. When an evil power operating behind an iron curtain does anything and everything regardless of honor and plain honesty to further its purposes, then one may know that logical prediction is impossible.

If this episode proves to be an event of appeasement, America's economic fortunes will be further undermined. The Communists are out to destroy everything that prevents them from imposing their totalitarian system on everybody. Any show of weakness on our part merely makes them bolder and more determined.

A gangster has no peace in his heart. That is the sober fact to remember today. As a boy, my father taught me by precept and example that any bad person who had no ideas of repentance could not be trusted.

The power politics of the present has inadequate ethical and moral foundations. Few people in America can fathom the goings-on of the diplomats. The subtilities of the Far East are far beyond my comprehension. But when cries of ill-will spontaneously arise in the United States because of a distinguished general's dismissal, then I know there is muddled-thinking at the top or base deception at the bottom.

Our political and economic fortunes are one. And I don't like the present political look of things. If World War III does descend upon America and her friendly United Nations allies, nobody can guess where our debt, now about 256 billions will go.

There is no country in the world fighting on our side that would not lean heavily economically on us if the cold war became hot. As it is, our military expenditures in the immediate months ahead will put a severe strain on the national economy. War spending terribly unbalances our productive and consumptive schedules and tends to freeze some inflation into wages and prices.

So, from the present looks of things the dollar is not going to grow in integrity soon. Why sell good stocks, then? It doesn't make sense.

I shall turn bearish when a true peace settles down on the world; when the gigantic productive capacity is turning out great volumes of goods and services—saturating the economy with the things the people need to maintain their standard of living.

To me, the Korean event postpones this time into the distant future. If anybody, representing the free world, tries to shake Joe Stalin's hand in friendship or to speak a gracious word to him, his stooges will deem this an act of weakness and this will cost America more lives and money.

Investors looking for "domestic tranquility" in the years ahead are going to be hunting for something-illusory. During war times we shall have to battle inflation; during peace times, deflation.

Well, what is an investor to do? That is easy. Where do our economic necessities and comforts come from in war and in peace? From the free enterprise system of America. Will this still function?

It had better. If it doesn't Uncle Sam can't function. And if he doesn't remain solvent what is going to happen to his 256 billion dollar debt lodged with millions of investors, savings and commercial banks, insurance companies, colleges, hospitals and churches?

The dollar may have (and probably will) a hectic career but the enterprises that take care of 150 million people in the United States will still operate. Buy into them and disregard the emotional tides that make bulls and bears in turn out of common stock traders.

Training Is Discontinued

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said today the air force—"temporarily at least"—has discontinued training typists and stenographers at government expense. Byrd heads the Senate-House Committee on reducing non-essential government spending. The group recently criticized the air force practice. It involved contracts with business schools to train typists and stenographers who were being carried on air force pay rolls while attending classes. The only such contract now in force covers employes of the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Boy Is Found Dead

Emerson, N. J., April 17 (AP)—A two-year-old boy, object of a widespread nine-hour search, was found dead in a shallow post hole 50 yards from his home last night. The body of brown-haired Ralph Bottner, Jr., was discovered by three children while scores of volunteers and police with bloodhounds combed nearby woods and swamplands. Dr. Kenneth Delafrange said the child apparently died of suffocation about four or five hours before he was found. The hole in which Ralph was found had been dug for a clothes pole and was about four feet deep. He apparently slipped into the hole while at play.

300 K.H.S. Seniors Enjoy Rotary Trip To Lake Success

Three hundred Kingston High School seniors returned to Kingston Friday, April 13, with a deeper understanding of the workings, purposes and accomplishments of the United Nations as a result of a visit to Lake Success, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Kingston. The nine bus load pilgrimage also included a visit to the new permanent United Nations Building on the East river.

Rotarian, John Henry Martin, principal of the high school and general chairman of the committee, enlisted the aid of Dr. James Shotwell of Woodstock, president emeritus of the Carnegie Foundation for Peace, in arranging the full and inspiring program presented for the students and the accompanying teachers and Rotarians.

Following luncheon at Lake Success, the Kingston visitors were addressed briefly by Ambassador Oaks of Great Britain, assistant secretary-general who invited the group to attend the session of the Economic and Social Council being held later that afternoon. Dr. John Agar then explained the mechanics of the functioning of the Council, and briefed them on the employment of the translators whom they had the pleasure of observing and hearing through individual earphones provided for each visitor as the many languages were translated to English from the native tongues of more than a score of members at the committee session.

The afternoon closed with a special address by Ambassador Gross, assistant to Ambassador Warren Austin, U. S. representative to the Security Council who is also a Rotarian. Ambassador Gross stressed the fact that, as bad as the situation in Korea is, it is the United Nations handling of the problem that has kept the war which began nearly a year ago, from assuming world wide proportions. He also emphasized the success the United Nations has achieved in the field of human rights, economic adjustments and agriculture.

Four Dame Rumor editors and a photographer accompanied by Rotarian Walter Elston were accorded a special interview with Ambassador Austin at his New York office. Mayor Oscar Newkirk and the following Rotarians accompanied the students. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, S. D. Scudder, Jr., James P. Byrne, William E. Rylance, Ernest A. Steuding, John H. Saxe, Samuel Trull, Jr., Edwin Strong, Harry J. Beatty, Larry V. Bogert, Frederick Snyder, Walter Elston, John Henry Martin, Robert C. Deegan, Elliot W. Whitney, Frank Norman, Matthew Tryon and Albert Kurdt.

During the Middle Ages it was considered unmanly to ride in European carriages. They were used chiefly by women.

Chinese Students Haul Down Anglo Flag at Consulate

Taipeh, Formosa, April 17 (AP)—Some 40 Chinese students, angered over reports Britain had proposed giving Formosa to the Chinese Reds, today hauled down the Union Jack at the British Consulate at nearby Tansui and chalked anti-British slogans on walls.

They hoisted the Chinese Nationalist flag and ripped British emblems from two consular cars, but did no further harm to the consulate or its personnel.

A consulate official hauled down the Nationalist flag, but the students almost immediately ran it up again.

Police stationed at the consulate—an old Dutch fort overlooking Formosa Straits—finally persuaded the students to leave.

Chalked signs—"appeasers" and "down with British imperialism"—were left on consulate walls, homes of British residents and the wall of a Canadian-run Presbyterian mission school.

Peter Chang, counselor on foreign affairs to the Formosan provincial government, said Nationalist officials deplored the affair and were anxious to prevent a recurrence. Police guards at the consulate were reinforced.

Vestry Names Melish To Emeritus Post

New York, April 17 (AP) — The Rev. Dr. John Howard Melish was named rector emeritus of Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, at a meeting of the vestry last night.

The 76-year-old clergyman was removed from the pulpit there two years ago by Bishop James P. deWolfe.

The ouster grew out from a complaint by the vestry then in office that the rector condoned the allegedly leftist activities of his son and assistant rector, the Rev. William Howard Melish.

The title of rector emeritus for the elder Melish carried with it the right to continue living in Holy Trinity rectory. The vestry — now composed of members friendly to him—also offered him a "standing invitation to take such occasional part in the services as his strength will permit."

The parishoners at their annual meeting had recommended last night's vestry action on Dr. Melish.

The parishoners also had recommended his son as his successor as rector. The son's extra-church activities cost him his church post along with his father.

The vestry did not act on this recommendation last night because of the illness of a vestryman. The question of a successor to the elder Melish probably will be taken up at the next meeting of the vestry May 21.

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, April 16—The congregational supper of the Reformed Church which was to have been held Thursday, April 19, has been postponed until Thursday, April 26.

Mrs. Lulu Williams entertained Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. John Yeaple of Stone Ridge.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ackerman has returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Homfeld here following a visit to relatives in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cudney, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Winchell, Jr., Robert Adsit and friend motored to Hartford, Conn., Sunday.

Mrs. Kelton Jansen spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen. Mrs. Jansen is temporarily employed at Merck Laboratories in Rahway, N. J., while she waits her turn to join her husband who is now stationed in Germany.

Express Agency Is Authorized to Add 20-Cent Charge

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The railway express agency has government authority to add a new 20-cent charge on virtually all its shipments of less than carload size.

The charge, applicable regardless of weight or distance involved, was authorized late yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The express agency had asked permission to add 25 cents to each such shipment.

The company said it proposes to exempt from the surcharge only shipments of milk, cream, newspapers and corpses. Carload rates are not affected.

The commission estimated the charge will add close to $16,000,000 a year to the billings on some 80,000,000 shipments handled annually by the agency.

This will be collected while the commission holds hearings on a proposed general raising of express rates, already hiked several times since the end of World War 2.

The company said the emergency surcharge was needed to help meet recent increases in operating expenses.

'Rice' Made From Tapicoa

New Delhi (AP)—A demonstration plant for the experimental production of "artificial rice" is in operation under Government Auspices, Natural Resources and Scientific Research Minister Sri Prakasa stated in response to a question in parliament. Prakasa said the plant processes 300 pounds of synthetic foodgrain daily.

Several groups of Indians in New Mexico still worship the ancient gods of their forefathers.

Six Ministers Haggle Over Plan

Paris, April 17 (AP)—Six west European ministers who haggled half the night over the Schuman plan to pool their nation's coal and steel resources hoped to whip the treaty into shape today.

Luxembourg's Foreign Minister Joseph Bech said the plan probably would be signed Thursday. Then it must go to the parliaments of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg for final approval.

At present the ministers are trying to set up the outlines for international bodies controlling the industries which produce $4,000,000,000 worth of steel and coal a year.

Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker said the conferees still were at odds over what voting strength each nation will have in a council of ministers to be set up to control the pool.

Hundreds Search For Missing Couple

Piermont, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Hundreds of persons conducted a fruitless search of the Hudson river yesterday for a young couple whose capsized outboard motor speedboat was found on the north side of Piermont pier.

The two missing were Mary Lou Earl, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Earl, of Piermont, and Thomas Crean, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crean of Nyack.

They were last seen in the boat on the Hudson river at Tappan Zee Sunday when a storm came up.

The coast guard, police from nearby villages, three civil air patrol planes and several planes searched the Tappan Zee area. In addition to the speedboat they found life preservers from the craft on the Piermont pier.

The two missing were Mary Lou Earl, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Earl, of Piermont, and Thomas Crean, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crean of Nyack.

They were last seen in the boat on the Hudson river at Tappan Zee Sunday when a storm came up.

The coast guard, police from nearby villages, three civil air patrol planes and several planes searched the Tappan Zee area. In addition to the speedboat they found life preservers from the craft on the Piermont pier.

ENVELOPES MARKED "PERSONAL"

A secretary asks: "What about the propriety of sending letters to a man at his office with envelopes marked 'personal'? I rather resent the implication when a letter arrives like this for my boss, but another secretary here thinks there is nothing rude about it and in fact, she even thinks it eliminates all possibility of embarrassment to herself. What is your opinion?"

It is proper to mark the envelope this way when the letter is a really personal one. It would be inexcusable to do this, however, when sent to anyone's home address.

Changing Wedding Date on Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: A young couple had planned to be married the middle of last month and their invitations were ready to be mailed when the bridegroom had an accident that sent him to the hospital. Now they're ready to get married and wondered if they could write in the new date on the original invitations?

Answer: If done neatly, it might not be impossible. After all, a majority will be going to their families and friends who, knowing the circumstances, will surely understand.

Graduation Party

Dear Mrs. Post: How can I include an invitation to a graduation party the night of graduation, in the same envelope with the announcements of graduation?

Answer: Your invitation to the graduation party certainly will serve as an announcement. In fact, it would be absurd to send both.

It's Up to Bride and Groom

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law has not paid any further attention to my mother since the day of my wedding. We all live in the same town and this is making Mother unhappy and I wonder what can be done about it. Mother Jones is a rather standoffish person and even I don't feel close to her.

Answer: I don't see why you and your husband haven't brought your two families together by inviting them to whatever you can!

If your question is about the wedding procession, music, receiving line, or the wedding cake, you will find answers in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-2, "Wedding Procedure." Dulles, Ridgway Hold Conference

Tokyo, April 17 (AP)—John Foster Dulles conferred with Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today for about four hours. Presumably the special ambassador and Ridgway talked about the progress of a peace treaty for Japan.

Ridgway is General MacArthur's successor as Allied supreme commander.

Earlier, Dulles reassured the Japanese of U. S. determination to seek a speedy treaty. He said he came to Japan to discuss its status and the "program for the days ahead."

Dulles and Ridgway will talk tomorrow morning with Prime Minister Shigeru Toshida. The prime minister was scheduled to make his first formal call on Ridgway tonight.

Both Are Praised

In a statement obviously aimed to quiet Japanese fears that MacArthur's firing might delay the treaty, Dulles praised both MacArthur and his successor. He said Ridgway would carry out the occupation policies in the same high tradition as MacArthur.

And he said that President Truman and MacArthur both still backed the program of a speedy treaty for Japan.

Both major American political parties likewise were behind the drive, Dulles added.

Dulles talked with MacArthur yesterday by radio as their planes passed going in opposite directions.

Tentative plans call for Dulles to leave Tokyo next Monday and return directly to Washington.

New Jersey Has Primaries

Newark, N. J., April 17 (AP)—One-third of New Jersey's 2,375,000 eligible voters are expected to turn out for today's primary elections. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. With no statewide issues to be decided, the elections will be watched closely for any trends that may be attributed to recent revelations by the Kefauver Crime Committee. Party insurgents in Republican Bergen and Democratic Hudson counties have used crime committee disclosures in their campaigns. The entire 60-member State Assembly and 11 of the state's 21 senators are up for nomination.

Judge Reserves Decision to Set Aside Jury Finding

County Judge John M. Cashin on Monday reserved decision on a motion made by Abraham Streifer, attorney for plaintiff, to set aside a verdict of $2,139 which was awarded Joseph Touhey, of New Paltz, against Reinhold Bock of Rosendale last week in county court. The jury found the Wallkill Valley Motor Service, Inc., operators of the bus on which Touhey was returning home from school, innocent of negligence and the verdict was returned only against Bock, driver of the car which struck the nine-year-old lad as he left a school bus.

Streifer moved to set aside the verdict and asked for a new trial, objecting to the no cause verdict which was returned in favor of the bus company. He argued the verdict lacked support of the evidence. He pointed out that the driver had testified that it was the custom to keep the doors of the bus closed unless the road was clear and he argued that when the driver opened the door of the bus and told the children it was "okay" it inferred that the road was clear. He said the evidence was that the point where the accident happened was a long stretch with good visibility and the driver should have seen the car coming from the rear.

Evidence was to the effect that the driver of the bus told the children to cross in front of the bus, and, acting on this the children had left the bus when the door was opened and started across the road under the assumption that the road was clear. He held that under the evidence the bus company should be held responsible and that the verdict in favor of the bus company should be set aside and a new trial granted.

Hugh Elwyn, counsel for the bus company, argued that the verdict was correct and that the jury had a right to find the bus company free from negligence if they believed the evidence pointed that way. He held that the court had no power to set aside the verdict, which would in effect say that the bus company was negligent, a question of fact which had been determined by the jury.

Judge Cashin asked that authority be cited by Mr. Streifer and gave Elwyn time to reply to any brief which Streifer submits.

Trial Date Is Set

New York, April 17 (AP)—Trial of Serge Rubinstein on stock fraud charges has been set to start June 4. The case had been scheduled to trial yesterday—almost two years after the international financier and draft evader was arrested on the charges. Defense counsel asked for delay until next October. Rubinstein and Frank E. Bliss, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, are charged with violating the Securities and Exchange act. Rubinstein was arrested in the stock case as he was released from federal prison April 22, 1949, after serving two years for draft evasion.

And he said that President Truman and MacArthur both still backed the program of a speedy treaty for Japan.

Both major American political parties likewise were behind the drive, Dulles added.

Dulles talked with MacArthur yesterday by radio as their planes passed going in opposite directions.

New Jersey Has Primaries

Newark, N. J., April 17 (AP)—One-third of New Jersey's 2,375,000 eligible voters are expected to turn out for today's primary elections. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. With no statewide issues to be decided, the elections will be watched closely for any trends that may be attributed to recent revelations by the Kefauver Crime Committee. Party insurgents in Republican Bergen and Democratic Hudson counties have used crime committee disclosures in their campaigns. The entire 60-member State Assembly and 11 of the state's 21 senators are up for nomination.

ENVELOPES MARKED "PERSONAL"

A secretary asks: "What about the propriety of sending letters to a man at his office with envelopes marked 'personal'? I rather resent the implication when a letter arrives like this for my boss, but another secretary here thinks there is nothing rude about it and in fact, she even thinks it eliminates all possibility of embarrassment to herself. What is your opinion?"

It is proper to mark the envelope this way when the letter is a really personal one. It would be inexcusable to do this, however, when sent to anyone's home address.

Changing Wedding Date on Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: A young couple had planned to be married the middle of last month and their invitations were ready to be mailed when the bridegroom had an accident that sent him to the hospital. Now they're ready to get married and wondered if they could write in the new date on the original invitations?

Answer: If done neatly, it might not be impossible. After all, a majority will be going to their families and friends who, knowing the circumstances, will surely understand.

Graduation Party

Dear Mrs. Post: How can I include an invitation to a graduation party the night of graduation, in the same envelope with the announcements of graduation?

Answer: Your invitation to the graduation party certainly will serve as an announcement. In fact, it would be absurd to send both.

It's Up to Bride and Groom

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law has not paid any further attention to my mother since the day of my wedding. We all live in the same town and this is making Mother unhappy and I wonder what can be done about it. Mother Jones is a rather standoffish person and even I don't feel close to her.

Answer: I don't see why you and your husband haven't brought your two families together by inviting them to whatever you can!

If your question is about the wedding procession, music, receiving line, or the wedding cake, you will find answers in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-2, "Wedding Procedure." Judge Reserves Decision to Set Aside Jury Finding County Judge John M. Cashin on Monday reserved decision on a motion made by Abraham Streifer, attorney for plaintiff, to set aside a verdict of $2,139 which was awarded Joseph Touhey, of New Paltz, against Reinhold Bock of Rosendale last week in county court. The jury found the Wallkill Valley Motor Service, Inc., operators of the bus on which Touhey was returning home from school, innocent of negligence and the verdict was returned only against Bock, driver of the car which struck the nine-year-old lad as he left a school bus.

Streifer moved to set aside the verdict and asked for a new trial, objecting to the no cause verdict which was returned in favor of the bus company. He argued the verdict lacked support of the evidence. He pointed out that the driver had testified that it was the custom to keep the doors of the bus closed unless the road was clear and he argued that when the driver opened the door of the bus and told the children it was "okay" it inferred that the road was clear. He said the evidence was that the point where the accident happened was a long stretch with good visibility and the driver should have seen the car coming from the rear.

Evidence was to the effect that the driver of the bus told the children to cross in front of the bus, and, acting on this the children had left the bus when the door was opened and started across the road under the assumption that the road was clear. He held that under the evidence the bus company should be held responsible and that the verdict in favor of the bus company should be set aside and a new trial granted.

Hugh Elwyn, counsel for the bus company, argued that the verdict was correct and that the jury had a right to find the bus company free from negligence if they believed the evidence pointed that way. He held that the court had no power to set aside the verdict, which would in effect say that the bus company was negligent, a question of fact which had been determined by the jury.

Judge Cashin asked that authority be cited by Mr. Streifer and gave Elwyn time to reply to any brief which Streifer submits.

Trial Date Is Set

New York, April 17 (AP)—Trial of Serge Rubinstein on stock fraud charges has been set to start June 4. The case had been scheduled to trial yesterday—almost two years after the international financier and draft evader was arrested on the charges. Defense counsel asked for delay until next October. Rubinstein and Frank E. Bliss, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, are charged with violating the Securities and Exchange act. Rubinstein was arrested in the stock case as he was released from federal prison April 22, 1949, after serving two years for draft evasion.

It was announced that the Hurley honor roll has been taken by the Grange as its project. Winfred Snyder, fire chief and past grange master, was cited for his recent work in the flood disaster of the village.

Hobbies featured the lecturer's hour presented by the Mt. Tremper Grange. Readings were given on friendliness while a talk was given on violins and materials used in making the instrument. The cake baking contest, it was announced, will be held in May.

Hurley Juvenile

Jay Stauble, master, presided at last week's meeting of the Hurley Juvenile Grange in the Hurley Church basement. Thirty members were in attendance.

Acknowledgement was received from T. Jay Rifenbary, heart campaign director, for the unit's donation.

Dulles, Ridgway Hold Conference

Tokyo, April 17 (AP)—John Foster Dulles conferred with Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today for about four hours. Presumably the special ambassador and Ridgway talked about the progress of a peace treaty for Japan.

Ridgway is General MacArthur's successor as Allied supreme commander.

Earlier, Dulles reassured the Japanese of U. S. determination to seek a speedy treaty. He said he came to Japan to discuss its status and the "program for the days ahead."

Dulles and Ridgway will talk tomorrow morning with Prime Minister Shigeru Toshida. The prime minister was scheduled to make his first formal call on Ridgway tonight.

Both Are Praised

In a statement obviously aimed to quiet Japanese fears that MacArthur's firing might delay the treaty, Dulles praised both MacArthur and his successor. He said Ridgway would carry out the occupation policies in the same high tradition as MacArthur.

And he said that President Truman and MacArthur both still backed the program of a speedy treaty for Japan.

Both major American political parties likewise were behind the drive, Dulles added.

Dulles talked with MacArthur yesterday by radio as their planes passed going in opposite directions.

Art Awards Given To School Pupils

Woodstock, April 17—During last Friday afternoon's assembly at the Woodstock School, scholastic art awards for the mid-Hudson valley area, in connection with the regional exhibition, were presented by Walter Van Wagenen, principal, to the following students: Barbara Jean Hastie, first prize of a key; William Mellin, Ronald Locke and Betsy Wagenfohr, certificates.

As a special feature of the afternoon, a talk was given by Ed Bauman, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association. Bauman discussed both aviation and pets, beginning with memories of his own youth when the youngsters switched their attention from automobiles to watching the planes overhead.

"People of today," Bauman said, "people are not looking up because the airplane has become commonplace. It might be a good idea to look up again to identify enemy planes because of the atom bomb."

Describing the principles of flight, Bauman went on to a discussion of the power of the jet plane. As a graphic illustration of the magnitude of aviation today, Bauman took his young listeners on a verbal flight to Paris, explaining in detail the steps a passenger must take in order to make the trip. He said that first a traveller must secure a passport, to be followed by arrangements with the travel agent for tickets and reservations.

Once the trip was started, he gave an account of all of the details which enter into a successful journey, the modern day pressurized cabins, the superb service provided included hot meals and other comforts.

He explained that a trip to Paris takes 17 hours elapsed time and that during the flight the crew is in constant touch with land.

Through special arrangements with air express and air freight, Bauman said it was possible to transport pets, often on the same plane as the one on which the owner is traveling. Even race horses have special padded accommodations on some lines, particularly between the United States and South America, he said, and often air travel was easier on the horse than a trip by sea.

Speaking of pets in particular, Bauman urged his young audience to treat them with the greatest care, particularly very young animals whose small bones are brittle and thus easily injured. "Pets," he concluded, "will respond wholeheartedly to the affection given them."

Village Too Small For Home Bureau

Woodstock, April 17 — The Woodstock Business Association had hoped until the other day that the Ulster County Home Bureau would hold its achievement day meeting in Woodstock on May 3. William Hand, president of the Woodstock Business Association, made many attempts to arrange suitable eating and meeting places for the several hundred members who were to have been present.

A letter, however, from Mrs. Millard Davis, secretary of the Ulster County Extension Service, has advised Hand that "we deeply regret the fact that accommodations could not be made this year but we look forward to meeting with you on another occasion."

Hand stated that "the main drawback was probably that there wasn't a large enough meeting place available. Several hundred women were expected and we explored every possibility. The Town Hall was found to be too small. The Playhouse was considered but found inadvisable in case the weather should be cold. It was thought that possibly the new school auditorium could be used but since the date sought was a week-day one on which school would naturally be in session, it was thought that the confusion would be annoying to the children at their studies."

"However," continued Hand, "several other groups are interested in having their meetings and luncheons or dinners in Woodstock, and we'll continue to try and interest them in Woodstock as the logical place to hold their affairs."

Bentley Watercolor Show Well Attended

Woodstock, April 17—Coinciding with the opening of the Village Kitchen restaurant last Saturday, on Tinker street, an exhibition of watercolors by John W. Bently brought before the public once more the paintings of an artist associated with the village since it first became an art colony.

Twelve small but gem-like paintings comprise the exhibit, vivid and exquisitely painted scenes ranging from familiar vistas of Woodstock, to glimpses of Key West and the missions of California.

Bently explained that he has been experimenting with casein watercolors and the results he has achieved are both crisp and vivid as well as appealing in content.

Among the many friends of Bently's who visited the show last Saturday afternoon were Mrs. John Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mattson, Miss Edna Thurber, Miss Louise Hagen, Ed Bauman, Miss Emily Steenken, Miss Dorothy Vette, Mr. and Mrs. Vasco Pini, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Riseley, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Cousins, Mrs. Bartow Matteson, Alexis Kosloff, Mrs. Ethel Adams, Mrs. Eva Waterman, Mrs. Sidonia Danforth, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perkins, Miss Maude Shelton, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schroeder went to Sampson last week-end to visit their son, Karl, Jr., who is taking his basic training there in the air force.

Railroad Observes 125th Birthday, But No Celebration

New York, April 17 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad was 125 years old today.

But officials said there would be no celebration because of the national emergency.

President Gustav Metzman called the growth since 1826 a 125-year plan" and said its accomplishments "serve both the public and the individual."

Writing yesterday in the Central's magazine for employes, Metzman said:

"We have the right plan, and if we keep working with it to the best of our ability, we can make it work even better in the future than it has in the past."

Today's anniversary stems from the chartering on April 17, 1826, of the Mohawk and Hudson Railroad Company to build a line between Albany and Schenectady.

This pioneer railroad—16 miles long and the first built in New York state—was the oldest of 560 predecessor companies now combined in the New York Central system—11,000 miles operating in 11 states.

Demand British Evacuate

Karachi (AP)—The world Moslem conference here unanimously called for unity of the Nile Valley against "disruptive" outside influences. Maulana Abdur Rashid Makki of Mauritius declared that "The day we make our strength felt to those who are trying to disrupt the unity of the Nile, they would pack up and quit."

Has Food Surplus

Karachi (AP)—While its Indian neighbor pleads for food, Pakistan still has a surplus of both rice and wheat, official sources here report. An economic deadlock over the question of exchange rates — Pakistan refused to devalue its currency when India joined other soft currency countries in a downward revision in 1949—has halted trade between the two neighbors.

London (AP) — An international chess tournament — celebrating 10 years of such affairs—will be staged in England starting May 26. Twelve foreign masters and four from Great Britain will play against each other for 28 days for $2,800 in prizes.

Table Tool History

New York (AP)—Jean Sulpice, who probably was a Frenchman, had this to say about table manners in 1480: "It is wrong to grab your food with both hands at once; meat should be taken with three fingers, and too much should not be put in the mouth at the same time."

Pharmacy Report Given on Veterans

Veterans with service-connected disabilities received almost three-quarters of a million prescriptions under the Veterans Administration's "home town" pharmacy program during 1950, according to a statement received by the Kingston VA office from E. Burns Geiger, chief of the agency's pharmacy division in Washington, D. C.

These prescriptions, 736,000 in all, were filled by the nation's retail pharmacists. The 1950 figure represented an increase of 135,000 over the total filled in 1949.

Under agreements between the Veterans Administration and state pharmaceutical associations in 45 states, the District of Columbia, and Hawaii, private pharmacists have been authorized to fill prescriptions, at government expense, for veterans undergoing out-patient treatment for service-connected ailments in VA clinics or with private physicians.

John E. Delehanty, in charge of the Kingston VA office, said Geiger had informed him that during 1950, VA hospitals filled almost 3,400,000 prescriptions and that VA regional offices had prepared an additional 1,204,000 prescriptions all for hospitalized veterans or veterans receiving outpatient care for service-connected disabilities.

Soldiers Leave Korea

More than 6,000,000 tourists visit North Carolina annually.

Child Health Clinic Slated at Modena

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at Hasbrouck Hall in Modena on April 23 from 2 to 4 p. m.

These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child.

Art Awards Given To School Pupils

Woodstock, April 17—During last Friday afternoon's assembly at the Woodstock School, scholastic art awards for the mid-Hudson valley area, in connection with the regional exhibition, were presented by Walter Van Wagenen, principal, to the following students: Barbara Jean Hastie, first prize of a key; William Mellin, Ronald Locke and Betsy Wagenfohr, certificates.

As a special feature of the afternoon, a talk was given by Ed Bauman, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association. Bauman discussed both aviation and pets, beginning with memories of his own youth when the youngsters switched their attention from automobiles to watching the planes overhead.

"People of today," Bauman said, "people are not looking up because the airplane has become commonplace. It might be a good idea to look up again to identify enemy planes because of the atom bomb."

Describing the principles of flight, Bauman went on to a discussion of the power of the jet plane. As a graphic illustration of the magnitude of aviation today, Bauman took his young listeners on a verbal flight to Paris, explaining in detail the steps a passenger must take in order to make the trip. He said that first a traveller must secure a passport, to be followed by arrangements with the travel agent for tickets and reservations.

Once the trip was started, he gave an account of all of the details which enter into a successful journey, the modern day pressurized cabins, the superb service provided included hot meals and other comforts.

He explained that a trip to Paris takes 17 hours elapsed time and that during the flight the crew is in constant touch with land.

Through special arrangements with air express and air freight, Bauman said it was possible to transport pets, often on the same plane as the one on which the owner is traveling. Even race horses have special padded accommodations on some lines, particularly between the United States and South America, he said, and often air travel was easier on the horse than a trip by sea.

Speaking of pets in particular, Bauman urged his young audience to treat them with the greatest care, particularly very young animals whose small bones are brittle and thus easily injured. "Pets," he concluded, "will respond wholeheartedly to the affection given them."

Village Too Small For Home Bureau

Woodstock, April 17 — The Woodstock Business Association had hoped until the other day that the Ulster County Home Bureau would hold its achievement day meeting in Woodstock on May 3. William Hand, president of the Woodstock Business Association, made many attempts to arrange suitable eating and meeting places for the several hundred members who were to have been present.

A letter, however, from Mrs. Millard Davis, secretary of the Ulster County Extension Service, has advised Hand that "we deeply regret the fact that accommodations could not be made this year but we look forward to meeting with you on another occasion."

Hand stated that "the main drawback was probably that there wasn't a large enough meeting place available. Several hundred women were expected and we explored every possibility. The Town Hall was found to be too small. The Playhouse was considered but found inadvisable in case the weather should be cold. It was thought that possibly the new school auditorium could be used but since the date sought was a week-day one on which school would naturally be in session, it was thought that the confusion would be annoying to the children at their studies."

"However," continued Hand, "several other groups are interested in having their meetings and luncheons or dinners in Woodstock, and we'll continue to try and interest them in Woodstock as the logical place to hold their affairs."

Bentley Watercolor Show Well Attended

Woodstock, April 17—Coinciding with the opening of the Village Kitchen restaurant last Saturday, on Tinker street, an exhibition of watercolors by John W. Bently brought before the public once more the paintings of an artist associated with the village since it first became an art colony.

Twelve small but gem-like paintings comprise the exhibit, vivid and exquisitely painted scenes ranging from familiar vistas of Woodstock, to glimpses of Key West and the missions of California.

Bently explained that he has been experimenting with casein watercolors and the results he has achieved are both crisp and vivid as well as appealing in content.

Among the many friends of Bently's who visited the show last Saturday afternoon were Mrs. John Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mattson, Miss Edna Thurber, Miss Louise Hagen, Ed Bauman, Miss Emily Steenken, Miss Dorothy Vette, Mr. and Mrs. Vasco Pini, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Riseley, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Cousins, Mrs. Bartow Matteson, Alexis Kosloff, Mrs. Ethel Adams, Mrs. Eva Waterman, Mrs. Sidonia Danforth, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perkins, Miss Maude Shelton, the Rev. BIG MAN IN HIS OUTFIT—Pvt. Frank Owings of Philadelphia might be the Army's new secret weapon, except that he's too big to keep secret. The Army, at Fort Myer, Va., can't even find a uniform to fit him—size 52—so he's been drilling in civilian clothes for the past couple of months.

Railroad Observes 125th Birthday, But No Celebration

New York, April 17 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad was 125 years old today.

But officials said there would be no celebration because of the national emergency.

President Gustav Metzman called the growth since 1826 a 125-year plan" and said its accomplishments "serve both the public and the individual."

Writing yesterday in the Central's magazine for employes, Metzman said:

"We have the right plan, and if we keep working with it to the best of our ability, we can make it work even better in the future than it has in the past."

Today's anniversary stems from the chartering on April 17, 1826, of the Mohawk and Hudson Railroad Company to build a line between Albany and Schenectady.

This pioneer railroad—16 miles long and the first built in New York state—was the oldest of 560 predecessor companies now combined in the New York Central system—11,000 miles operating in 11 states.

Mrs. Frank Smith is reported to be ill at St. Joseph's Hospital in the Bronx.

Mrs. Martha Witte, who spent the winter in New York, has returned and has opened her home.

The Rev. Father Sheen has been transferred from St. Frances de-Sales Church here to Connecticut. The Rev. Father O'Brian will officiate at the local church with the Rev. Father Hayes.

Mrs. Gertrude Stiller is ill at her home.

Demand British Evacuate

Karachi (AP)—The world Moslem conference here unanimously called for unity of the Nile Valley against "disruptive" outside influences. Maulana Abdur Rashid Makki of Mauritius declared that "The day we make our strength felt to those who are trying to disrupt the unity of the Nile, they would pack up and quit."

Has Food Surplus

Karachi (AP)—While its Indian neighbor pleads for food, Pakistan still has a surplus of both rice and wheat, official sources here report. An economic deadlock over the question of exchange rates — Pakistan refused to devalue its currency when India joined other soft currency countries in a downward revision in 1949—has halted trade between the two neighbors.

Chess Tourney Planned

London (AP) — An international chess tournament — celebrating 10 years of such affairs—will be staged in England starting May 26. Twelve foreign masters and four from Great Britain will play against each other for 28 days for $2,800 in prizes.

New York (AP)—Jean Sulpice, who probably was a Frenchman, had this to say about table manners in 1480: "It is wrong to grab your food with both hands at once; meat should be taken with three fingers, and too much should not be put in the mouth at the same time."

Pharmacy Report Given on Veterans

Veterans with service-connected disabilities received almost three-quarters of a million prescriptions under the Veterans Administration's "home town" pharmacy program during 1950, according to a statement received by the Kingston VA office from E. Burns Geiger, chief of the agency's pharmacy division in Washington, D. C.

These prescriptions, 736,000 in all, were filled by the nation's retail pharmacists. The 1950 figure represented an increase of 135,000 over the total filled in 1949.

Under agreements between the Veterans Administration and state pharmaceutical associations in 45 states, the District of Columbia, and Hawaii, private pharmacists have been authorized to fill prescriptions, at government expense, for veterans undergoing out-patient treatment for service-connected ailments in VA clinics or with private physicians.

John E. Delehanty, in charge of the Kingston VA office, said Geiger had informed him that during 1950, VA hospitals filled almost 3,400,000 prescriptions and that VA regional offices had prepared an additional 1,204,000 prescriptions all for hospitalized veterans or veterans receiving out-patient care for service-connected disabilities.

Soldiers Leave Korea

Child Health Clinic Slated at Modena

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at Hasbrouck Hall in Modena on April 23 from 2 to 4 p. m.

These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child.

Reading Consultant Addresses Mothers

Miss Ruth Grant, reading consultant in the Kingston public school system, was guest speaker Thursday at the regular meeting of the Mothers' Club of School No. 5. Miss Grant spoke on the various methods used to teach reading, and warned that mothers should not, at certain ages, expect sameness in their children. Children, she said, differ in their needs, abilities, and interests. Parents in homes where there is more than one child, can easily notice their children's individual differences. Educators, Miss Grant pointed out, also realize these differences exist, and try to help children grasp their school work, each according to his own ability. Miss Grant also said that she believes in following systematic methods when working with children, teaching them at their own levels of learning. A discussion period followed.

During the group's business meeting, with Mrs. Addison Scholes presiding, the group decided to hold an evening meeting, to which the fathers will be invited, May 31. Teachers will also attend, and there will be a group discussion.

Mrs. Walter Fallon submitted her slate of officers for the coming year. They will be voted on at the next meeting, and it was announced that at that time nominations may be made from the floor before ballots are cast. The group also voted to give children leaving School No. 5 for the MJM School a trip, in lieu of the usual banquet.

YMCA Auxiliary Elects Officers

Officers were elected Friday during the annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Auxiliary, and Mrs. G. H. DeKay, general chairman of the financial campaign, thanked members for their "generous pledges" to the "Y" for the coming year. In addition to the usual pledge last year, it was announced, donations were made to the boys' department, the motion picture projector fund, for paint for the dining room, and for five bedspreads for the dormitory rooms.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. G. H. DuBois, president; Mrs. C. Rowland, vice-president; Mrs. B. S. Tandy, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. C. W. Corell, corresponding secretary.

The meeting adjourned after flowers had been presented to the incoming president.

Coach House Players Are in Rehearsal On New Production

Members of the Coach House Players are hard at work this week on their newest production, The Alarm Clock, which will be presented to patrons April 26 in Kingston High School auditorium. Plot hints dropped by members of the cast indicate that the story revolves about a bachelor who has reached that dangerous age, 40, and has been living too high among follies beauties.

Among the 11 players in the cast is Marianne Davis. Other players to appear will be Sheffield Nasser, a new comer to the little theatre group, who will play the Broadway playboy; Ed Eckert in the role of Dr. Wallace and Kay Burgevin, well-remembered comic actress of See How They Run, as a wife of a member of the Senate Investigating Committee. Reading Consultant Addresses Mothers

Miss Ruth Grant, reading consultant in the Kingston public school system, was guest speaker Thursday at the regular meeting of the Mothers' Club of School No. 5. Miss Grant spoke on the various methods used to teach reading, and warned that mothers should not, at certain ages, expect sameness in their children. Children, she said, differ in their needs, abilities, and interests. Parents in homes where there is more than one child, can easily notice their children's individual differences. Educators, Miss Grant pointed out, also realize these differences exist, and try to help children grasp their school work, each according to his own ability. Miss Grant also said that she believes in following systematic methods when working with children, teaching them at their own levels of learning. A discussion period followed.

During the group's business meeting, with Mrs. Addison Scholes presiding, the group decided to hold an evening meeting, to which the fathers will be invited, May 31. Teachers will also attend, and there will be a group discussion.

Mrs. Walter Fallon submitted her slate of officers for the coming year. They will be voted on at the next meeting, and it was announced that at that time nominations may be made from the floor before ballots are cast. The group also voted to give children leaving School No. 5 for the MJM School a trip, in lieu of the usual banquet.

YMCA Auxiliary Elects Officers

Officers were elected Friday during the annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Auxiliary, and Mrs. G. H. In addition to the usual pledge last year, it was announced, donations were made to the boys' department, the motion picture projector fund, for paint for the dining room, and for five bedspreads for the dormitory rooms.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. G. H. DuBois, president; Mrs. C. Rowland, vice-president; Mrs. B. S. Tandy, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. C. W. Corell, corresponding secretary.

The meeting adjourned after flowers had been presented to the incoming president.

Billingsley, designer for one of the big tire manufacturers (B. F. Goodrich). A noiseless tire could be made, Billingsley says, but it would have little skid resistance—probably not enough for good starting, stopping and steering.

Thirteen Players Report at Stadium for First Colonial Workout Monday

Chilly Weather, No Batting Licks Curb Practice

Heavier Contingent Was Expected Today

The vanguard of Kingston Colonial baseball hopefuls risked chilblains and pneumonia in Monday's initial workout for Manager Hank Camelli's Can-Am League tossers at municipal stadium, but prospects were better for warmer weather and two workouts today.

Monday's session was confined to throwing and running only, since the batting cage had not been erected.

Thirteen players were in the first contingent reporting at the stadium, four of them with previous organized ball experience.

"Just on a look-see basis, I think at least a half dozen of this early batch will stick," Manager Camelli said. "We expect quite a few more to show up in the next couple of days."

The four players with previous experience are outfielders Joe Niro of Milford, Mass., and Charles Gobeo of Middletown. Niro played in southern leagues, while Gobeo was with Hornell in the Pony League. Both are left handed batters and right handed throwers. Niro is 25 and Gobeo is 21.

Frank Gate, 20, a second baseman with previous experience with Marshall, Texas, in the Texas State League and Charlie Ayer, 20-year-old flinger who was with Big Stone Gap circuit, complete the foursome. Gate hails from Baldwin, Mass., while Ayer is a resident of Abington, Conn.

Several Pitchers

Six pitchers are among the other nine original candidates. Jack Ormiston, 23, a right hander from Arlington, Mass., is the oldest of the ground.

Jack Grainger, 18, West Newton, Mass., a right hander is another newcomer.

Others include:

Len May, 21, a Chinese right hander from Brooklyn.

George Sweeney, 22, right hander, Boston, Mass.

Al Dagnoli, 18-year-old, shortstop from Walton, N. Y.; John Rucen, 26, a catcher from West, N. Y.; and William Jackson, 25, infielder-outfielder from Newburgh complete the roster of early hopefuls.

Camelli said he hoped to have a pretty solid line on the final makeup of the club by next Sunday. A break in weather would permit more intensified drills and by next Monday, he hoped to be able to concentrate on the starting lineup.

Exhibition Booked

The ex-major league catcher announced an exhibition game for Sunday, April 29, against a club managed by Jack Connors, a Connecticut promoter who was associated with the Colonial League during the past few seasons.

Meanwhile, Camelli and Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., reached a final agreement last night on terms for the Wellesley, Mass. catcher's contract.

The local corporation will hold its final organizational meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Hotel Stuyvesant. All stockholders are invited to take part in the election of permanent officers.

ABC Singles Champ Fails to Repeat

St. Paul, April 16 (AP)—The 1951 American Bowling Congress is assured of at least one new champion. That was decided today when Everett Leins, of Aurora, Ill., defending singles champion, failed in his bid to take over the lead.

Leins, who captured the title in Columbus, Ohio, last year with the second highest winning total in history, was able to score only 595 today.

Jow Zawilla, from Benton Harbor, Mich., moved into the lead in the all-events division with a 1908 total. Zawilla started with a 595 in the team event Sunday as he paced the O'Rourke Beverages to fifth place in the standings. He came back with a 660 in the doubles and 653 in the singles today.

Unknowns Pace North-South Golf

Pinehurst, N. C., April 17 (AP)—Their battle with par over, qualifiers in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament today opened the man-to-man phase of the event.

Stealing the play from the more widely heralded Walker Cup contingent, a pair of newcomers to the tournament, Dale Morey, Dallas, Tex., and Howard Everitt, Atlantic City, N. J., were the two top performers in yesterday's qualifying round.

Morey, current Southern champion, was the only man in the field of 148 to beat par on each side, notching nines of 34-35—69, for a three-under par performance over the 6,900-yard No. 3 championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club course. Everitt, a former Pennsylvania amateur champion, was a stroke back of Morey with 34-36—70.

Jimmy McHale, Overbrook, Pa., who had a par 72 yesterday, meets R. B. Prescott, Jr., Keesville, N. Y., in an upper bracket match today.

Yonkers Opening Attracts 16,741

Yonkers, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—It's mighty hard to keep the customers away from the trotting races these days, the management of Yonkers Raceway said today.

With the temperature approaching the freezing mark, a crowd of 16,741 turned out for the start of the country's trotting season here last night. The handle for $697,062, better than last year when the attendance was higher.

"We would have settled for half the crowd, the weather was so bad," said an official of the Raceway.

Wayzoff of the F. H. Snow Canning Co. stables, Pine Point, Me., won the feature, the $5,000 Inaugural purse, covering the mile in 2:15 2/5, and paying $6.40, $3.70 and $3.00 across the board. Retlaw Winchell was second and Mac Bingen third.

Nix, Says Hogan

Hershey, Pa., April 17 (AP)—Ben Hogan, Hershey Country Club pro, isn't the least bit interested in being golf commissioner—if such a job should be created. "I'm perfectly happy playing tournament golf," he said. "Being a 'Happy' Hogan of golf is one headache I don't want."

These lonely trout fishermen are seeking escape from chilly blasts and cold weather in secluded spot in the Ashokan Reservoir but others had better luck. Jacob Winters of Napanoch landed a 20-inch, 4-pound, 2-ounce, Brook trout, one of the largest catches of its kind reported in the county in many years. Fred Eck, 70-year-old Sundown piscatorial expert, snagged a beautiful 24½ inch Brown trout in the Phoenicia area. The prize specimen weighed 5 pounds, 13 ounces. Howard Meyers, local fireman, landed a 21¼ inch Rainbow trout in the Ashokan. Several excellent catches were reported in the Phoenicia area where many anglers caught their bag limit in a few hours. The opening of the New Jersey trout season on Sunday helped relieve local pressure, Bill Goodman, district game protector, said yesterday and gave the area anglers a better break. His pre-opening predictions of good catches despite pessimism among the "experts" held up. (Wagenfohr Photo)

Thomas Miller Claims Bowling Endurance Record With 75 Games

Central Rec Kegler In 9 Hour Marathon

Thomas Miller, youthful Central Recreation kegler, today claims the marathon bowling championship of Kingston. And there is nothing in the record book to challenge the iron-man heroics the young man achieved in a week-end stint at the Railroad avenue drives.

Miller rolled 75 consecutive games from 1:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Saturday, when a badly battered bowling thumb forced him to quit.

He had set a goal of 100 games.

Miller conducted his endurance test across the house, rolling on each pair of alleys. He knocked down 11,760 sticks for an average of 156.60.

According to the rules of marathon bowling, Miller did not leave the establishment at any time during his long siege. He nibbled on snacks throughout the grind and then took time out for a hearty spaghetti-and-meatball plate about 6 o'clock in the evening.

Strong at Finish

John "Red" Sangi, proprietor of the Central Recs, who supervised the performance, said Miller was in excellent physical condition at the end of 75 games and appeared capable of going on indefinitely, except for the lacerated thumb.

Miller rolled on two alleys in regulation style and completed every frame, Sangi said. He rolled 13 games in the first hour and then slowed down to seven in the final hour because of the bad thumb. In the last two games, Miller used both hands, with the result that he posted 134 and 137.

En route, Miller rolled five scores of "200" or better, his highest effort of 225 coming in the 59th game. He launched the marathon with a 204 and had other totals of 200, 200, 205. His lowest score was 118 in his 29th turn.

Coming Star

Miller is an up and coming young kegler with a penchant for match play and cross-the-house competition. In the recent city tournament, he won high single honors in the singles and doubles competition at the Bowlodrome. He will receive a trophy at the Kingston Bowling Association's "Dinner of Champions" on Wednesday evening at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

The record books are somewhat hazy on the subject of marathon rolling in Kingston, particularly as regards to male performances. Evelyn Gross holds the marathon record for women with 20 consecutive games rolled several years ago at the Emerick alleys on Albany avenue extension.

The scoring summary in the order in which the games were bowled:

Pirates Lead League; At Least For a Day

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

King for a day, anyway. That's Branch Rickey's National League pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates.

Getting a jump on the rest of the National League clubs, which were slated to open warfare today, Pittsburgh spoiled Cincinnati's sneak preview yesterday by routing the Reds, 4-3, before 30,441 disappointed and blanketed fans. Near-freezing temperature and snow flurries marred the Reds' inaugural.

That left the Pirates all alone in the victory column as rain washed out the other half of the special ceremonial opening at Washington. The Senators and defending champion New York Yankees were to have ushered in the American League season.

Weather permitting, all 16 clubs should get under way today with an estimated 242,000 customers expected to attend the eight openers. That includes the Senators-Athletics scheduled night game in Philadelphia, first night opener in the American. Freezing and wet weather, however, was predicted in a majority of the cities.

Pittsburgh's triumph was doubly sweet as it came at the expense of Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, one of the National League's better hurlers. Blackie was pummeled for seven hits and all of the Pirates' runs before bowing out for a pinch hitter after three innings.

Metkovich Stars

Rickey must have swelled noticeably at the impressive debut, both at bat and in the field, made by George (Catfish) Metkovich. The 29-year-old outfielder, Rickey's personal $10,000 draft pick from Oakland last fall, had quite a day for himself.

The veteran rookie, who previously had flunked in hitches with the Red Sox, Braves and White Sox, was the big gun in the Pirates' 12-hit attack on Blackwell and three relievers. He smote a double and two singles and scored a run.

Metkovich ignited the winning three-run uprising against Blackwell in the third inning with a sharp single to right. He sparkled in the field handling five putouts flawlessly. He took an extra base hit away from Joe Adcock, sprawling into the overflow crowd in centerfield to make a splendid catch of a towering drive in the fourth.

In the next inning, the Catfish cut down Grady Hatton at the plate with a fine throw after fielding Virg Stallcup's single. That eventually turned out to be a game-saving play.

Washington's washout paved the way for an unprecedented day-night doubleheader next Friday. Nobody can remember such a turn of events this early in the season. Separate admissions will be charged. President Truman will attend the first game, set for 2:00 p. m., E.S.T. The other game will be played at 8:30 p. m.

Phils Sell Blix To Boston Braves

Blix Donnelly, veteran right-handed pitcher, was sold by the Philadelphia Phillies to the Boston Braves yesterday, the Associated Press reports.

The purchase price was not disclosed but it was understood the figure was in the neighborhood of the $10,000 waiver price.

Donnelly, 36, came to the Phils in the middle of the 1946 season from the St. Louis Cardinals.

KAA Meeting

The Kingston Athletic Association will meet at the Hotel Stuyvesant on Thursday, April 19, at 8 p. m. A film of the Little League's "World Series" will be shown. President Robert Umpleby urges members to note the change in date.

YMCA Boy Athletes Sweep Tourney Against Poughkeepsie YMCA Teams

Athletes representing the YMCA Boy's Department defeated the Poughkeepsie YMCA in five events of an inter-city sports tournament in the second half of an inter-city rivalry here on Saturday.

The Kingston boys won in basketball, softball, table tennis, pool and checkers.

Shutout In Billiards

The locals scored a 3-0 shutout in pocket billards in tandem matches. Bernie Quinn and Tony Nicoletti edged Harold Rhodes and Jim Coombs, 8 to 7. John Schoonmaker and John Tomaseskie won over Ray Cleveland and Bob Quinn, 12 to 3; while Rhettney Finnerty and Peter Schoonmaker defeated Bill Rush and Howard Lynn, 9 to 6.

Kingston held an 11-5 edge in table tennis. Francis Burr won four straight for Poughkeepsie, but all local players had a winning percentage of at least .500.

Nick Kearney was 3-1; Tom Rowland 2-2; Jack Niles 3-1; and Tom Mallett 3-1. Bob Taylor and John Reilly were each 0-4 and Rick Thomas was 1-3 for the losers.

The checker tournament was won by Kingston, 14 to 2. George Dawkins and Jack Millard had clean slates of 4 and 0; while Howard Eaton and John Hines each won three and lost one.

The events were under the supervision of the Y.M.C.A. physical department, with Lou Schafer in charge. He was assisted by Richard Thomas. Events in the Boys Department game rooms were supervised by Clarence W. Corell, Boys work director and Richard Thomas, assisted by volunteer leaders, Donald Planthaber and Phil Buchanan.

Easy Basketball Win

The basketball game resulted in a 82-55 victory for the Kingston cagers. Tom Flemming was the individual scoring leader for the locals with 16 points. Skippy Brodhead, Markle and Richard Nagele had a dozen each.

Mendez, Poughkeepsie center, tallied 24 points and Slezak had 16.

The lineups:

Poughkeepsie (55)—Slezak f 16; Rhodes f; Mendez, c 24; Byrd g 4; Raymond g 11.

Kingston (82)—Brodhead 12, Flemming 16, Smith, Markle 12, Fiore 10, Parkes, R. Nagele 12, Gray, Ward 6, Saluste 6, G. Nagele 6, Schoonmaker 4, McEntee.

Murphy Fouls Out In Boston Ring

Boston, April 17 (AP)—For the first time in more than 20 years, the Massachusetts Boxing Commission recorded a decision by foul for a Boston professional boxing bout.

It favored Joe Rindone, 165½, of Boston, at the expense of Irish Bob Murphy, 172, of San Diego, who went ringward for their scheduled 10-round feature contest as a 3-10 favorite.

The mauling Murphy, however, landed a low left that dropped Rindone in his own corner early in the sixth round. The Californian had won the first three sessions but Rindone had almost closed the gap before becoming disabled.

After Rindone was removed to his dressing room, Dr. Morris Sandler of the commission's staff, gave him a lengthy examination and declared him unfit to continue.

Such a medical report, according to commission rules, entitles a low-punched victim to the decision because of a foul.

Vander Meer Signs Cleveland Contract

Cleveland, April 16 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today announced the signing of Johnny Vander Meer, the aging pitcher who chucked two consecutive no-hit games for Cincinnati in 1938.

Vander Meer, now 36, got an unconditional release on April 6 from the Chicago Cubs and since then has been trying out as a free agent with the Tribe.

Yesterday, he worked three runless innings against the New York Giants, allowing only four hits. And two of those were scratchy.

Maroon Fails To Place Player On Either Squad

Pete Camp Gets Honorable Mention

Five schools are represented on the DUSO Basketball League's mythical all-star squad for the 1950-1951 season, according to the selections announced today by George Palmateer, sports editor of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker, who served as chairman of the selections committee.

Peter Camp, Maroon guard, was accorded honorable mention.

The first string five included Bob Laskowitz of Fallsburg Central and Thomas Gloede of Poughkeepsie at forwards; Wayne Maurer, Liberty High, center; Matt Chrystal, Newburgh Academy and Jerry Laks, Ellenville High, guards.

Twenty players gained mention from among the more than 100 who saw action in the loop tilts during the 1950-51 campaign in which Newburgh Academy repeated as the circuit champion.

Receiving berths on the second team were Ed Gabron and Bob Maher of Newburgh; Andy McCullough of Monticello; Sol Golden of Ellenville; Bob Brown of Middletown and Tom Skipwith of Beacon.

Six players were put on the second team because of a tie in the voting between Skipwith, the Beacon standout, and Brown, a hook shot artist of the Middies.

Gaining honorable mention were Richie Spreer and Jack Pelin of Newburgh; Pete Camp of Kingston; Irwin Kushner of Monticello; Bob Lord of Port Jervis; Leroy Johnson, Roger Lewis and Jimmy Lewis of Poughkeepsie and Don Gabrielson of Liberty.

Laskowitz, the sharp-shooting pacemaker of the Fallsburg Comets, was the most popular selection. He was named to the first team by seven of the writers. Strangely, however, he was completely overlooked by one observer. Matt Chrystal, veteran Newburgh hoopster, was named on six first team ballots.

Tom Gloede, who scored 294 points for a modern Poughkeepsie High School record, was named by all eight writers, getting four first team votes and four second team mentions. He was the only player picked by all eight writers.

Newburgh had five players named, followed by Poughkeepsie with four; Monticello, Liberty and Ellenville with two each; and Kingston, Beacon, Port Jervis, Fallsburg and Middletown with one each.

Thirteen Players Report at Stadium for First Colonial Workout Monday

Chilly Weather, No Batting Licks Curb Practice

Heavier Contingent Was Expected Today

The vanguard of Kingston Colonial baseball hopefuls risked chilblains and pneumonia in Monday's initial workout for Manager Hank Camelli's Can-Am League tossers at municipal stadium, but prospects were better for warmer weather and two workouts today.

Monday's session was confined to throwing and running only, since the batting cage had not been erected.

Thirteen players were in the first contingent reporting at the stadium, four of them with previous organized ball experience.

"Just on a look-see basis, I think at least a half dozen of this early batch will stick," Manager Camelli said. "We expect quite a few more to show up in the next couple of days."

The four players with previous experience are outfielders Joe Niro of Milford, Mass., and Charles Gobeo of Middletown. Niro played in southern leagues, while Gobeo was with Hornell in the Pony League. Both are left handed batters and right handed throwers. Niro is 25 and Gobeo is 21.

Al Dagnoli, 18-year-old, shortstop from Walton, N. Y.; John Rucen, 26, a catcher from West, N. Y.; and William Jackson, 25, infielder-outfielder from Newburgh complete the roster of early hopefuls.

Camelli said he hoped to have a pretty solid line on the final makeup of the club by next Sunday. A break in weather would permit more intensified drills and by next Monday, he hoped to be able to concentrate on the starting lineup.

Yonkers Opening Attracts 16,741

Yonkers, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—It's mighty hard to keep the customers away from the trotting races these days, the management of Yonkers Raceway said today.

With the temperature approaching the freezing mark, a crowd of 16,741 turned out for the start of the country's trotting season here last night. The handle for $697,062, better than last year when the attendance was higher.

"We would have settled for half the crowd, the weather was so bad," said an official of the Raceway.

Wayzoff of the F. H. Snow Canning Co. stables, Pine Point, Me., won the feature, the $5,000 Inaugural purse, covering the mile in 2:15 2/5, and paying $6.40, $3.70 and $3.00 across the board. Retlaw Winchell was second and Mac Bingen third.

Central Rec Kegler In 9 Hour Marathon

Thomas Miller, youthful Central Recreation kegler, today claims the marathon bowling championship of Kingston. And there is nothing in the record book to challenge the iron-man heroics the young man achieved in a week-end stint at the Railroad avenue drives.

Miller rolled 75 consecutive games from 1:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Saturday, when a badly battered bowling thumb forced him to quit.

He had set a goal of 100 games.

Miller conducted his endurance test across the house, rolling on each pair of alleys. He knocked down 11,760 sticks for an average of 156.60.

According to the rules of marathon bowling, Miller did not leave the establishment at any time during his long siege. He nibbled on snacks throughout the grind and then took time out for a hearty spaghetti-and-meatball plate about 6 o'clock in the evening.

Strong at Finish

John "Red" Sangi, proprietor of the Central Recs, who supervised the performance, said Miller was in excellent physical condition at the end of 75 games and appeared capable of going on indefinitely, except for the lacerated thumb.

Miller rolled on two alleys in regulation style and completed every frame, Sangi said. He rolled 13 games in the first hour and then slowed down to seven in the final hour because of the bad thumb. In the last two games, Miller used both hands, with the result that he posted 134 and 137.

En route, Miller rolled five scores of "200" or better, his highest effort of 225 coming in the 59th game. He launched the marathon with a 204 and had other totals of 200, 200, 205. His lowest score was 118 in his 29th turn.

Coming Star

Miller is an up and coming young kegler with a penchant for match play and cross-the-house competition. In the recent city tournament, he won high single honors in the singles and doubles competition at the Bowlodrome. He will receive a trophy at the Kingston Bowling Association's "Dinner of Champions" on Wednesday evening at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

The record books are somewhat hazy on the subject of marathon rolling in Kingston, particularly as regards to male performances. Evelyn Gross holds the marathon record for women with 20 consecutive games rolled several years ago at the Emerick alleys on Albany avenue extension.

The scoring summary in the order in which the games were bowled:

Pirates Lead League; At Least For a Day

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

King for a day, anyway. That's Branch Rickey's National League pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates.

Getting a jump on the rest of the National League clubs, which were slated to open warfare today, Pittsburgh spoiled Cincinnati's sneak preview yesterday by routing the Reds, 4-3, before 30,441 disappointed and blanketed fans. Near-freezing temperature and snow flurries marred the Reds' inaugural.

That left the Pirates all alone in the victory column as rain washed out the other half of the special ceremonial opening at Washington. The Senators and defending champion New York Yankees were to have ushered in the American League season.

Weather permitting, all 16 clubs should get under way today with an estimated 242,000 customers expected to attend the eight openers. That includes the Senators-Athletics scheduled night game in Philadelphia, first night opener in the American. Freezing and wet weather, however, was predicted in a majority of the cities.

Pittsburgh's triumph was doubly sweet as it came at the expense of Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, one of the National League's better hurlers. Blackie was pummeled for seven hits and all of the Pirates' runs before bowing out for a pinch hitter after three innings.

Metkovich Stars

Rickey must have swelled noticeably at the impressive debut, both at bat and in the field, made by George (Catfish) Metkovich. The 29-year-old outfielder, Rickey's personal $10,000 draft pick from Oakland last fall, had quite a day for himself.

The veteran rookie, who previously had flunked in hitches with the Red Sox, Braves and White Sox, was the big gun in the Pirates' 12-hit attack on Blackwell and three relievers. He smote a double and two singles and scored a run.

Metkovich ignited the winning three-run uprising against Blackwell in the third inning with a sharp single to right. He sparkled in the field handling five putouts flawlessly. He took an extra base hit away from Joe Adcock, sprawling into the overflow crowd in centerfield to make a splendid catch of a towering drive in the fourth.

In the next inning, the Catfish cut down Grady Hatton at the plate with a fine throw after fielding Virg Stallcup's single. That eventually turned out to be a game-saving play.

Washington's washout paved the way for an unprecedented day-night doubleheader next Friday. Nobody can remember such a turn of events this early in the season. Separate admissions will be charged. President Truman will attend the first game, set for 2:00 p. m., E.S.T. The other game will be played at 8:30 p. m.

Phils Sell Blix To Boston Braves

Blix Donnelly, veteran right-handed pitcher, was sold by the Philadelphia Phillies to the Boston Braves yesterday, the Associated Press reports.

The purchase price was not disclosed but it was understood the figure was in the neighborhood of the $10,000 waiver price.

Donnelly, 36, came to the Phils in the middle of the 1946 season from the St. Louis Cardinals.

KAA Meeting

The Kingston Athletic Association will meet at the Hotel Stuyvesant on Thursday, April 19, at 8 p. m. A film of the Little League's "World Series" will be shown. President Robert Umpleby urges members to note the change in date.

Athletes representing the YMCA Boy's Department defeated the Poughkeepsie YMCA in five events of an inter-city sports tournament in the second half of an inter-city rivalry here on Saturday.

The Kingston boys won in basketball, softball, table tennis, pool and checkers.

Shutout In Billiards

The locals scored a 3-0 shutout in pocket billards in tandem matches, Bernie Quinn and Tony Nicoletti edged Harold Rhodes and Jim Coombs, 8 to 7. John Schoonmaker and John Tomaseskie won over Ray Cleveland and Bob Quinn, 12 to 3; while Rhettney Finnerty and Peter Schoonmaker defeated Bill Rush and Howard Lynn, 9 to 6.

Kingston held an 11-5 edge in table tennis. Francis Burr won four straight for Poughkeepsie, but all local players had a winning percentage of at least .500.

Nick Kearney was 3-1; Tom Rowland 2-2; Jack Niles 3-1; and Tom Mallett 3-1. Bob Taylor and John Reilly were each 0-4 and Rick Thomas was 1-3 for the losers.

The checker tournament was won by Kingston, 14 to 2. George Dawkins and Jack Millard had clean slates of 4 and 0; while Howard Eaton and John Hines each won three and lost one.

The events were under the supervision of the Y.M.C.A. physical department, with Lou Schafer in charge. He was assisted by Richard Thomas. Events in the Boys Department game rooms were supervised by Clarence W. Corell, Boys work director and Richard Thomas, assisted by volunteer leaders, Donald Planthaber and Phil Buchanan.

Easy Basketball Win

The basketball game resulted in a 82-55 victory for the Kingston cagers. Tom Flemming was the individual scoring leader for the locals with 16 points. Skippy Brodhead, Markle and Richard Nagele had a dozen each.

Mendez, Poughkeepsie center, tallied 24 points and Slezak had 16.

The lineups:

Poughkeepsie (55)—Slezak f 16; Rhodes f; Mendez, c 24; Byrd g 4; Raymond g 11.

Kingston (82)—Brodhead 12, Flemming 16, Smith, Markle 12, Fiore 10, Parkes, R. Nagele 12, Gray, Ward 6, Saluste 6, G. Nagele 6, Schoonmaker 4, McEntee.

Murphy Fouls Out In Boston Ring

Boston, April 17 (AP)—For the first time in more than 20 years, the Massachusetts Boxing Commission recorded a decision by foul for a Boston professional boxing bout.

It favored Joe Rindone, 165½, of Boston, at the expense of Irish Bob Murphy, 172, of San Diego, who went ringward for their scheduled 10-round feature contest as a 3-10 favorite.

The mauling Murphy, however, landed a low left that dropped Rindone in his own corner early in the sixth round. The Californian had won the first three sessions but Rindone had almost closed the gap before becoming disabled.

After Rindone was removed to his dressing room, Dr. Morris Sandler of the commission's staff, gave him a lengthy examination and declared him unfit to continue.

Such a medical report, according to commission rules, entitles a low-punched victim to the decision because of a foul.

Vander Meer Signs Cleveland Contract

Cleveland, April 16 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today announced the signing of Johnny Vander Meer, the aging pitcher who chucked two consecutive no-hit games for Cincinnati in 1938.

Vander Meer, now 36, got an unconditional release on April 6 from the Chicago Cubs and since then has been trying out as a free agent with the Tribe.

Yesterday, he worked three runless innings against the New York Giants, allowing only four hits. And two of those were scratchy.

Pete Camp Gets Honorable Mention

Five schools are represented on the DUSO Basketball League's mythical all-star squad for the 1950-1951 season, according to the selections announced today by George Palmateer, sports editor of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker, who served as chairman of the selections committee.

Kingston High did not place a player on either the first or second teams.

Peter Camp, Maroon guard, was accorded honorable mention.

The first string five included Bob Laskowitz of Fallsburg Central and Thomas Gloede of Poughkeepsie at forwards; Wayne Maurer, Liberty High, center; Matt Chrystal, Newburgh Academy and Jerry Laks, Ellenville High, guards.

Twenty players gained mention from among the more than 100 who saw action in the loop tilts during the 1950-51 campaign in which Newburgh Academy repeated as the circuit champion.

Receiving berths on the second team were Ed Gabron and Bob Maher of Newburgh; Andy McCullough of Monticello; Sol Golden of Ellenville; Bob Brown of Middletown and Tom Skipwith of Beacon.

Six players were put on the second team because of a tie in the voting between Skipwith, the Beacon standout, and Brown, a hook shot artist of the Middies.

Gaining honorable mention were Richie Spreer and Jack Pelin of Newburgh; Pete Camp of Kingston; Irwin Kushner of Monticello; Bob Lord of Port Jervis; Leroy Johnson, Roger Lewis and Jimmy Lewis of Poughkeepsie and Don Gabrielson of Liberty.

Laskowitz, the sharp-shooting pacemaker of the Fallsburg Comets, was the most popular selection. He was named to the first team by seven of the writers. Strangely, however, he was completely overlooked by one observer. Matt Chrystal, veteran Newburgh hoopster, was named on six first team ballots.

Tom Gloede, who scored 294 points for a modern Poughkeepsie High School record, was named by all eight writers, getting four first team votes and four second team mentions. He was the only player picked by all eight writers.

Newburgh had five players named, followed by Poughkeepsie with four; Monticello, Liberty and Ellenville with two each; and Kingston, Beacon, Port Jervis, Fallsburg and Middletown with one each.

Thirteen Players Report at Stadium for First Colonial Workout Monday

Chilly Weather, No Batting Licks Curb Practice

Heavier Contingent Was Expected Today

The vanguard of Kingston Colonial baseball hopefuls risked chilblains and pneumonia in Monday's initial workout for Manager Hank Camelli's Can-Am League tossers at municipal stadium, but prospects were better for warmer weather and two workouts today.

Monday's session was confined to throwing and running only, since the batting cage had not been erected.

Thirteen players were in the first contingent reporting at the stadium, four of them with previous organized ball experience.

"Just on a look-see basis, I think at least a half dozen of this early batch will stick," Manager Camelli said. "We expect quite a few more to show up in the next couple of days."

The four players with previous experience are outfielders Joe Niro of Milford, Mass., and Charles Gobeo of Middletown. Niro played in southern leagues, while Gobeo was with Hornell in the Pony League. Both are left handed batters and right handed throwers. Niro is 25 and Gobeo is 21.

Frank Gate, 20, a second baseman with previous experience with Marshall, Texas, in the Texas State League and Charlie Ayer, 20-year-old flinger who was with Big Stone Gap circuit, complete the foursome. Gate hails from Baldwin, Mass., while Ayer is a resident of Abington, Conn.

Several Pitchers

Six pitchers are among the other nine original candidates. Jack Ormiston, 23, a right hander from Arlington, Mass., is the oldest of the ground.

Jack Grainger, 18, West Newton, Mass., a right hander is another newcomer.

Others include:

Len May, 21, a Chinese right hander from Brooklyn.

George Sweeney, 22, right hander, Boston, Mass.

Al Dagnoli, 18-year-old, shortstop from Walton, N. Y.; John Rucen, 26, a catcher from West, N. Y.; and William Jackson, 25, infielder-outfielder from Newburgh complete the roster of early hopefuls.

Camelli said he hoped to have a pretty solid line on the final makeup of the club by next Sunday. A break in weather would permit more intensified drills and by next Monday, he hoped to be able to concentrate on the starting lineup.

Exhibition Booked

The ex-major league catcher announced an exhibition game for Sunday, April 29, against a club managed by Jack Connors, a Connecticut promoter who was associated with the Colonial League during the past few seasons.

Meanwhile, Camelli and Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., reached a final agreement last night on terms for the Wellesley, Mass. catcher's contract.

The local corporation will hold its final organizational meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Hotel Stuyvesant. All stockholders are invited to take part in the election of permanent officers.

ABC Singles Champ Fails to Repeat

St. Paul, April 16 (AP)—The 1951 American Bowling Congress is assured of at least one new champion. That was decided today when Everett Leins, of Aurora, Ill., defending singles champion, failed in his bid to take over the lead.

Leins, who captured the title in Columbus, Ohio, last year with the second highest winning total in history, was able to score only 595 today.

Jow Zawilla, from Benton Harbor, Mich., moved into the lead in the all-events division with a 1908 total. Zawilla started with a 595 in the team event Sunday as he paced the O'Rourke Beverages to fifth place in the standings. He came back with a 660 in the doubles and 653 in the singles today.

Unknowns Pace North-South Golf

Pinehurst, N. C., April 17 (AP)—Their battle with par over, qualifiers in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament today opened the man-to-man phase of the event.

Stealing the play from the more widely heralded Walker Cup contingent, a pair of newcomers to the tournament, Dale Morey, Dallas, Tex., and Howard Everitt, Atlantic City, N. J., were the two top performers in yesterday's qualifying round.

Morey, current Southern champion, was the only man in the field of 148 to beat par on each side, notching nines of 34-35—69, for a three-under par performance over the 6,900-yard No. 3 championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club course. Everitt, a former Pennsylvania amateur champion, was a stroke back of Morey with 34-36—70.

Jimmy McHale, Overbrook, Pa., who had a par 72 yesterday, meets R. B. Prescott, Jr., Keesville, N. Y., in an upper bracket match today.

Pete Camp Gets Honorable Mention

Five schools are represented on the DUSO Basketball League's mythical all-star squad for the 1950-1951 season, according to the selections announced today by George Palmateer, sports editor of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker, who served as chairman of the selections committee.

Kingston High did not place a player on either the first or second teams.

Peter Camp, Maroon guard, was accorded honorable mention.

The first string five included Bob Laskowitz of Fallsburg Central and Thomas Gloede of Poughkeepsie at forwards; Wayne Maurer, Liberty High, center; Matt Chrystal, Newburgh Academy and Jerry Laks, Ellenville High, guards.

Twenty players gained mention from among the more than 100 who saw action in the loop tilts during the 1950-51 campaign in which Newburgh Academy repeated as the circuit champion.

John Schoonmaker and John Tomaseskie won over Ray Cleveland and Bob Quinn, 12 to 3; while Rhettney Finnerty and Peter Schoonmaker defeated Bill Rush and Howard Lynn, 9 to 6.

Kingston held an 11-5 edge in table tennis. Francis Burr won four straight for Poughkeepsie, but all local players had a winning percentage of at least .500.

Nick Kearney was 3-1; Tom Rowland 2-2; Jack Niles 3-1; and Tom Mallett 3-1. Bob Taylor and John Reilly were each 0-4 and Rick Thomas was 1-3 for the losers.

The checker tournament was won by Kingston, 14 to 2. George Dawkins and Jack Millard had clean slates of 4 and 0; while Howard Eaton and John Hines each won three and lost one.

The events were under the supervision of the Y.M.C.A. physical department, with Lou Schafer in charge. He was assisted by Richard Thomas. Events in the Boys Department game rooms were supervised by Clarence W. Corell, Boys work director and Richard Thomas, assisted by volunteer leaders, Donald Planthaber and Phil Buchanan.

Easy Basketball Win

The basketball game resulted in a 82-55 victory for the Kingston cagers. Tom Flemming was the individual scoring leader for the locals with 16 points. Skippy Brodhead, Markle and Richard Nagele had a dozen each.

Mendez, Poughkeepsie center, tallied 24 points and Slezak had 16.

The lineups:

Poughkeepsie (55)—Slezak f 16; Rhodes f; Mendez, c 24; Byrd g 4; Raymond g 11.

Central Rec Kegler In 9 Hour Marathon

Thomas Miller, youthful Central Recreation kegler, today claims the marathon bowling championship of Kingston. And there is nothing in the record book to challenge the iron-man heroics the young man achieved in a week-end stint at the Railroad avenue drives.

Miller rolled 75 consecutive games from 1:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Saturday, when a badly battered bowling thumb forced him to quit.

He had set a goal of 100 games.

Miller conducted his endurance test across the house, rolling on each pair of alleys. He knocked down 11,760 sticks for an average of 156.60.

According to the rules of marathon bowling, Miller did not leave the establishment at any time during his long siege. He nibbled on snacks throughout the grind and then took time out for a hearty spaghetti-and-meatball plate about 6 o'clock in the evening.

Strong at Finish

John "Red" Sangi, proprietor of the Central Recs, who supervised the performance, said Miller was in excellent physical condition at the end of 75 games and appeared capable of going on indefinitely, except for the lacerated thumb.

Miller rolled on two alleys in regulation style and completed every frame, Sangi said. He rolled 13 games in the first hour and then slowed down to seven in the final hour because of the bad thumb. In the last two games, Miller used both hands, with the result that he posted 134 and 137.

En route, Miller rolled five scores of "200" or better, his highest effort of 225 coming in the 59th game. He launched the marathon with a 204 and had other totals of 200, 200, 205. His lowest score was 118 in his 29th turn.

Coming Star

Miller is an up and coming young kegler with a penchant for match play and cross-the-house competition. In the recent city tournament, he won high single honors in the singles and doubles competition at the Bowlodrome. He will receive a trophy at the Kingston Bowling Association's "Dinner of Champions" on Wednesday evening at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

The record books are somewhat hazy on the subject of marathon rolling in Kingston, particularly as regards to male performances. Evelyn Gross holds the marathon record for women with 20 consecutive games rolled several years ago at the Emerick alleys on Albany avenue extension.

The scoring summary in the order in which the games were bowled:

Pirates Lead League; At Least For a Day

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

King for a day, anyway. That's Branch Rickey's National League pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates.

Getting a jump on the rest of the National League clubs, which were slated to open warfare today, Pittsburgh spoiled Cincinnati's sneak preview yesterday by routing the Reds, 4-3, before 30,441 disappointed and blanketed fans. Near-freezing temperature and snow flurries marred the Reds' inaugural.

That left the Pirates all alone in the victory column as rain washed out the other half of the special ceremonial opening at Washington. The Senators and defending champion New York Yankees were to have ushered in the American League season.

Weather permitting, all 16 clubs should get under way today with an estimated 242,000 customers expected to attend the eight openers. That includes the Senators-Athletics scheduled night game in Philadelphia, first night opener in the American. Freezing and wet weather, however, was predicted in a majority of the cities.

Pittsburgh's triumph was doubly sweet as it came at the expense of Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, one of the National League's better hurlers. Blackie was pummeled for seven hits and all of the Pirates' runs before bowing out for a pinch hitter after three innings.

Metkovich Stars

Rickey must have swelled noticeably at the impressive debut, both at bat and in the field, made by George (Catfish) Metkovich. The 29-year-old outfielder, Rickey's personal $10,000 draft pick from Oakland last fall, had quite a day for himself.

The veteran rookie, who previously had flunked in hitches with the Red Sox, Braves and White Sox, was the big gun in the Pirates' 12-hit attack on Blackwell and three relievers. He smote a double and two singles and scored a run.

Metkovich ignited the winning three-run uprising against Blackwell in the third inning with a sharp single to right. He sparkled in the field handling five putouts flawlessly. He took an extra base hit away from Joe Adcock, sprawling into the overflow crowd in centerfield to make a splendid catch of a towering drive in the fourth.

In the next inning, the Catfish cut down Grady Hatton at the plate with a fine throw after fielding Virg Stallcup's single. That eventually turned out to be a game-saving play.

Washington's washout paved the way for an unprecedented day-night doubleheader next Friday. Nobody can remember such a turn of events this early in the season. Separate admissions will be charged. President Truman will attend the first game, set for 2:00 p. m., E.S.T. The other game will be played at 8:30 p. m.

Phils Sell Blix To Boston Braves

Blix Donnelly, veteran right-handed pitcher, was sold by the Philadelphia Phillies to the Boston Braves yesterday, the Associated Press reports.

The purchase price was not disclosed but it was understood the figure was in the neighborhood of the $10,000 waiver price.

Donnelly, 36, came to the Phils in the middle of the 1946 season from the St. Louis Cardinals.

KAA Meeting

The Kingston Athletic Association will meet at the Hotel Stuyvesant on Thursday, April 19, at 8 p. m. A film of the Little League's "World Series" will be shown. President Robert Umpleby urges members to note the change in date.

Waterbury, Conn. — Charley Eagle, 191, Waterbury, outpointed Claude Rolfe, 188, New York (8).

Murphy Fouls Out In Boston Ring

Boston, April 17 (AP)—For the first time in more than 20 years, the Massachusetts Boxing Commission recorded a decision by foul for a Boston professional boxing bout.

It favored Joe Rindone, 165½, of Boston, at the expense of Irish Bob Murphy, 172, of San Diego, who went ringward for their scheduled 10-round feature contest as a 3-10 favorite.

The mauling Murphy, however, landed a low left that dropped Rindone in his own corner early in the sixth round. The Californian had won the first three sessions but Rindone had almost closed the gap before becoming disabled.

After Rindone was removed to his dressing room, Dr. Morris Sandler of the commission's staff, gave him a lengthy examination and declared him unfit to continue.

Such a medical report, according to commission rules, entitles a low-punched victim to the decision because of a foul.

Vander Meer Signs Cleveland Contract

Cleveland, April 16 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today announced the signing of Johnny Vander Meer, the aging pitcher who chucked two consecutive no-hit games for Cincinnati in 1938.

Vander Meer, now 36, got an unconditional release on April 6 from the Chicago Cubs and since then has been trying out as a free agent with the Tribe.

Yesterday, he worked three runless innings against the New York Giants, allowing only four hits. And two of those were scratchy.

Walden Kegler Hits 708 in HVBL Match

Frisch Pounds 218, 266, 225 Here

Ray Frisch, a member of the Walden White Front squad of the Hudson Valley Bowling League, rolled a 708 series, Sunday in a match against Elston Sport Shop on alleys 9 and 10 at the Bowlodrome.

Frisch, who does not rank among the top luminaries in the traveling circuit, knocked off solos of 218, 266 and 224. It was one of the best scores of the season in the HVBL League.

Frisch's heavy pocket busting enabled the Fronts to edge the locals, 2-1, with a 1046-2922 effort. Joe Schrowang shot 202-226-619 and Frank Leskie had 247-593 for the losers.

SANGI AND HIS MARATHON CHAMP

John "Red" Sangi, left, consoles Tom Miller on his thumb injury which halted the young man's bowling marathon at 75 games in a week-end test at the Central Recreation alleys. Miller was in good shape and ready to continue to his announced goal of 100 games when his bowling thumb cracked wide open and forced him to halt. The 75-game stretch, however, is a local record that has never been remotely challenged. (Freeman Photo)

City Minor League keglers closed out their season last night at the Bowlodrome, with Bill Murray nosing out Herbie Sleight in a sensational race for high average honors.

Murray fired 583 to Sleight's 528 to finish the campaign with an average of 181.42 to Sleight's 181.30.

Big Joe Mahar took down high triple honors with 717 and Joe Maurer's 279 was good for high single and the K.B.A. medal. Mauro's Grill had nailed down the championship the week before.

Jim Benicase turned in the hat trick to lead the league in the final session with 213-200-212—625. Tom Parker posted 202—588; Bill Murray 212—583; Len Freer 221—579; Joe Dulin 222—576; Don Clausi 569; Ralph Garafola 211—561; Mike Celuch 222—546; Harry Secreto 210—546; Mill MacElveen 222—545; Joe Mahar 544; Ed Smedes 225—544; Earl Mitchell 233—541; Joe Maurer 204—540; Jack Haulenbeek 200—537; Leo Mellert 211—533.

The gals in the Women's Major League had their scoring shoes on last night at the Bowlodrome and Charlotte Lapine came within a mark of a "600." Her rousing 232 sandwiched by 167 and 190 gave her a 589 overall to lead the league by a good margin.

Ada Markle, the girl with the hydromatic follow-through posted 210—565; Rita La Rocca bashed 201—556; Eleanor Singer 232—541; Rose Schatzel 202—526; Elizabeth Bruck 525; Sue Heins 521; Jo Smith 509; Beverly Port 507 and Dot Rawding 474.

Three teams are separated by only three games as the Tavern Association League rolls into its final session next Monday night at the Bowlatorium.

Royal Grill currently leads with a 53-34 record, followed by The Barn, 51-36; and Wimpy's, 50-37.

Last night's firing produced a heavy batch of "500" triples, with Roy Houghtaling missing a coveted "600" mark by only a single stick. He knocked off games of 171, 235 and 193.

Walden Kegler Hits 708 in HVBL Match

Frisch Pounds 218, 266, 225 Here

Ray Frisch, a member of the Walden White Front squad of the Hudson Valley Bowling League, rolled a 708 series, Sunday in a match against Elston Sport Shop on alleys 9 and 10 at the Bowlodrome.

Frisch, who does not rank among the top luminaries in the traveling circuit, knocked off solos of 218, 266 and 224. It was one of the best scores of the season in the HVBL League.

Frisch's heavy pocket busting enabled the Fronts to edge the locals, 2-1, with a 1046-2922 effort. Joe Schrowang shot 202-226-619 and Frank Leskie had 247-593 for the losers.

SANGI AND HIS MARATHON CHAMP

John "Red" Sangi, left, consoles Tom Miller on his thumb injury which halted the young man's bowling marathon at 75 games in a week-end test at the Central Recreation alleys. Miller was in good shape and ready to continue to his announced goal of 100 games when his bowling thumb cracked wide open and forced him to halt. The 75-game stretch, however, is a local record that has never been remotely challenged. (Freeman Photo)

City Minor League keglers closed out their season last night at the Bowlodrome, with Bill Murray nosing out Herbie Sleight in a sensational race for high average honors.

Murray fired 583 to Sleight's 528 to finish the campaign with an average of 181.42 to Sleight's 181.30.

Big Joe Mahar took down high triple honors with 717 and Joe Maurer's 279 was good for high single and the K.B.A. medal. Mauro's Grill had nailed down the championship the week before.

Jim Benicase turned in the hat trick to lead the league in the final session with 213-200-212—625. Tom Parker posted 202—588; Bill Murray 212—583; Len Freer 221—579; Joe Dulin 222—576; Don Clausi 569; Ralph Garafola 211—561; Mike Celuch 222—546; Harry Secreto 210—546; Mill MacElveen 222—545; Joe Mahar 544; Ed Smedes 225—544; Earl Mitchell 233—541; Joe Maurer 204—540; Jack Haulenbeek 200—537; Leo Mellert 211—533.

The gals in the Women's Major League had their scoring shoes on last night at the Bowlodrome and Charlotte Lapine came within a mark of a "600." Her rousing 232 sandwiched by 167 and 190 gave her a 589 overall to lead the league by a good margin.

Ada Markle, the girl with the hydromatic follow-through posted 210—565; Rita La Rocca bashed 201—556; Eleanor Singer 232—541; Rose Schatzel 202—526; Elizabeth Bruck 525; Sue Heins 521; Jo Smith 509; Beverly Port 507 and Dot Rawding 474.

Three teams are separated by only three games as the Tavern Association League rolls into its final session next Monday night at the Bowlatorium.

Royal Grill currently leads with a 53-34 record, followed by The Barn, 51-36; and Wimpy's, 50-37.

Last night's firing produced a heavy batch of "500" triples, with Roy Houghtaling missing a coveted "600" mark by only a single stick. He knocked off games of 171, 235 and 193.

Runnerup Ed Heins posted 207-201—592; Jimmy Turck shot 215—577; George Kuriger 224—577; H. Schussler 209-203—570; Jack Parslow 206—570; J. Fatum 554; Robert Cutler 218—550; H. DeGraff 547; D. Harold Newman's 596, with 208-183-205, was the top triple in the Good Neighbor League. Phil Levy posted 232—589; Herm Arlensky 202—551; Larry Jacobs 538; Jack Blinder 530; H. Kohan 522; Sam Marcus and H. Schneider 517; J. Scheinvold 515; Moe Lazarowitz 513; Aaron Bahl 504; Murray Greene 502 and Rube Leventhal 501.

Walden Kegler Hits 708 in HVBL Match

Frisch Pounds 218, 266, 225 Here

Ray Frisch, a member of the Walden White Front squad of the Hudson Valley Bowling League, rolled a 708 series, Sunday in a match against Elston Sport Shop on alleys 9 and 10 at the Bowlodrome.

Frisch, who does not rank among the top luminaries in the traveling circuit, knocked off solos of 218, 266 and 224. It was one of the best scores of the season in the HVBL League.

Frisch's heavy pocket busting enabled the Fronts to edge the locals, 2-1, with a 1046-2922 effort. Joe Schrowang shot 202-226-619 and Frank Leskie had 247-593 for the losers.

SANGI AND HIS MARATHON CHAMP

Bowling

City Minor League keglers closed out their season last night at the Bowlodrome, with Bill Murray nosing out Herbie Sleight in a sensational race for high average honors.

Murray fired 583 to Sleight's 528 to finish the campaign with an average of 181.42 to Sleight's 181.30.

Big Joe Mahar took down high triple honors with 717 and Joe Maurer's 279 was good for high single and the K.B.A. medal. Mauro's Grill had nailed down the championship the week before.

Jim Benicase turned in the hat trick to lead the league in the final session with 213-200-212—625. Tom Parker posted 202—588; Bill Murray 212—583; Len Freer 221—579; Joe Dulin 222—576; Don Clausi 569; Ralph Garafola 211—561; Mike Celuch 222—546; Harry Secreto 210—546; Mill MacElveen 222—545; Joe Mahar 544; Ed Smedes 225—544; Earl Mitchell 233—541; Joe Maurer 204—540; Jack Haulenbeek 200—537; Leo Mellert 211—533.

The gals in the Women's Major League had their scoring shoes on last night at the Bowlodrome and Charlotte Lapine came within a mark of a "600." Her rousing 232 sandwiched by 167 and 190 gave her a 589 overall to lead the league by a good margin.

Ada Markle, the girl with the hydromatic follow-through posted 210—565; Rita La Rocca bashed 201—556; Eleanor Singer 232—541; Rose Schatzel 202—526; Elizabeth Bruck 525; Sue Heins 521; Jo Smith 509; Beverly Port 507 and Dot Rawding 474.

Three teams are separated by only three games as the Tavern Association League rolls into its final session next Monday night at the Bowlatorium.

Royal Grill currently leads with a 53-34 record, followed by The Barn, 51-36; and Wimpy's, 50-37.

Last night's firing produced a heavy batch of "500" triples, with Roy Houghtaling missing a coveted "600" mark by only a single stick. He knocked off games of 171, 235 and 193.

Runnerup Ed Heins posted 207-201—592; Jimmy Turck shot 215—577; George Kuriger 224—577; H. Schussler 209-203—570; Jack Parslow 206—570; J. Fatum 554; Robert Cutler 218—550; H. DeGraff 547; D. Riehl 212—540; R. Enright 538; Ken Newell 534; W. Pieper 532; Steve Woyden 531; J. Mayone 531; P. Knight 204—529; F. Schussler 221—525; J. McGrath 521.

Nellie Alverson and Lillian Fromer shot triples of 464 and 460 for the best marks in the B.Y.A. League, the former rolling high single of 175. Nell Glennon had 435; Luella Port 416; Blanche Carnright 415.

Harold Newman's 596, with 208-183-205, was the top triple in the Good Neighbor League. Phil Levy posted 232—589; Herm Arlensky 202—551; Larry Jacobs 538; Jack Blinder 530; H. Kohan 522; Sam Marcus and H. Schneider 517; J. Scheinvold 515; Moe Lazarowitz 513; Aaron Bahl 504; Murray Greene 502 and Rube Leventhal 501.

Officials Clear Way For Applications Change on Ceilings

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Government price control officials cleared the way today for wholesalers and retailers to apply for ceiling price adjustments to meet levels fixed under state fair trade laws.

The Office of Price Stabilization issued an order permitting sellers to ask price relief under certain conditions. The order is effective April 21.

Forty-five states, all but Texas, Vermont, Missouri and the District of Columbia, have fair trade acts which permit manufacturers and retailers to agree on minimum prices for specific items.

OPS said that under the general price freeze of Jan. 26, some sellers have ceiling prices which are lower than the minimum set by the state fair trade laws. The general freeze prevents these ceilings being raised.

OF CORPSE, IT'S A HOME — You may have to stretcher imagination a little at the idea of living in a hearse, but James Knowles, a 19-year-old Harvard University technician, finds his hearse-trailer home very comfy. In fact, he's dead sold on the hearse which he bought for $300 and decorated "like a living room," for his home in Cambridge, Mass. Knowles cooks on a kerosene stove and sleeps in a sleeping bag.

Jewish Appeal Is Endorsed by Mayor To Aid Democracy

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has endorsed the 1951 United Jewish Appeal and Welfare Fund Campaign to aid hundreds of thousands of distressed Jews in Israel, Europe, North Africa and other countries.

In a letter to the local campaign committee made public today, Mayor Newkirk said:

"The work in which the United Jewish Appeal is engaged is truly important in these difficult days which face free peoples everywhere.

"Today as in the past, this organization is an ambassador for the free way of life in many parts of the world. By making possible the rescue of the homeless, by holding out to them a future where freedom is once again possible after long years of oppression, the United Jewish Appeal serves as an instrument of democracy. This year, when help is needed desperately by so many, and needed quickly before rescue opportunities vanish, the work of this great organization is particularly urgent and particularly pertinent, and deserving of the support of all Americans.

"The fact that a portion of the proceeds of this drive this year will be retained locally to defray a portion of the operating expense of a Jewish Community Center should appreciably influence your donors to contribute more heavily than ever.

"I want to express my earnest hopes that the 1951 United Jewish Appeal and Welfare Fund Drive will succeed in meeting its goals."

Editors to Hear General

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors believes its members would rather hear Gen. Douglas MacArthur than eat. So it arranged today to have a Thursday luncheon at 1:30 p. m., 20 minutes later than originally planned. MacArthur is expected to begin his Thursday address to Congress about 12:30 p. m. The luncheon delay will permit editors here for a three-day convention to hear the whole speech, in event it runs beyond 1 p. m., without letting their food get cold.

Officials Clear Way For Applications Change on Ceilings

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Government price control officials cleared the way today for wholesalers and retailers to apply for ceiling price adjustments to meet levels fixed under state fair trade laws.

The Office of Price Stabilization issued an order permitting sellers to ask price relief under certain conditions. The order is effective April 21.

Forty-five states, all but Texas, Vermont, Missouri and the District of Columbia, have fair trade acts which permit manufacturers and retailers to agree on minimum prices for specific items.

OPS said that under the general price freeze of Jan. 26, some sellers have ceiling prices which are lower than the minimum set by the state fair trade laws. The general freeze prevents these ceilings being raised.

OF CORPSE, IT'S A HOME — You may have to stretcher imagination a little at the idea of living in a hearse, but James Knowles, a 19-year-old Harvard University technician, finds his hearse-trailer home very comfy. In fact, he's dead sold on the hearse which he bought for $300 and decorated "like a living room," for his home in Cambridge, Mass. Knowles cooks on a kerosene stove and sleeps in a sleeping bag.

Jewish Appeal Is Endorsed by Mayor To Aid Democracy

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has endorsed the 1951 United Jewish Appeal and Welfare Fund Campaign to aid hundreds of thousands of distressed Jews in Israel, Europe, North Africa and other countries.

In a letter to the local campaign committee made public today, Mayor Newkirk said:

"The work in which the United Jewish Appeal is engaged is truly important in these difficult days which face free peoples everywhere.

"Today as in the past, this organization is an ambassador for the free way of life in many parts of the world. By making possible the rescue of the homeless, by holding out to them a future where freedom is once again possible after long years of oppression, the United Jewish Appeal serves as an instrument of democracy. This year, when help is needed desperately by so many, and needed quickly before rescue opportunities vanish, the work of this great organization is particularly urgent and particularly pertinent, and deserving of the support of all Americans.

"The fact that a portion of the proceeds of this drive this year will be retained locally to defray a portion of the operating expense of a Jewish Community Center should appreciably influence your donors to contribute more heavily than ever.

"I want to express my earnest hopes that the 1951 United Jewish Appeal and Welfare Fund Drive will succeed in meeting its goals."

Editors to Hear General

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors believes its members would rather hear Gen. Douglas MacArthur than eat. So it arranged today to have a Thursday luncheon at 1:30 p. m., 20 minutes later than originally planned. MacArthur is expected to begin his Thursday address to Congress about 12:30 p. m. The luncheon delay will permit editors here for a three-day convention to hear the whole speech, in event it runs beyond 1 p. m., without letting their food get cold.

Officials Clear Way For Applications Change on Ceilings

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Government price control officials cleared the way today for wholesalers and retailers to apply for ceiling price adjustments to meet levels fixed under state fair trade laws.

The Office of Price Stabilization issued an order permitting sellers to ask price relief under certain conditions. The order is effective April 21.

Forty-five states, all but Texas, Vermont, Missouri and the District of Columbia, have fair trade acts which permit manufacturers and retailers to agree on minimum prices for specific items.

OPS said that under the general price freeze of Jan. 26, some sellers have ceiling prices which are lower than the minimum set by the state fair trade laws. The general freeze prevents these ceilings being raised.

OF CORPSE, IT'S A HOME — You may have to stretcher imagination a little at the idea of living in a hearse, but James Knowles, a 19-year-old Harvard University technician, finds his hearse-trailer home very comfy. In fact, he's dead sold on the hearse which he bought for $300 and decorated "like a living room," for his home in Cambridge, Mass. Knowles cooks on a kerosene stove and sleeps in a sleeping bag.

Jewish Appeal Is Endorsed by Mayor To Aid Democracy

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk has endorsed the 1951 United Jewish Appeal and Welfare Fund Campaign to aid hundreds of thousands of distressed Jews in Israel, Europe, North Africa and other countries.

In a letter to the local campaign committee made public today, Mayor Newkirk said:

"The work in which the United Jewish Appeal is engaged is truly important in these difficult days which face free peoples everywhere.

"Today as in the past, this organization is an ambassador for the free way of life in many parts of the world. By making possible the rescue of the homeless, by holding out to them a future where freedom is once again possible after long years of oppression, the United Jewish Appeal serves as an instrument of democracy. This year, when help is needed desperately by so many, and needed quickly before rescue opportunities vanish, the work of this great organization is particularly urgent and particularly pertinent, and deserving of the support of all Americans.

"The fact that a portion of the proceeds of this drive this year will be retained locally to defray a portion of the operating expense of a Jewish Community Center should appreciably influence your donors to contribute more heavily than ever.

"I want to express my earnest hopes that the 1951 United Jewish Appeal and Welfare Fund Drive will succeed in meeting its goals."

Editors to Hear General

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors believes its members would rather hear Gen. Douglas MacArthur than eat. So it arranged today to have a Thursday luncheon at 1:30 p. m., 20 minutes later than originally planned. MacArthur is expected to begin his Thursday address to Congress about 12:30 p. m. The luncheon delay will permit editors here for a three-day convention to hear the whole speech, in event it runs beyond 1 p. m., without letting their food get cold.

Realtors Arrange Regional Parley

Major problems facing the real estate business will be studied at the annual regional conference of the Lower Hudson District of the New York Association of Real Estate Boards, Inc., to be held Wednesday, April 25, at the Thayer Hotel, West Point.

Subjects to be discussed during the day-long program are mortgage financing, residential construction, appraising, affect of the Thruway upon real estate values and general real estate brokerage.

Speakers will include C. Fred Ritter of Middletown, president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards; Robert J. Conan, of Syracuse, president of the New York State Society of Real Estate Appraisers, a division of the state association; Gerald F. Pace, noted financier and president of Gerald F. Pace Associates, Bronxville; William H. Howell, Poughkeepsie, residential builder and developer; William A. Wells, association vice-president and president of Wells and Barker, Inc., Buffalo, commercial and apartment specialist; and Gerard B. Gilbert, of Harrisburg, Penna., assistant to the chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Howard T. Shuart, of Suffern, regional vice-president for the Lower Hudson District, is general chairman. He is being assisted by a committee composed of the presidents of the seven boards in the district including George W. Moore, Kingston, Ulster County Real Estate Board.

The program scheduled to get underway at 10 oclock, is divided into three sessions; morning, luncheon and afternoon. As a feature, conducted tours of portions of the United States Military Academy and grounds have been arranged.

The mutual aid committee of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will give a report on the flood control meeting in the town of Ulster Saturday at its meeting in Modena at 8 p. m., today. The meeting will be held at the court house.

During the early days of World War I, airplanes were used for observation purposes only.

Specialist Finds Verbiage Buries Value of Science

Dr. Adele E. Streeseman, specialist in psychosomatic medicine, told professional workers meeting at the Kingston Hospital nurses' home Monday night that there is "nothing in the most complicated mechanism of analysis that you cannot explain simply, if you take the trouble."

Much of the public's reluctance to accept psychiatry, she said, is because the subject is so often "buried under a load of verbiage."

Stating that she finds it difficult to treat anyone who has no religious beliefs, Dr. Streeseman noted that "there is no substitute for the security that comes from a wise love."

Dr. Streeseman, author of "You're Human, Too," and other books, spoke on the topic of marriage and family life. The meeting was the third in a series of four sessions for doctors, nurses, teachers, social workers and other professionals planned by the Mental Health Committee of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association. Dr. Edward F. Shea, committee chairman, presided. The final meeting of the series, scheduled for May 16 at the Governor Clinton Hotel, will be devoted to problems of the aging.

Specialist Finds Verbiage Buries Value of Science

Dr. Adele E. Streeseman, specialist in psychosomatic medicine, told professional workers meeting at the Kingston Hospital nurses' home Monday night that there is "nothing in the most complicated mechanism of analysis that you cannot explain simply, if you take the trouble."

Much of the public's reluctance to accept psychiatry, she said, is because the subject is so often "buried under a load of verbiage."

Stating that she finds it difficult to treat anyone who has no religious beliefs, Dr. Streeseman noted that "there is no substitute for the security that comes from a wise love."

Dr. Streeseman, author of "You're Human, Too," and other books, spoke on the topic of marriage and family life. The meeting was the third in a series of four sessions for doctors, nurses, teachers, social workers and other professionals planned by the Mental Health Committee of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association. Dr. Edward F. Shea, committee chairman, presided. The final meeting of the series, scheduled for May 16 at the Governor Clinton Hotel, will be devoted to problems of the aging.
